The whole community, however, is deeply interested in the effort now being made by the Weslevans to permanently endow these long established seats of learning. To educate the Wesleyans and to increase their intelligence is to benefit by just so much the whole community. It helps all other denominations, aside Mrs. Cardy, 1.00 Hev. J. C. Berrie, From Rev. J. E. Jubb, 1.00 Hev. J. C. Berrie, From Rev. J. C. Berrie, From nity. It helps all other denominations, aside from the fact that it educates cheaper and better than any other institution in the Lower Provinces has yet done a very large number of their young whoth sexes without reference to their religious denomination. We think, therefore, that the rich men in the Lower Provinces, whose very wealth is simply in trust that they may do good with it, should heartily assist in the effort to give permanency and assist in the effort to give permanency and freshened vigor to these useful institutions of

took place in Argyle Hall on Monday after-noon. Sir William Young, Chief Justice, pre-so gentle that it can be safely given to young children. ercises addressed a few words of well merited compliment to the managers of the Institution, and forcibly presented the claims of the Deaf given to a horse twice a week, will save double and forcing presented the claims of the Deal that amount in grain, and the horse will be that amount in grain, and the horse will be fatter, sleeker, and every way worth more money than though he did not have them.

We could not help feeling griping pains or cramp. luring the whole of the examination, how fortunate these provinces have been in securing the services of such a principal as presides over this institution, and at the same time how Boots and Shoes-never leak or rip. slow people are fully to appreciate their good tortune. Such a work as Mr. Hutton's must be, to a large extent, a labor of love and selfsacrifice; but surely it is the duty of the community to make this self sacrifice as small as the pupils, and of at least one more teacher to carry on the work as it should be. But if our remarks had any force then they must have much more now. During the past year the Institution has been crowded, and if no evil eftects have flowed from the condition of the buildings, the credit is due to the great care of Mr. Hutton and the teachers, and Mrs. Vinecove the matron, all of whose labors must have been largely increased by the insufficient accommodation of the establishment. The time has come when we should have a new building, and we think that the governors are not without responsibility in not making an appeal to the public and to the Legislature at once. The public never will move in a matter of this kind unless they are moved; but we believe that this Institution has a firm hold on the affections of the people, and its wants only require to be promptly supplied. The internal management of the Institution is fully abreast of the times, but the building and equipments belong to a bye-gone age. Let the whole of our congregations of different denominations, give a thanksgiving collection to a building fund as some few of them now do towards the working expenses, and we will have a building which will be a credit to our Provinces. Come gentlemen of the Board of Governors, wake up.—Pres.
