

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"These books are a decided improvement upon the character of the works usually adopted in our Common Schools, and will, no doubt, before long, very generally supersede them."—Chronicle.

"We have great pleasure in heartily recommending them to the teachers of youth."—Wesleyan.

"The typography is excellent, and in general appearance can hardly be surpassed."—Express.

"We have examined each of these books and have much pleasure in expressing our warm approval of them."—Christian Messenger.

"We have received the numbers already out of hands from the enterprising publishers Messrs A. & W. Mackinlay, and it is justly due to them to say that they have conferred a boon upon their country."—Recorder.

"The publishers Messrs Mackinlay deserve the thanks and encouragement of every friend of Education, for the style in which they have furnished the above volumes."—Colonist.

The "NOVA SCOTIA SERIES," so far will compare favourably with any in the world, and is very far in advance of any American Series ever seen in our Schools. For cheapness, for excellence of matter and of paper and print, this Series will distance all competition. The easy gradation with which book follows book will commend itself to all who have had any experience in the training of youth. It will be a great and permanent advantage to the education of the Province to have a Series such as this within reach of all our Schools. Messrs Mackinlay deserve well of their country for their enterprise, and the very great care and skill with which these works have been prepared. We congratulate teachers and scholars on the innumerable advantages they now enjoy in climbing up the "hill of knowledge;" and when we see these charming juvenile books we are tempted to say or sing "O would I were a boy again!"—Witness.
