The "To-day" Hat

Must Have Style and Quality.

The Hat you should buy now— the "to-day" hat -has to count among its attractions the very "last word" in the matter of fashion, and have also quality that is so superior that it is easily detected by the passer-by. These hats can be purchased in Toronto, and there is nothing easier to get if you go to the proper store. They do not cost any more than the other kind.

We pride ourselves on the splendid display we have in the show room. All our hats are moderately priced. They include designs by Henry Heath and Dunlap, for whom we are sole Canadian agents.

"A COUNTRY MOUSE"

Toronto Associate Players Present Creditable Performance.

The best audience of the week at the Earl Grey Musical and Dramatic Competition at the Royal Alexandra saw the best dramatic production so far last night, when the Toronto Associate Players presented the first two acts of Arthur Law's comedy, "A Country Mouse." From an amateur's standpoint, it was an ambitious attempt that realized no small measure of success.

that realized no small measure of success.

First honors were easily taken by Miss Bessie Hunter, whose previous work in "The Three Little Maids," and "The Westerners" still lingers. As Angela Muir. Miss Hunter delighted the entire audience by her clever, capable and refreshing interpretation of the role. Her simplicity was winsome, her manner girlish. It was a real pleasure to see her act. Miss Clarice Spencer, as Lady Sylvia Bowlby, wife of the millionaire brewer, deserves mention. In the second act, her withering scorn produced a shudder thru a part of the house. The Duke of St. Kitts, played by A. E. B. Hemmingway, was well taken, and the supporting company, composed of Miss Bertha Spencer, as Violet Aynsley: S. Bennett, as Lord John Wyckham; H. E. Hitchman, as John Bowlby, M.P.; J. C. Greig in the role of Hon. Archibald Vise, and the butler, by Mr. Riley, contributed their share to the success.

This little band of players is deserving of every congratulation for their meritorious work.

New Shirts for Spring On Saturday we Feature Novelty Negliges from Austria and the U.S. A.

They arrived this week. The Austrian Negliges-especially the white pleated styles are especially good; the splendid quality fabric used, their high-class workmanship, and the exclusive designs, give them that look of distinction which appeals to particular men. The comfortable way they fit is another strong feature.

And from the U. S. A. this week came a half a dozen new ranges, mostly in stripe designs, also a splendid blue pleat. Men who have worn this make—"Bluett & Peabody"—claim that they have no equal in the snug and easy fit. You may judge for your-
