

GRAIN, LIVE STOCK AND PRODUCE MARKET

WINNIPEG MARKET LETTER

GRAIN GROWERS' GRAIN COMPANY'S OFFICE, JANUARY 16, 1911.

Wheat.—During the week ending this date May wheat has been over the dollar mark, largely due to speculative influences, and in sympathy with the Chicago markets. Country deliveries have been exceedingly light, and rail traffic much impeded. This has helped the speculative interests. Export demand has been quite poor except on some low grade wheat for continental markets.

Oats.—The movement in oats is exceedingly light, but increasing in lower Manitoba and Saskatchewan points. There is also a demand for the high feed grade to Ontario; and the demand which is springing up for No. 1 Canadian Western oats to go to the eastern provinces for seed purposes, will make a little premium for this grade of oats during the next month or six weeks.

Barley has improved considerably in price as we predicted it would, and we believe will go higher yet. There is little moving, however.

Flax has again moved away up and looks very strong. Dealers are finding it hard to get this grain under offer.

LIVERPOOL LETTER

(By PROCTOR & CO. LTD., LIVERPOOL, JANUARY 3.)

During the past week business has again been greatly interfered with by holidays. Today, however, the market seems to be settling down to practical business, and we have to record a much stronger tone, and a generally improved demand. Two causes have mainly helped to bring about this improved state of affairs, viz., decidedly lighter shipments to Europe and absence of selling pressure from the Plate. The advance in our market since we wrote you on the 29th ult. has amounted to about 2½d. per cent. Some business has now taken place in the new crop Plate cargoes: We ourselves sold a cargo today for January shipment, 63 lbs. Rofe. at 34/9, and the market looks like settling down to some where round about this figure. We believe there is a good demand now due, and with remarkably little offering from exporting countries we hardly expect to see this demand met, excepting by gradual improving prices. In the U. K. and on the continent the weather has improved and the winter seeding has been able to be proceeded with under more favorable conditions, so that it is still possible a full average may be secured, but the period of sowing is too late to be entirely satisfactory.

Roumania.—Shipments from this country keeps fairly large, considerable accumulation at the winter ports having taken place. Russia.—Shipments have fallen off very materially, and though there are fair stocks at the ports, these are steadily held, and are about 6d. per qr. too dear for our market at the present time. Australia.—There is certainly more disposition to sell on the part of the farmers, but freights are dearer and scarcer, and this interferes with the business. Argentina.—We received today the first threshed out samples, indicating a very high quality for the districts from which they were gathered (north), one sample weighing over 56 lbs. to the Imperial bushel. It is still quite impossible to give any reliable estimate of the crop. To judge by the samples it is difficult to believe that the crop is not a large one, but the reports from various sources are numerous and persistent that the export surplus will not be very much larger than last year. Our own friends have made no alteration in their previous estimate but in view of the many contrary reports we have heard, we must look upon this as too optimistic, whilst we do not think there is really good ground for the very pessimistic reports that are being circulated by some shippers.

CONTINENTAL LETTER

(By H. WERNER & CO., ANTWERP, JAN. 8)

Wheat.—America has inaugurated the new year by vigorous advances and sales now $1 to $1 cents higher than a week ago and that, in spite of a fresh increase in the visible supply, which the European trade considered not a serious impediment for any substantial advance in the general world's wheat position. The alleged reason for the American rise is not precisely of inattainable strength and perhaps the American bulls are using the tactic of advancing the market now, when the season is most favorable of restricting superabundant supplies. However the attempt alone of such an advance in face of the visible supply shows an under-tone intrinsically firm. The Americans are evidently basing their movement more in judging the position outside their own country and there we are disposed to agree with them. In fact, the figures, as you will see them below, indicate rather large quantities about and visible, but we have already pointed out more than once that we are in face of exceptional outlets and if we admit the necessity of larger weekly shipments we cannot find it extraordinary that the floating quantities are also proportionately larger because they can be absorbed by a larger field of consumption. Estimations of the Argentine crop are now already down to 10,000,000 quarters and there again we believe that this country must be judged otherwise this year than in former years, when there was a sudden rushing out of the production which weighed principally by its impetuosity. Nothing of the kind this year. We believe the shipments of the Plate crop will be spread over a much larger lapse of time and so certainly will the Australian crop, because farmers are in a position to wait and the conviction is too much inveterate that we must have all wheat goods. Besides, prices, in a low protracted situation during the last two years, have been considerably higher than they are now. All these items lead us to believe the situation to be absolute safe and if a reaction might be unavoidable in too rapid movements, especially as they are purely speculative, by and by prices will all the same climb somewhat higher on the demand for spot wheat which we certainly will have been exhausted when fresh quantities will come forth after the opening of navigation in spring. No over-speculation has falsified the markets. The trade after great disappointments of last year has become rather tame and consumption after having been spoiled by cheap forced sales on spot, thinks now that this game will continue and there is a mistake. It is precisely the characteristic that purchases are now limited since months and months to the strictest necessity and any needs must now be addressed to the producing countries themselves, which, we have told you, are well pleased to stick to their own prices. Rye is steady with moderate business passing.
