LONDON, July 12.—There is the closest union between the political leaders of Germany and German army headquarters regarding their readiness to receive peace proposals from the Allies if they are offered in a spirit of sincerity. This statement was made in the Reichstag by Imperial Chancellor von Hertling, says an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from

The program of Germany's foreign policy, the Chancellor added, was laid down in Germany's reply to the panal peace note, and it would be adhered to. That would be a righteous peace, and Germany has not and will not change her policy, however strong the idea of destruction was expressed in speeches in Al-

Chancellor von Hertling told the Beichstag main committee that the government intended vigorously to prosecute the reforms already begun. He commented on the problem in the East and in the West, and concluded with remarks on the Government's future program regarding the declaration made in November, 1917, which had been accepted by a large majority in the Reichstag

The change in the foreign ministry, the chancellor said, was not caused by any real differences of opinion, but arose out of personal discussions, revealing matters which the change of vealing matters which should not be made public.

GERMANY EXCLUDED Paris, July 12.—"Germany has excluded herself from the society of nations, and will remain outside of it as long as she is embarrassed by militarism and the door will not be opened until she has changed," says Andre Leby, who is writing report on a League of Nations for the foreign affairs committee. of the Chamber of Deputies. In a statement to The Petit Parisien, Deputy Leby adds:

"The Allies have organized at Versailles an inter-Allied war council. Why should they not organize then an Inter-Allied committee to study the idea of a league of nations? This would be a sort of a small sized Inter-Allied peace parliament to do for peace what the war council seeks to do for war. The two actions are parallel and com-plementary. This first international parliament would be the germ of a league of nations. Why not seize on the occasion of the anniversary of July 14 to create it?"
