HERE'S ANOTHER JOLT.
Tory papers in St. John and Fredericton are gleefully quoting a statement of the Chatham Gazette that potatoes there are selling at $1.75 a barrel and the farmers get $1.50. The truth of the matter is, however, by the Chatham Gazette, which says—

"If the arguments of the Standard had been founded on fact, then it is true that those of the World, the Telegraph should be awarded the honors in this potato contest. Potatoes are selling here for $1.00 per barrel and are being purchased right along at this price. The World could have secured the price of a barrel and the farmer who had it read The Gazette more carefully."

HARVESTERS' EXCURSION.
Advices from the west indicate that the demand for labor is more urgent than it has been at any time since the harvest commenced. This is consequent upon the fact that a greater number of men are required to assist in the work of gathering the immense crops, which are the greatest in Canada's history.

It will be readily understood that the great task of gathering the crops requires a greater amount of assistance than the mere work of cutting. At the present time there is work for 20,000 men to help in harvesting, and the wages are higher than ever before paid. The extra help cannot be provided in the west, and for the purpose of helping to meet the requirements the Canadian Pacific railway will run a Harvesters' Excursion from St. John and points on its line in New Brunswick on Oct. 14. The rates from all points will be $12.00 going to Winnipeg and $18.00 returning. Those from other points in the province will come to St. John or nearest junction point with C. P. R. Adv.

CANNERS OF SARDINES

Christiania, Oct. 10.—Some thirty firms of sardine tins at Stavanger, representing a yearly production exceeding half a million chests of tins of sardines, have established a common sale agency in that town. The new development is supposed to be connected with the Watson case, which was brought before the English courts, the decision in which is thought to have made it difficult for Norwegian firms to hold their own individually.

ONE OF MISSING $10,000 BILLS PAID TO ROYAL BANK

Havana, Oct. 10.—The missing $20,000 from the National Bank of Cuba which was mailed to the Park National Bank in New York was stolen here, as one of the listed $10,000 bills has been found. It now seems certain that the money was stolen either in the National Bank of Cuba or in the Havana post-office.

The Royal Bank of Canada, a branch of which is located in Havana has notified the National Bank of Cuba that it has in its possession one of the missing $10,000 bills, which formed part of a large payment made by the latter to the former bank on October 5. The note was not discovered at once as the package in which it was contained was not opened for some time after receipt.

ABDUCTION OF GIRL BY INDIAN ON ST. MARY'S RESERVE

Agent to Take Matter up — A Court Case Over Valley Railway

(Special to Times)

Fredericton, N. B., Oct. 10.—It is understood that legal proceedings will be taken against an Indian who recently abducted a fifteen year old girl from the St. Mary's reserve. Indian Agent Smith has been advised by the department to take the matter up. As the alleged offence was committed in Victoria County, proceedings will have to be instituted there.

The dispute New Brunswick is now digging out the slip at Temple's Landing. Deputy Sheriff Timmins visited Kingsclear yesterday and served papers on Havelock Kelly and Delaney Allen. It seems that they have a dispute with the St. John Valley Railway company over the right of way and a judge's order has been secured to enable the company's employees to go upon their lands. It is likely the case will be submitted to arbitration.

"WONDER DOCTOR" FAILED TO SAVE THE CHILD'S LIFE

Remarkable Story of a Woman's Credulity—Practitioner Sent to Prison

Berlin, Oct. 10.—A remarkable story of feminine credulity is reported from Neukölln, a suburb of Berlin. A simple carpenter was charged with illegally practicing as a doctor. A girl of four years died recently in hospital from rapid consumption, and the circumstances which the child was brought to the hospital led the medical authorities to suspect exceedingly careless treatment at home. Inquiries were made through the police, who were scarcely prepared for what they discovered.

The child fell ill about Whitenside, Thuringen, the mother, without informing her husband, decided to call in the carpenter, who had made a name for himself as a "wonder doctor," and who was alleged to be capable of working miracles. The mother came and laid her hands on the child's head for three-quarters of an hour and then dipped them in a pail of water. He gave a guarantee of working a cure, but though he came every day the child's condition became generally worse. In despair the mother told her husband and the child was hurriedly taken to the hospital. It was too late, however, for any hope, and the child died a week later. It was explained that the "wonder doctor" charged a fee of twenty-five cents for each visit and an extra fee for dipping his hands in the water. Grubier argued that the death was not due to his treatment. He was sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

Monks at St. Bernard Find Their Hospice Used as Free Hotel

Animals Brought Thousand Miles From Lake Athabasca

Geneva, Oct. 10.—The custom adopted by tourists during the last few years of spending weekends during the summer in the hospice of the Grand St. Bernard without any cost to themselves except perhaps the dropping of a coin or two in the collection-box on leaving, is greatly embarrassing the hospitable monks. The latter, indeed, are unable to stand the financial strain, as every year their losses are larger. The hospice receives yearly 30,000 persons, of whom 20,000 are tourists, many of whom simply regard the monastery as a good free hotel in the Alps.

By the regulations of the religious order, the monks must harbor any person demanding their hospitality for twenty-four hours gratuitously, but many families stay several days without paying. The hospice can accommodate from 600 to 700 persons at a time, and recently for the comfort of their guests—the monks installed electricity and central heating in the ancient building, which now resembles a large modern Alpine hotel.

At the hospices of the Simplon and Petit St. Bernard the monks were forced to levy a tariff for their visitors, as in a hotel, and the Grand St. Bernard monks will be obliged to do the same, unless the public is more liberal. The subsidies formerly received by the hospice from the Italian and French governments have ceased.

CHARGES BY J. A. BARRY

The commissioners of the provincial hospital today awarded the contracts for supplies. This afternoon the government will meet. Among the matters to come up will be charges laid by J. A. Barry regarding the purchase of supplies by the police force by Ernest Howes and Patrick Lenihan. A member of the government said this morning that the charges are likely to lead to an investigation.

SIR DONALD SPEAKS OF PORT MANN

"I was misreported in Winnipeg in regard to Port Mann being the ocean terminus of the C. N. R. What I did say was that Port Mann would be the train assemblage centre for the Pacific section and that it would be an available centre for the distribution of coal and other freight into the interior, but not that it would be our ocean terminus. As a matter of fact we have not yet any Pacific steamship service."

This statement was made by Sir Donald Mann, vice-president of the C. N. R. in Victoria, B. C. "We have our car repair shops and our assembling yards at Port Mann," he continued. "In all the chief cities of Canada the railroads are moving their assembling yards out some distance from the centre of the city. This is being done for several reasons. For one, inside property is too expensive, and another, the smoke nuisance has caused many complaints. Most of the yards in Toronto are now five or six miles away from the city centre. The G. T. R. has moved its yards out to Mimico, and we are moving out also."

THE LURCHER.

Yarmouth Times—F. J. Lewis, inspector of fog alarms for New Brunswick, has been in town, superintending the installation of a new siren in the lightship Lurcher, which will be in working order early in December. The present arrangement is a second hand and 35 silent. The new one will be 4 seconds blast, 3 silent, a blast and 3 silent, 4 blast and 42 silent.

To clean a marmalade pipe place it in a saucpan of cold, sweet milk, and bring it gradually to the boil.
