INTERESTING LETTERS FROM OUR STAFF OF CORRESPONDENTS.

A Budget of News and Gossip.—Personal Intelligence.—A Little of Every-thing well Mixed up.

MALLOTTOWN.

Monday, March 28.—Mr. John Mulvina spent Sunday evening in town.

The Yonge Front correspondent to the Brockville Recorder should certainly be brought to task for writing such scurrilous stories, in which there is not the least shadow of truth. We have reference to an item in regard to a young lady from this village going to Brockville to be married. Since the prisoners have escaped from the "Libby" prison, certain young ladies have been heard crying, Johnny, get your gun.

Miss Lettie Avery and Miss Nellie Service have been visiting friends in Lyn this week.

LYN.

Tuesday, March 22.—The god father of the whiskey license here complains of the way-warniness and ingratitude of his protégé.

Richard Hanna has purchased the old Stephen Boyce farm from Frank Preston, who has moved to Manitoba. It comprises 131 acres, the price was six thousand dollars.

The ladies of the W. C. T. U. treated the Band of Hope to warm sugar on Friday evening, which was a happy time to the youngsters.

Manitoba is receiving quite a number of immigrants from this section this season. On Tuesday next Geo. Cornell leaves for that land of promise with a car of horses.

If the asylum is not soon built, what will Brockville do with their Snow Club.

Monday, March 28.—The sound of the whistle at noon to-day proclaimed that the saw mill was to start up under the management of N. H. Cleverly. It is hoped that the whistling will hold out for a few days to allow customers, who were waiting to see what would be the outcome of negotiations that have been going on for some time, to get in their logs.

The Eyre fraternity shook the dust from their feet and left town yesterday. From the large quantities of bran and feed being taken from the grist mill by farmers, the cheese business should make a brisk start this spring.

FRONT OF YONGE.

Monday, March 21.—We are proud to hear that Mr. Addison, who was injured in the tunnel at Niagara, is likely to recover and will return to his old home and parents in Athens.

Mr. Poole of Caledonia, has tapped 800 maple trees this spring, from which up to date he has received very little saccharine liquid. The congelation overcomes the power of concentration.

We now have the most snow on the ground that has been in 45 years.

Mrs. Hutchinson, of Escot, died last week, aged 84. This old lady was married three times. Her first maiden name was Nancy Trickey. Her last old man stood at the door and wept, but was not able to follow her to the grave.

Mr. Purvis, of Junctown, who went to California last fall for his health, will return home in May.

Mr. Newton Avery, of Junctown, built a beautiful cottage last summer. It is erected on a spacious corner and has all the modern improvements of the day.

Mr. Ormon Gibson, of Hillside, made a bee one day last week at his house. A fine pile was cut and cleared, after which a grand oyster supper was served by Mrs. Gibson, assisted by Miss Phemia Tennant and Miss Louise Ferguson.

Miss Agnes Ferguson is very successful in her school at Sand Bay.

We had a visit last week from Mrs. Moore, of New Dublin.

The Rev. Mr. Service, of MalloTTown, assisted by exhorter Mr. McGinnis, are holding special services in Rockfield.

No robins appear yet, but some robbers are making inroads among farmers, acting as scavengers.

NEWBORO.

Monday, March 28.—The outside world must at present be enjoying a season of peace and security, as all its disolute characters have apparently centred in our midst. Bob terrorized his hearers last week by his demagogic invocation to the almighty "to cut off and send home to—" all those who refused to go to the altar and acknowledge their belief in the extraordinary gift of prophecy and the feat of prostration. A good evidence of the deceptiveness of their prostration occurred on Friday night, when a bunch of fire-crackers was thrown through a window into the middle of the hall. "Bike" was stretched on the floor in his usual state of unconsciousness, but immediately on the first explosion he sprang to his feet and made a desperate charge for the door with the rest of the crowd. The cause got an extra boost this week owing to the personal eloquence of Geo. Perkins, of Westport; the passionate rhetoric of Jack Roushborn, of Buck Lake; and the furious oratory of the erudite Bill Smith, of Davy Lake.

William Denby has tapped his sugar bush.

Miss Annie Duncan will not return to the west this spring.

Mr. John Paul and L. S. Lewis returned from Toronto on Saturday evening.

Mr. Robert Atcheson, of Westport, attended the "power" meeting here on Sunday.

"If it wasn't for the 'power' that's in me, I'd smash your face," was the answer a village landlady, claiming her just dues, received from the feminine head of a family who had everything packed for a quiet removal to Westport, leaving three months' rent attendant at our "power" meetings. Some of our Westport populace have since been surprised by the efficacy and effectiveness of her prayers for those who are travelling the broad road to eternal ruin.

Mr. Enoch Knowlton, an old landowner from South Crosby, passed away after a short illness on the 23rd, at the advanced age of 73 years.

A new Methodist church is likely to be erected in this village in the near future.

100,000 cheese boxes will be manufactured in the village next summer by W. Spicer, who has put in the necessary machinery to manufacture this article.

Willard Lee paid us a flying visit last week. He says business is booming in Potlans.

Sugar making has commenced, and if the yield is large Leech & Layng will ship two car loads to the North West this spring.

Wedding bells and new dresses are all the talk on Drummond St. Will our old maids never cease peaching?

FRANKVILLE.

Monday, March 28.—Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Mitchell are the guests of Mr. William Mitchell.

A young gentleman of this vicinity seems to be highly favored. In taking his lady love to church he is attended by two other females, acting as body guard.

The closing social of the Epworth League which took place Saturday night proved to be a grand success. The audience first listened to several speeches and recitations, after which refreshments were served. The boys of the village amused themselves by raising their large feet and letting them fall heavily on the floor.

Last Saturday evening, after the majority of our citizens of Frankville had retired, they were aroused by a series of shrieks from a young lady and considerable howling from a young man. It appears he had left his horse standing and called at the door of the inn where she was waiting. The horse started off just as she was about to get in, but in so doing got the lines tangled in his feet. Frank might have had further trouble had it not been for the remarkable bravery of the lady.

Three small boys left here on Sunday night for Athens with the avowed purpose of becoming girl mashers. The results didn't seem to be very satisfactory.

WESTPORT.

Saturday, March 26.—The enterprising and energetic character of our citizens was forcibly shown on Wednesday last, when two of our young men, Messrs. W. H. McGuire, and M. H. Seed, very promptly took advantage of the strike on the C. P. R. and started for Fort William near Port Arthur, at the head of Lake Superior. We understand that they have both secured positions as conductors. So much for promissness.

It is reported that there is a petition in circulation, asking that a shop liquor license may be granted in the village. It is a question whether a shop license, such as is likely to be taken out, will be either beneficial or advantageous to our village.

A deputation consisting of W. H. Fregdenburgh, W. J. Webster, and Rev. P. A. Twolsey went to Toronto on Thursday to oppose the movement on foot to run a branch of the C. P. R. from Westport, Newboro and Delta in the cold. The latter villages have also sent deputations for a like purpose. We trust that their efforts will be successful in quashing the movement.

Mr. W. J. Webster is holding a general credit sale of his large stock of general merchandise. The sale commenced by an auction sale on Tuesday last. Mr. Webster intends retiring from the mercantile business, and opening up a banking office in Westport.

From current reports, it appears that the North West and Manitoba are receiving a large number of settlers from different parts of Ontario this spring. We understand that Westport, never belated in anything, is going to contribute her share to populate the "boundless, endless, and sublime" prairie.

Several of the farmers in this vicinity have tapped their sugar bushes and are now busily engaged in making syrup and sugar.

As the warm weather will now soon stop travelling on the lakes, some of our "don't-care" path-masters, and lazy farmers will be compelled to get back, and open out some of the roads, made impassable by the recent heavy snow storm.

Auction Sales.

W. L. Maloy, auctioneer, Frankville, whereby we can fix dates for parties wishing to secure his services, without their going to see him.

Geo. Patterson, who is about to leave Canada for one of the western states, will offer for sale by public auction at his farm, a half mile from Addison, on Wednesday, April 6, at 1 p.m., the whole of his valuable farming stock, implements, household furniture, etc., including 14 head of cattle and 5 horses. D. Dowley, auctioneer.

CORRESPONDENCE.

We do not necessarily endorse the opinions expressed by our correspondents. All communications must be accompanied by the name of the writer, in addition to any name so desired.

The Way of Salvation.

Editor Athens Reporter:

DEAR SIR.—Think you, has not Mr. Benjamin Denbyside made a mistake by publishing the letter of his "certain friend"? If the reverend gentleman had intended to appear in print, would he not have been a little more guarded when he made the statement that some people put it "as if the justified state was one state and the sanctified another and holiness another and the Holy Ghost another." Some honest, sincere, and intelligent Christians, believe that there are two separate and distinct states of religious experience. But these do not separate holiness from sanctification, and only a subject for the asylum could speak of the third person of the Trinity as a separate state of religious experience. A very unguarded statement therefore is the above. And for what purpose was it made?

And perhaps Mr. Denbyside, or his ministerial friend will tell us why, when sanctification is as distinctly and as extensively taught us in the scriptures as justification; and is accomplished upon the same persons by the same agency, (the Holy Spirit), and by the same instrumentality (the truth), and by the same process, (that is by or through faith), in the one case it is an immediate, distinct, and appreciable work of grace; and in the other only an improvement upon the former. If in the one case we are lifted into a conscious state of religious experience, why not in the other the agencies, instrumentalities, and modus operandi being precisely the same. Will one of the gentlemen please give us their warrant for making so great a difference?

W. B.

W. C. T. U. Notes.

The fourth Temperance Medal contest will be held (D. V.) the 6th of April. Six or more young men have entered the contest, and a good time is expected. Suitable music will be furnished. A silver collection to be taken at the door.

At the last meeting of the Union Mrs. Wm. Mott was appointed Supt of "Narcotics," and Miss Edith Knowlton Supt of "Purity in Literature and Art."

TEMPERANCE IN THE BIBLE.

Who was the first drunkard?—Genesis 9: 20-21.

Who took the first temperance pledge?—Judges 13: 15, 16.

Did anybody mention in the Bible ever take a pledge of his own accord?—Daniel 1: 8, 12.

Was he any healthier and wiser in consequence?—Dan. 1: 15, 17.

Ought Kings to drink wine?—Prov. 31: 4.

Ought we to make companions of drunkards?—1 Cor. 5: 11.

Can any drunkard enter the kingdom of heaven?—1 Cor. 6: 9, 10.

Does God pronounce we upon drunkards?—Isaiah 5: 11, 22.

Why has he pronounced this woe?—Isaiah 28: 7, 8.

Are drunkards likely to get rich?—Prov. 21: 17.

What are the consequences of drinking?—Prov. 23: 29, 30.

How may we avoid these consequences?—Prov. 23: 31.

What will be the result if we disregard this?—Prov. 23: 21.

Is it wise to tamper with strong drink?—Prov. 20: 1.

Where was the first temperance society?—Jer. 35: 5, 6.

What blessing did God pronounce upon the first temperance society?—35: 18, 19.

Is intemperance a vice?—Gal. 5: 21.

When is temperance a virtue?—1: 5, 22, 23.

Tobacco and opium were not known when the Bible was written, so they are not mentioned by name in the Bible, but, is there anything in the Bible that governs all temperance habits?—Romans 14: 21.

In a public prayer, Dr. Lyman Beecher once made this petition: "O Lord! grant that we may not despise our rulers; and grant that they may not act so that we can't help it!"—an aspiration which will be re-echoed by many at the present day.

The threatened general strike along the whole line of the C. P. R. is postponed indefinitely. The men have all returned to work, leaving differences to be settled by arbitration.

By the new fish and game law which has passed the New York Assembly last of which will probably become law; the black bass season will open June 1st. By its provisions no black bass less than eight inches long can be caught.

During the fine warm weather of the past few days the maples have yielded an abundant flow of sweets. Buyers for shipment to distant points are busy making contracts. The price for the season's make has in some cases ranged as low as 60c per gal.

The Kingston Whig does not believe in giving something for nothing, and so in its last issue it says: "We beg to decline again, for the twentieth time, to advertise free for a rich Presbyterian congregation in this day. Churches have as much right to demand public notice for the act of begging favors on the sly from the reporting staff after being checked at the business office."
