OSWALD, Lt.-Col. William Robert, was b. at Seabank, Aberdeenshire, Scot., Jan. 10, 1848, and is the descendant of an ancient Scottish family. Ed. at Bellevue House, he came to Can., 1866, and not long afterwards established the well-known firm, still existing, of Oswald Bros., stock brokers and ins. agents, Montreal, becoming a mem. of the Montreal Stock Exchange, 1869. Mr. O. joined the Montreal Garr. Arty. as lieut., 1868, and saw service with that corps, at Trout River, during the Fenian invasion, 1870. Later, he was gazetted to the Field Batty., but returned to the Garr. Arty., June 24, 1881, as lt.-col. He commanded the regt. while on active service during the N. W. rebellion, 1885 (medal), and on retiring from the service, 1888, was presented with a handsome oil painting of himself as a mark of the regard and affection entertained towards him by the officers and men. To Lt.-Col. O. belongs the credit of organizing the first arty. team sent from Can. to compete at Shoenbury-ness. This team, which proceeded to Eng., 1881, and won the Marquis of Lorne's prize in the contest between Eng. and Can., he commanded. Lt.-Col. O. was the first life-mem. of the Dom. Arty. Assn., and was elected Presdt. thereof, 1887. Politically, he is a Protestant; in religion, a Presb. He m. Graham, dau. of the late John Greenshields, Montreal.—Montreal; St. James's Club.
