OVER 700 C. O. F. DELEGATES

With City Members Attend Alexandra —Largest Recorded Convention.

All the lower floor and part of the first gallery of the Royal Alexandra Theatre were filled with delegates and city members of the Canadian Order of Foresters last night, to the number of nearly 1200, thus fitly celebrating their 32nd annual convention on the hospitality of the house. The delegates are taking their recreation first, and will go to the island for a picnic to-morrow afternoon. After that they will settle down to two or three days of strenuous executive work.

The delegates began to arrive early in the morning, and by noon some 200 had registered. The greatest rush came immediately after that, however, for by 3 o'clock nearly 700 were in the city. About another 100 are expected by to-morrow, which will make all told the largest convention on record.

Yesterday afternoon reports of the high court officers were read. It is not known just what lines of business and policy will be discussed during the remainder of the session, but it was said yesterday that the question of rates would not come up.

FROM IRISH TO HEBREWS

Simcoe-street Property to Be Headquarters for Charities.

The property at 216 Simcoe-street, formerly occupied by the Irish Club, has been purchased from S. Weber by the Associated Hebrew Charities, and will be made into a shelter for indigent Jews. The price paid is in the neighborhood of $13,000. The property was formerly the residence of Dr. Cotton, and afterwards was used as a sanitarium.

The creche for the care of Hebrew babies and the Jewish free dispensary will be two of the most important departments in the building. An interesting feature of the new home will be the establishment of a concrete vault in the rear, where the bodies of dead Jews will be placed while awaiting burial.

SYNOD OF ONTARIO CELEBRATED JUBILEE

Bishop Mills in His Charge Denounces "Ne Temere" Decree as an Outrage.

KINGSTON, June 13.—(Special.)—In his charge at the Ontario Synod, this afternoon, Bishop Mills made the following reference to the "Ne Temere" decree:

"I very much dislike saying anything in the nature of criticism respecting the conduct of other religious bodies, but we certainly as a church, and as British subjects, cannot be silent when we are not only assailed by insulting words, but our liberties, and the laws of the land are openly attacked and set aside.

"The pope's proclamation that a marriage celebrated by a Protestant minister is no marriage, is grossly insulting and audacious; opposed to morality, opposed alike to the laws of God and of Christian nations. Yet, this decree is being carried out both in Ireland and the Province of Quebec. In the Province of Quebec, two Catholics, for some reason, which I have not heard, saw fit to be married by a Protestant minister, under the authority of the license. The man, in time, tired of his wife, and left her. He appealed to the church for a divorce, and the archbishop granted it, under the authority of the decree, "Ne Temere," stating that they had not been married, and that they had been living in adultery. The man having secured the divorce from the church, then applied to the civil court and a Roman Catholic judge decided that the ceremony performed under authority of license by a Protestant minister was not a legal marriage, and upheld the decree of the Roman archbishop, thus not only claiming but exacting for the pope supreme authority in this realm.

"This annulment of marriage was, undoubtedly, illegal, for two of the ablest judges that have sat upon the bench in the Province of Quebec, have declared that the marriage of two Roman Catholics by a Protestant, under authority of license, is legal and valid. This annulment was not only illegal, it was immoral, an innocent woman was turned out into the world with a stain upon her character, her child left nameless and portionless without civil rights, and branded as an illegitimate. It is, however, not merely in the case of two of her own members that the Roman church presumes to take such a course, but also in cases where Protestants and Roman Catholics have been married by a Protestant minister, thus not only arrogating to herself the right of doing what she pleases with her people, but with Protestants as well, even to the extent of breaking up homes. It is quite time that we should wake up, and no longer submit to such indignities being placed upon us. I shall be glad if the synod will give some expression of its views on the matter, if it thinks proper to do so."

The session of the synod this year marks the 50th anniversary of the birth of the diocese, and in his charge, the bishop reviewed the history of the diocese.

As regards the meetings of general synods, his lordship stated he would move at the coming session that the synod shall meet every six instead of three years. The last meeting pointed out, cost over $12,000, and all that was done was to adopt a hymnal. Looking over records, one would be amazed to find how little synod has done, and how much it costs the church. The bishop spoke of the report of the committee on the prayer book adaptation, and said he was opposed to any doctrinal change, but that uniformity and enrichment was desired. Speaking of mission givings, he stated that many of the endowed parishes do not appear in a creditable light, and there was need of great shaking up of some dry bones and manifestation of new life.

The financial report presented was encouraging. The synod has under consideration a notice of motion to raise all the stipends of missionaries under $650 to that amount, if funds will permit.

Canon Grout was re-elected clerical secretary; Francis King, lay secretary and R. J. Carson, treasurer.

To-night the graduates of Trinity University held their annual reunion, when addresses were delivered by Rev. Dean DuMoulin of Cleveland and Rev. Dr. Lloyd, vice-provost of Trinity College.

WOMEN'S AND FARMERS' INSTITUTE WELL ATTENDED

Helpful Addresses and Good Social Time—West Toronto News —Suburban Doings.

AGINCOURT, June 13.—(Special).—The annual district meeting of the East York Women's Institutes, held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Paterson here to-day, was largely attended and replete with interest from first to last.

Representatives were present from all parts of the district, and the chair was occupied by Mrs. Fairles of Bloomington, the president.

At the election of officers, which followed the general program, Mrs. Fairles was re-elected president, Mrs. Warren of Markham, vice-president, and Miss Reynolds, secretary-treasurer.

The prize for the best assay, open to all the institutes in the district, was won by Stouffville.

Dr. Coutts gave an interesting and instructive address on "The Medical Inspection of Rural Public Schools," and adduced many strong reasons why this course should be followed. Dr. Coutts favored the carrying out of this by a qualified nurse, under the direction of a practitioner. In so far as the Women's Institutes can they will urge upon the local board of health the adoption of thi- course.

Mrs. Hassard of Markham gave an address, as did Miss Millar of the O. A. C. The meetings were most enjoyable.

Prof. Dean of the O. A. C. addressed the Farmers' Institute in the afternoon in the Temperance Hall with relation to the supply of milk, and the character, treating the subject in a practical manner. General regret was expressed that, owing to the lack of time, Prof. Dean was compelled to leave before a number of the members reached the hall.

Mr. George A. Putnam, who was present spoke with reference to the establishment of a judging class of two or three days' duration in Agincourt, to be held during the winter, and for which the department will contribute a large tent necessary and a competent staff of instructors. The plan is greatly appreciated, and was generally favored by the Scarboro farmers present to-day.

In the evening a bountiful luncheon was furnished by the ladies of the institute on the beautiful grounds of Mr. and Mrs. Paterson.

On Thursday at noon it is expected that the work of laying the concrete sidewalks between the C. P. R. and Grand Trunk Stations will be fully completed, and a credit it is to the town. The work thruout is of the highest character, reflecting favorably on the contractor, Mr. Chenery; the inspector, Mr. Jarvis, and the villagers, who furnished the financial assistance (or at least the bulk of it). The total length of the walk is 765 feet, and, thanks to the energy of a number of the townspeople, who stayed close on the job, the whole contract will be finished well within the amount suggested.

The best-spent money Agincourt ever laid out.

WEST TORONTO.

Big Grist of Happenings From the Western Ward.

WEST TORONTO, June 13.—(Special.)—The final game of the interform baseball series, at Humberside Collegiate Institute, was played this afternoon between the Fifth and Third Forms, the former winning by a score of 5—3. The Fifth Form have won every game they have played in the entire series, thus winning the championship, for which the Literary Society donated a large silver shield. This shield will be presented to-morrow night, and at the same time will be presented what is known in the school as the Nelson shield. This is given for the best all-round athlete who wins the largest number of points at the field day of the school. The winner this year was Sidney Tonkin of the Commercial Form.

Many and loud are the complaints which are being heard from Bell Telephone users thruout West Toronto. Many well-known professional and business men have told The World of the wretched service they are receiving from the Junction exchange, in many cases it being almost impossible to get a number, while long waits of five, and often ten, minutes are sometimes necessary before even the hard-worked Central will deign to reply.

Frank Butterworth of Chicago, general president of the Brick, Tile and Terra Cotta Workers of America, addressed an open meeting of his fellow-tradesmen to-night in St. James' Hall.

Harry Wynn, formerly one of West Toronto's most popular young men, who has been lately residing in Port Arthur, is again in town revisiting old friends.

The Victoria Baseball Club have withdrawn from the West Toronto League, where they have been playing since the commencement of the season. Their place will be taken by the Meteor Baseball Club.

The officers and executive committee of the Homewood Club of West Toronto met to-night at the Toronto Junction College of Music to decide matters relative to their program for the summer.

A new Jewish Synagogue is in the course of erection at the corner of Maria and Shipman-streets. The new building is to cost $25,000, and the cornerstone will be laid on June 22, Coronation Day.

Shekinah Chapter, R. A. M., held their regular meeting to-night in the Masonic Temple, Annette-street, when several candidates were advanced to the Royal Arch Degree. The chapter intends to call off their meetings of the summer months.

NORTH TORONTO.

NORTH TORONTO, June 13.—(Special.)—In some way the idea got abroad that the board of control and city council had arranged for an automobile tour thru the town, but this was an error, and as a matter of fact the date has not yet been definitely fixed.

Among the council and townspeople generally to-day, there is a general disposition to resent the order of the inspector relative to the purchase oof inspector relative to the purchase of new high school. Four acres might have been all right when the town was a goose pasture, but now that it is the Mecca of all the retired and will-be retired autocrats of the city, it is regarded as ridiculous. Principal Reid at last night's meeting came in for a good deal of criticism in that the initial cost of the undertaking was minimized. It seems that the continuation school inspector was never notified during the year of the existence of a school, tho how he could escape knowledge of the fact thru the daily press, is a mystery. That the grants have been withheld is inexplicable, and certainly indicates lack of familiarity with high or continuation school methods on the part of somebody.

Which is it, anyway, a high or continuation school?

The mayor was very emphatic, as was Councillor Howe, at last night's meeting, that Principal Reid had agreed to hand over all the fees and receipts to the town, while Principal Reid did not understand it that way. The minutes ought to show beyond any controversy what happened.

THISTLETOWN.

Rev. R. J. B. Simpson of Newmarket will address the children of the school, at 2.30, and will preach at 7.00 p.m. Maple Methodist Church choir will assist at these services and an interesting and profitable time is anticipated.

HIRAM CARPENTER'S WONDERFUL CURE OF SKIN DISEASE

After 20 Years of Intense Suffering.

"I have been afflicted for twenty years with an obstinate skin disease, called by some M. D.'s. psoriasis, and others leprosy, commencing on my scalp; and in spite of all I could do, with the help of the most skilful doctors, it slowly but surely extended until a year ago this winter it covered my entire person in the form of dry scales. For the last three years I have been unable to do any labor, and suffering intensely all the time. Every morning there would be nearly a dustpanful of scales taken from the sheet on my bed, some of them half as large as the envelope containing this letter. In the latter part of winter my skin commenced cracking open. I tried everything, almost, that could be thought of, without any relief. The 12th of June I started West, in hopes I could reach the Hot Springs. I reached Detroit and was so low I thought I should have to go to the hospital, but finally got as far as Lansing, Mich., where I had a sister living. One Dr. —— treated me about two weeks, but did me no good. All thought I had but a short time to live. I earnestly prayed to die. Cracked through the skin all over my back across my ribs, arms, hands, limbs; feet badly swollen; toe-nails came off; finger-nails dead and hard as a bone; hair dead, dry and lifeless as old straw. O my God! how I did suffer.

"My sister, Mrs. E. H. Davis, had a small part of a box of Cuticura in the house. She wouldn't give up; said, 'We will try Cuticura.' Some was applied on one hand and arm. Eureka! there was relief; stopped the terrible burning sensation from the word go. They immediately got Cuticura Resolvent, Ointment and Soap. I commenced by taking one tablespoonful of Cuticura Resolvent three times a day after meals; had a bath once a day, water about blood heat; used Cuticura Soap freely; applied Cuticura Ointment morning and evening. Result: returned to my home in just six weeks from the time I left, and my skin as smooth as this sheet of paper. Hiram E. Carpenter, Henderson, N. Y."

"We hereby certify that we are acquainted with the aforesaid Hiram E. Carpenter, and know his condition to have been as stated. We believe his statement to be true in every particular." L. B. Simmons & Son, Merchants; G. A. Thompson, Merchant; A. A. Davis; Millard E. Joiner, Merchant; John Carpenter; A. M. Leffingwell, Attorney and Counselor-at-law, all of Henderson, N. Y.

The above remarkable testimonial was written January 19, 1880, and is republished because of the permanency of the cure. Under date of April 22, 1910, Mr. Carpenter wrote from his present home, 610 Walnut St. So., Lansing, Mich.: "I have never suffered a return of the psoriasis and although many years have passed I have not forgotten the terrible suffering I endured before using the Cuticura Remedies."

Since this cure was made by the Cuticura Remedies, they have made their way to every part of the civilized world. A 32-page booklet describing humors and affections of the skin will be mailed free to those desiring further information by the Potter Drug & Chemical Corporation, Boston, U. S. A.

This is one of the most enjoyable and widely known events held annually in Scarboro and everybody ought to keep this date clear.

KHAKI AN ACCIDENT.

A lucky accident led to the invention of khaki, that olive colored cloth that is worn by soldiers, a writer in Scientific American says.

For years the British troops in India wore a cotton cloth of greenish brown, but it always faded when washed with soap. While discussing this defect with some British officers a business man from England carelessly observed that the manufacturer first to discover the means whereby a cotton drill could be made that would not fade would certainly make his fortune. One of the officers, a young man, took the hint. When he got home he employed a skilful dyer, and the two began a systematic search for an olive dye that when used on cotton cloth would not yield to soap or soda. They spent years in experiments along this line, but to no avail. The thing seemed hopeless.

One day, however, they found among numerous scraps of dyed cloth one that retained its color under the most severe tests. The puzzling part of it was that this scrap had been derived from a piece of cloth that had been subjected to the same processes.

Finally, by the merest chance they hit upon the secret. The dye in which this scrap had been dipped remained for a time in a metal dish of a peculiar kind. This metal, in combination with the chemicals of the dye, had furnished the thing needed. They made the experiment with other pieces; the dye held, and their fortunes were made.

REFUSED TO ALLOW SALE OF CARLTON-ST. CHURCH

Methodist Conference Took Stand That Down-town Work Must Be Vigorously Done.

The Toronto Methodist Conference yesterday expressed its strong disapproval of the proposed selling of Carlton-street church. It will not be sold so long as the present circumstances exist; so long as the congregation hold together and the need of down-town churches exists.

B. W. Davies, a prominent figure in the church, stated that he membership list consisted of over 500 names, and the yearly givings amounted to $10,000. Tho the older members had been moving away, the number of young men had increased, and for their sake Mr. Davies said he would rather see the church retained for the present even it it had to be sold for $50,000 later on.

The weekly offerings have increased $33 per Sunday since the sale of the building was agitated.

"The young men are the greatest possible asset and we must not lose them. To sell Carlton-street church is to sell the congregation. I look ten times at the congregation for one glance at the trustee board. The trustees are moving away or have already moved. They want to sell but the congregation says 'no don't sell.'"

The deficit has been reduced from $631 to $345 and the total debt is only $12,000 and the assets amount to at least an eighth of a million.

Rev. Mr. Fallis' Amendment.

Rev. F. W. Fallis introduced an amendment asking that permission be given "to sell the property when the social union, Toronto Fred Victor and city missions societies shall have united as one organization, and when it shall have developed a plant which in the opinion of the Toronto Conference, expressed at its annual meeting, provides for all the interests concerned."

Rev. Dr. Burns seconded the amendment, claiming that the problem was greater than Carlton-street church.

After considerable discussion, however, the amendment was withdrawn as out of order.

Rev. Dr. Bartley, secretary of the social union, was not concerned with the offer made, but whether the church was needed.

"If it is we should not sell it for a million." He said that 40,000 young women boarded south of Carlton-street, and as many young men. What was wrong with the down-town churches was not their location. What they needed was to change their adaptation and reach out for the young boarder and not cater quite so much to family pastorage.

Blow to Methodism.

Rev. John Locke received great applause when he opposed the sale, saying that the price was insufficient and that Methodism would not regain its moving should the Carlton-street church be dispensed with.

J. W. L. Forster made the last plea for permission to sell, claiming that a well-known banker had assured him that a higher price could not be expected, and that the money should be secured and invested in slum work.

Only two votes were cast in favor of the sale.

The resolution drawn up by Rev. Fallis was then re-introduced and passed unanimously as a separate matter.
