

EYES OF YOUTH MADE A DEEP IMPRESSION

Clara Kimball Young in the Very Best Picture of Her Illustrious Career at the Imperial.

The Imperial resumed its picture policy yesterday with the splendid special feature "Eyes of Youth," in which Clara Kimball Young is being starred. It was a very fine offering indeed, a decided novelty in the way of photoplays dealing with glimpsing into the future and the occult arts of the Eastern Yogi. Very large attendance marked the return to the silent drama after the week of grand opera.

To quote a recently published editorial, "What would you give to be absolutely certain today of what would happen tomorrow?" there is probably no person who would not risk a great deal for one little peep into the future.

Advance information has been the basis of over fifty per cent. of all the great fortunes in the world. It is a historical fact that the fortune of the Rothschilds, the greatest individual fortune in Great Britain, was founded upon advance information secured by a member of that famous family of the defeat of Napoleon at Waterloo. Probably one-half the world today is in some sense interested in the experiments of the people who are endeavoring to read the future by communicating with spirits or by some other method, and the other half of the world is sitting eagerly back, awaiting the result of these experiments before they, too, become actively interested.

Many of the leading ministers of the world hold that if the Creator had intended that humanity should know its future, some method would have been provided by which the future could easily be read. Psychologists maintain that if the future can be accurately determined, there will be no further interest in life, since the only interest the people have in their affairs of today is based upon the gamble inherent in all people as to what the morrow will bring.

In the production, "Eyes of Youth," which Clara Kimball Young is now appearing in at the Imperial, the exciting events of the story are based upon the opportunity given the heroine to read her own future through the assistance of a Hindu, who teaches her the mysteries of crystal gazing, and in this way she is able to avoid the mistakes that would have been her lot had she followed one of the many opportunities offered her. "Eyes of Youth" is a gripping production because, in addition to being one of the famous plays of the year, as well as one of the elaborate productions of Miss Young's entire screen career, the development of the story shows in a new and startling the possibilities of reading the future through the process of crystal gazing in which some people have great faith.

DESTROYERS of stockings! Truly.

The rules of wear and tear they know from A to Z. Yet, try as they will, it takes them longer to go through the knees of Penmans stockings.

There's something more than strong re-inforcing to defy the wear and tear. The yarn is of special long-fibre, spun carefully to insure strength.

To make sure of extra wear as well as neatness and warmth, mothers need only remember the name Penmans.

THE FEAST OF SHABUOTH

Shabouth, the Feast of Weeks, will be observed in all congregations of the Jewish faith on Sunday, May 23. Orthodox congregations also observe the day following. This festival is one of three agricultural feasts which were observed in the ancient Biblical era. The Feast of Weeks was in Biblical times a farmers' holiday, celebrated at the end of the first seven weeks of harvest. The ceremonial consisted in offerings of the field brought as a thanksgiving token for the new crop that was being harvested. (Deut. xvi-9.)

This feast of the first fruits, like other agricultural festivals, was gradually transformed and invested with symbolic significance. In course of time the Jewish people developed a historical consciousness and linked traditional events with these institutions and festivals that were transmitted from a remote ancestry. In the case of the Feast of Weeks the giving of the first fruits, and so commemorated to this day.

By this combination a universal significance was attached to the festival in which the ripened fruits of the spirit, instead of the first fruits of the field, were offered in praise and thanksgiving as an offering from the People of the Covenant. All synagogues read the Decalog on this day and renew their pledge of loyalty to the Covenant of Israel as their fathers did in days of yore.

During the last century the Feast of Weeks was enriched by introducing a confirmation ceremony in connection with its observance. The confirmation ceremony was sponsored by the leaders of Reform Judaism who made of it a feast of consecration of the Jewish youth, boys and girls, to the ancient covenant of their fathers.

The confirmation service does not exact from the confirmands any other confession than that of a belief in One God, and in His justice and truth as manifested in history. Confirmation day in some congregations synchronizes also with graduation from the religious school in which the confirmands have covered an eight-year course comprising Biblical and Jewish history, Jewish ethics and literature and an introduction to the Hebrew language, including a reading knowledge of the prayer book in its original language.
