

The names on the last four pages are those of local clergymen at dispersal centres who are giving their services to the chaplains department without pay or allowances.

REPATRIATION