T is your fauther that the boy doesn't understand the meaning of the word he has encountered, or knows nothing of the man he has been reading bout. You seem annoyed because he has interrupted you while you were reading the paper. Does not part of the annoyance arise from the fact that you don't know yourself? The whole trouble for both you and the boy would be obviated if you only had a good Encyclopædia in the house.

You can't afford it?

It may be that some fathers who read our proposition will be so engrossed in business that they will not give the matter that consideration it deserves. Don't think that because you have managed to get along without a good Cyclopedia so far that your wives and children will have no use for one. That would be a great mistake for you to make. While you may not have the desire nor time for reading, yet they may have, and nothing would afford them more pleasure than to have a good Cyclopedia, such as the Encyclopedia Britannica, Revised and Amended, at hand for consultation on all imaginable subjects. It you can't appreciate a good thing, find out if they would like it. If so, order it without delay and thus add to your own happiness. FLOUR. R. D. MCARTHUR. GEO. S. deFOREST & SONS JOHN LABATT, WM.
