A special meeting of the shareholders of the New Brunswick Petroleum Company, Ltd., will be held at the office of the company, Board of Trade rooms, on Wednesday next at 11 a.m. It is understood that the meeting is for the purpose of considering a proposition made to the company by an English syndicate.

St. John folks have been clamoring for fine, warm weather. The weather man certainly obliged them yesterday. He handed out a brand of weather which has seldom been enjoyed during the last ten years. It was exceptionally fair and exceptionally warm. In fact only two days have been better. St. John during the last decade and no holiday has equalled it for heat during that time.

Arrangements have been completed whereby St. Andrew's and St. Stephen's churches will unite during the months of July and August. Service will be held each Sunday morning in St. Stephen's and in the evening in St. Andrew's Church. Rev. David Lang will preach during the month of July, and Rev. Gordon Dickie during August. The change will commence next Sunday morning.

The death took place at her residence here yesterday afternoon of Mrs. Robert Gault. Deceased, who was a native of Armstrong Corner, had lived here for some time. Besides her husband, who is employed in the post office department, one son, John, with W. P. Hatheway, survives. The funeral takes place this afternoon at 3 o'clock from her late residence, 11 Cranston Avenue.

Harry Ervin, lieutenant of No. 1 Salvage Corps, and secretary of the firemen's tournament, which was held here last year, is in receipt of a communication from Joseph H. Macaulay, secretary of the Bangor Fire Department, informing him that the intention of the fire ladders of that city to hold a big firemen's muster in Bangor later in the season. The date for the affair will be decided at a meeting on July 14. In all probability the muster will come off in September. It is altogether likely that many St. John firemen will be on hand for the affair.

An unknown man was found wandering on the street yesterday afternoon whose mind seemed to be unbalanced. He was taken to the police station by Sgt. Campbell and Officers Pitt and Howell. Dr. Berryman after examining the man, pronounced him insane and recommended that he should be sent back to Great Britain, where it is believed he belongs. There were no papers nor anything found on the man, however, by which he could be identified.

CHICAGO LAD SAYS THAT GYPSIES KIDNAPPED HIM

Missing Since Thursday Last, He Makes Escape While His Captors Were Asleep.

CHICAGO, July 1.—Bayard Ashton, 18 years old, who disappeared last Thursday from the residence of his aunt, Mrs. J. Smith, was kidnapped by gypsies according to his own story. The boy said he was on his way home from school last Thursday when he was halted by two men driving in a wagon. They asked him if he wanted to ride. He climbed into the wagon and then, he asserts, one of the men threw a blanket over him and after binding his hands and feet threw him under the seat and drove a long way with him, but in what direction he could not tell. "After we had been traveling what seemed to me two or three hours," the boy continued, "they took me out at a lonely spot where they were five tents, in which lived 14 men and about as many women and two little girls. They made me sleep in a tent of wood and there was someone watching me all the time so I could not run away. "Most of the men were asleep Tuesday and I managed to get away from them."

BURGLARS GET BIG HAUL AT MILBRIDGE

Reported That Between $800 and $1000 In Cash and Stamps Was Secured by Blowing Safe.

MILBRIDGE, July 1.—At an early hour Monday morning, the safe at the Milbridge post office was blown open by nitro-glycerine by burglars, who after rifling the safe of its contents, made good their escape. The noise of the explosion woke nearly all of the nearby residents, some of whom made an outcry to drive the fellows away, but without success. The building was quite badly damaged, the windows and plastering being broken. The burglars succeeded in getting away with $800 to $1,000 in cash and stamps. It is not known what direction they took, but they were running up street in a northerly direction when last seen. There had been two men in town all day Saturday, with no business that they could be known to. It is supposed that they are the guilty party. Notices were sent to all points to look out for suspicious appearing characters, but nothing doing. The men have been learned of their whereabouts. Postmaster A. L. Wallace led $40 of his private funds, which were in the safe.

FOUR SERIOUS ACCIDENTS IN AND NEAR CITY

Wm. Clark, longshoreman, narrowly escaped breaking his neck yesterday afternoon at the Clam Makenzie pier by falling off a swing while in mid-air and landing on his head. It appears that Clark was very anxious to have a swing, so after sending himself on the board he asked to be pushed as high as possible and the crowd tried to satisfy his desire. When the swing had gone about 18 feet, Clark suddenly lost his hold on the ropes and turning a somersault in the air fell to the ground on his head. He put his hand in front of his face to save himself and one of his wrists was badly sprained and his arm cut. He lay for some time in a semi-conscious condition and a doctor was summoned to attend him. When the doctor arrived Clark had revived and ordered the medical man away.

At a picnic held at Black River yesterday afternoon by the Roman Catholic Miss Letitia Moore of Black River, received painful injuries by falling through the dancing pavilion. Miss Moore was enjoying one of the dances with a young man when suddenly the boards broke beneath them and they fell through the platform. One of the unfortunate girl's legs was caught between the boards and badly bruised and bruised. She had to be assisted to her home. Later in the evening when the picnicers were returning home another accident occurred on the Westmorland Road. An unknown woman, who was sitting with her son on a high wagon fell forward onto the road on her face, cutting her arm and spraining it. She suffered much pain from the injury.

About three o'clock yesterday afternoon Miss A. Kennedy, of Halifax, who was spending the holiday in St. John, was suddenly prostrated by the heat on Coburg street. She fell to the pavement, striking her head and was unconscious for several minutes. She was returned home accompanied by two other girls and had been walking fast for several blocks. When opposite the Coburg street Christian church Miss Kennedy suddenly fell. Her girl companions secured some water and soon brought her round. Later she visited a physician and had the wound in her head dressed.

HEMORRHAGE FOLLOWS A YOUNG MAN'S DIVE FROM BREAKWATER

While enjoying a picnic given by No. 2 battery at Port Dufferin yesterday afternoon George Arthur Pike, 17 years old, lost his life as the result of an accident. The battery practiced for some time on the range and afterwards several of its members went to the swimming. George Pike was one of the number. He had dived off a staging on the breakwater several times without mishap. On one occasion, however, he attempted to turn a somersault in the air, and misjudging the distance struck the water on his face and stomach. The force of the contact with the water rendered the young man unconscious. Harry Pike, a brother of the unfortunate man, noticed that something was wrong and immediately plunged into the water. He caught hold of his unconscious brother and brought him to the shore. George Pike was bleeding from the nose and mouth, and in spite of the efforts to restore life by his companions, he died in a few minutes. Dr. Kenney was summoned, but arrived after life had left the body. On examination it was found that death was due to a hemorrhage of the lungs caused by the young man striking the water with great force. Coroner Kenney did not consider it necessary to hold an inquest for the death was entirely accidental. The body was taken to the young man's home on Queen Square Carleton. Much sympathy is expressed for the family of the deceased.

WORST WATERS OF THE WORLD.

Many people, when asked what is the ugliest bit of sea they know, will tell you the English Channel. The globe-traveller who knows his Mediterranean well mentions that horrible "race" between Cadix and Tangiers.

The globe-traveller who has sailed round the world is willing to bet upon that tract of wild waters to the south of iron-bound Cape Horn, but the sailor who tells you, and tell you true, that the wickedest, cruellest bit of water is encountered in rounding the Cape of Good Hope from west to east.

AVOID LIKE PLAGUE

All these and many others that might be mentioned are tracts of sea which are full of danger. Yet in a well-found vessel they are perfectly navigable, and vessels do cross them by nitro-glycerine by burglars, who after rifling the safe of its contents, made good their escape. The noise of the explosion woke nearly all of the nearby residents, some of whom made an outcry to drive the fellows away, but without success. The building was quite badly damaged, the windows and plastering being broken. The burglars succeeded in getting away with $800 to $1,000 in cash and stamps. It is not known what direction they took, but they were running up street in a northerly direction when last seen. There had been two men in town all day Saturday, with no business that they could be known to. It is supposed that they are the guilty party. Notices were sent to all points to look out for suspicious appearing characters, but nothing doing. The men have been learned of their whereabouts. Postmaster A. L. Wallace led $40 of his private funds, which were in the safe.

SHIPPING HIGHWAYS

To make matters worse, the monsoon here rages with appalling violence, and once caught in such a storm, with the full drive of the whole Indian Ocean behind it, a vessel is either smashed to pieces on the rocks or driven ashore, and her crew delivered into the hands of looting, marauding savages. It is a curious fact that, while the Red Sea is one of the chief of the world's shipping highways, yet there is a stretch of the east coast from Jeddah to Hodeidah, into which no sane skipper would venture his vessel.

UNION BANK TELLER DROWNED AT OTTAWA

OTTAWA, July 1.—Dominion day at Ottawa was marred by a drowning accident. Wm. A. Green, aged twenty-one, teller in the Union Bank here, was drowned in Lake Deschene. He was one of a party of six who left Aymer at ten o'clock in a yacht. The party consisted of Mr. Laidlaw, the owner of the boat, his wife and two sons, and Miss Brewster. They crossed the lake and landed at Shirley's Bay. The wind had arisen to a half gale and the boat was managed with difficulty on the return trip. When half way back the sail swung across the boat and Green, who was standing on the poop deck, was struck by the sheet and thrown into the water. A float was thrown to him, but failed to reach him. He went down before the boat could be brought around. The body has not yet been recovered. Green, who is a native of Dartmouth, N. S., was in Ottawa for about a year. He was engaged to Miss Brewster, who fainted when she saw her fiancé drowned and was brought to with the greatest difficulty.

CAPE RACE SHUNNED

Cape Race, the south-eastern extremity in Newfoundland, is another point shunned by sailors. During the past forty years no fewer than ninety-four ocean-going ships have been wrecked on the iron-bound cliffs of Cape Race, involving a loss of over two thousand lives and fifteen million dollars. Cape Race's chief dangers are drifting ice and currents of unpredictable set but enormous power. The fogs which fall there are sudden and thick as wool. Once, in 1899, three big cargo ships were piled up on the shore north of Cape Race in one day and night. Rockall, that strange islet almost in mid-Atlantic, where, in 1904, the emigrant ship Norge was wrecked with fearful loss of life, is the centre of another piece of sea, which all mariners religiously avoid. North from Rockall, Helen's reef runs, unseen under water for no less than four miles, and as the island itself is entirely unlighted it is easy to see why all ships give this death-trap a very wide berth. So many weavers of fiction have written wildly imaginative accounts of the Sargasso Sea, that many have come to look upon the sea itself as a myth. As it is no myth, the Sargasso Sea is its smooth, almost motionless, centre, and here are thousands of square miles of stagnant water, a marine rubbish heap, whose surface is covered with
