DIRECTORS' REPORT. President Pitfield read the report of the directors, which was as follows: St John, N. B., Jan. 14, 1896. To the Stockholders and Members of the Exhibition Association: Gentlemen-Your directors respectfully present the following report of their proceedings during the past

From among their number the board elected W. C. Pitfield as president of decided to hold an exhibition at the usual time, in the autumn of 1895. The services of C. A. Everett were secured to fill the position of manag-ing director, to which was added, on the retirement of J. C. Mitchell, the position of secretary.

Applications were made to the executive of the province and the St. John city council for grants to aid in carrying on the exhibition. The province responded by a grant of one thousand dollars and a guarantee of three thousand dollars. The city made a grant of three thousand dollars and a guarantee of three thousand dollars.

A block of land lying east of Went worth street and south of Sheffield street was leased from the city corporation on the terms offered by that body two or three years ago. The grounds were graded to suit the purposes of the exhibition, and subitial stables were built to acc modate two nundred horses and three hundred and ten head of cattle, Ac-sheep, swine and poultry. 64x186 feet, was erected and prepared for the exhibition of agricultural pro-ducts, implements and working dairy. A spacious amusement hall was fitted up within the building.

Water from the city works was in ducted to and through the grounds for the use of the live stock. The work on these grounds was com-pleted at a cost of $3,396.50.

Since our previous exhibition: the city had extended its water pipes through Sydney street, southward, to the front of the exhibition buildings. water connection with the buildings By arrangement we furnished the pipe and the city conducted the water into the buildings. From the point of en-try we have laid pipes in all desirable

The roofings of the main buildings and particularly that of the south wing, were found to be in bad order. In response to our application the city the necessary repairs and also achinery hall with asphalt. The central supports of the south wing were greatly strengthened.

The association made desirable alterations and repairs within and around the main buildings. The insides of the buildings were color washed. Previous to the former exhibition the association had wired these buildings for arc lighting. It now added a comwiring for incandescent lighting and also wired the agricultural building and grounds for arc lighting. A boundary between the drill shed and

We are indebted to the militia department for kindly placing the drill shed and parade grounds at the disposal of our association. By consent, we connected the various buildings by good plank walk through the parade grounds, and closed up the spaces military fences.

The city council having granted permission, we enclosed a portion of the Wentworth street extension, and took down a portion of the military fencing, thus bringing the whole of the exhibition grounds within one enclosure. The expenditures in these directions amounted to $1.292.14.

To add to the attractions during the exhibition and to secure a larger indux of visitors to the city, his worship the mayor, assisted by a number of prominent citizens, arranged for a regatta in the harbor of St. John. Although it proved a heavy tax upon their time and necessitated liberal subscriptions, they succeeded in procuring, at home and from abroad, a large wm. spectators one of the best regattas

Your directors take the liberty of making some statements and sugges-tions which may be useful in the future operations of the association. The space within the exhibition building was insufficient to meet the wants of exhibitors, nor did the added room furnished by the drill shed for the carriage department fully meet our requirements. A. John, from the pen of S. W. Kain. Everett, on whom, as managing director, the credit for the late exhibition most largely rested. He expressed the earnest hope that Mr. Everett's services would be secured for the curren vear. On motion of Ira Cornwall, seconded by R. B. Emerson, the report was taken up section by section.

On motion of R.B.Emerson, seconded by O. H. Warwick, the meeting enlorsed the sections extending thanks of the association to the lieutenant governor and staff; the local and city governments, the minister militia, and the colonels and staffs of the artillery and 62nd battalion, for the part they had taken in making the exhibition a success.

C. A. Everett, commenting on the re port, said that the space in the buildings was not large enough to accommodate the demand at the recent exnibition, which demand indicated the hold the show had taken on the public mind. As to the live stock premium list, it needed to be modernized and brought up to date; and new rules were required for the regulation of special privileges. The advisability of securing ground for the erection of other buildings, he explained might necessitate the removal of the drill shed and military establishment to another locality, which step, he had every reason to believe, would be en-dorsed by the local militia. That was a matter for the consideration of the new board of directors

After Mr. Everett's comments, on motion of S. S. Hall, seconded by A. O. Skinner, it was adopted and refe red to the incoming board of directors Mr. Everett submitted a classified statement of the expenditure in con nection with the last exhibition, which statement was a little more in detail than that published a short time ago in The Sun; also the report of the auditors thereon and the treasurer's statement. On motion of A. L. Law, seconded by D. W. McCormick, the financial state ment was received, approved and or-dered to be entered on the minutes. S. S. Hall moved, seconded by A. O.
