

eternity? We belong to our homes, to the church and society, to the W. C. T. U., and it may be to many other organizations; but, in a broader and more important sense, we belong to the great brotherhood and sisterhood of the race. As pebbles cast into the stream produce ripples which multiply and extend even to the other shore, so we, mothers of men and women that are to be, produce on them influences whose extent and effect upon our race only eternity can measure. While feeling our responsibility we need not despair, for God has interposed to help us. Hopefulness ought to characterize our work more largely than it does; we ought to have bright hopes of every one to whom we can bring such a Saviour as we have proved Christ to be in our own lives. Our hope, our joy, our strength are in Him in whom all fulness dwells. We have in Him not only a blessed memory of Eden, but a perfect model for this life and a glad prophecy of heaven. So let us labor on, knowing that the Lord of Hosts is with us, and light and victory will come at last. Individual self-surrender is the only true source of power with God and man, so let us "ascend unto the hill of God" that we may be clear-sighted for the battle, and may a personal Pentecost be the portion of every one who wears the white ribbon.

E. ADELIA LUCAS.

Meets in the 3 p.m., first

Honorary President . . .

Vice-President

Recording Secretary
Corresponding Treasurer . . .

Evangelistic . . .
Social Purity . . .
Sailors and Firemen . . .
Lumbermen . . .
Fair and Railroad . . .
Unfermented Wine . . .
Franchise and . . .
Literature . . .
Press . . .
Journal . . .
Sabbath-school

The Centennial
regular meetings being partly of nineteen.
the average number
the members for an "At become better and become Good work Evangelistic
short service
Mothers' meetings