PEASE THE FURNACE

What it does Stands for simplicity in furnace construction. Distributes heat evenly from every register. Requires the least attention.

Lasts longer with a minimum of repairs. Extracts the greatest quantity of "heat" possible from the fuel used.

Has a special contrivance which assists in consuming the gases which would otherwise escape up the chimney.

Makes practically no dust at all in the house, on account of its specially constructed cup joints.

Is the most economical both from a fuel burning standpoint and cost of upkeep.

What it costs It may cost a little more to instal than most furnaces because only the highest quality materials are used throughout its entire construction.

But it costs less for fuel because of the special construction of its combustion chamber, air blast, and radiating surface.

It costs less to operate because owing to the high quality of material used throughout it costs practically nothing for repairs and lasts longer.

What it saves Your temper, because it always works right and is "on duty" all winter through.

Labor, because there is practically no dust when you use a "PEASE."

Money, because it burns less fuel and needs almost no repairs.

Backache, because you don't have to stoop with its new shaker.

It will save you from all future heating troubles if you instal one this summer.

"ASK THE MAN WHO HAS ONE."
