ABOUT KID GLOVES.

are Useful-Hints for the Econom Woman to Profit by. Economy in small things is often overlooked, and if only more considration were given to this subject quite a considerable sum of money might be saved annually. The careless manner in which a very large number of ladies treat their gloves is an instance in point, and perhaps the following hints may serve to show how the reasonable care of kid gloves would result in eduction of expenditure:-In the first place, it may be pointed out that rough handling is especially disastrous to kid gloves; and it very often happens that a new pair are split and ruined by jerking them on careless fashion. Always put on a new pair of kid gloves for the first time long enough before they are worn to allow of due deliberation in the task. When a pair of fine gloves are bought the purchaser should tasist that they be fitted on in the shop; then if there are any flaws they will be detected before the gloves are paid for and taken away.

Cheap gloves are generally risky investments, but some of the best shops keep a fairly good line of gloves at low prices, which are worth buying for common wear. If strong and well made they will serve for shopping and morning walks, or for bad weather. In putting on a glove be careful to get each finger straight Coax each one on by rubbbing gently with the thumb and first finger until the fingers are down to the very ends.

In taking the gloves off turn the wrist over the fingers and take hold of the ends of the fingers through the wrist. It wears a glove out badly to pull it off by catching hold of the finger tips. Pull the glove into shape and lay it aside carefully. Silk should be kept to match each shade and gloves should be mended as soon as a break appears, for the old proverb, "A stitch in time saves nine" is especially appropriate to these articles of attire. Glove mending is delicate work, which requires both skill and dexterity, and when well done pays admirably for the pains taken. Glove powder should form one of the adjuncts to every toilet table, and a pretty glove stretcher another. French women set a good example, and have made quite an art of putting on gloves, and this is why a Parisienne's gloves last her four times as long as anybody else's. Buttoning gloves should never be done in a hurry. The wrist should be carefully and gently pulled straight, and the buttons insinuated gently into the holes. Use a glove buttoner always; it ruins both the button hole and the finger tips to button them without. After purchasing a new pair of gloves always sew the buttons on before wearing them. The annoyance of having the buttons drop off will then e avoided .- Woman's Life.

Austria's Tomen Barbers. Australians take no chances with their barbers. They must be good, and the Barbers and Wigmakers' union of Vienna sees to it that they are. Provision is also made in their code for wemen barbers who desire to carry on the business of their husbands in case of the latter's death or illness.

In order to do this, the wife must have been enrolled in the union as an apprentice for three years Apprentices must appear in Vienna in the presence of judges of the union and show their skill before they are allowed to open shops of their own. A properly certified barber must have a knowledge of and pass an examination in shaving, hair cutting, hair curling and wigmaking. Poor relations and others who are frugal serve as subjects for experiment.

Not only must the barber be well versed in the practical side of the subfect; but questions are asked relating to the keeping clean of razors, brushes, etc., and the elementary rules of antiseptics are thoroughly gone into.

At the practical examination . the young barbers have their razors dulled by four strokes on a pine plank, and they must then sharpen them. A subject is assigned to each barber, who must be tonsorially perfect, in the opinion of the judges, before the apprentice releases him. After this a certificate is issued, and the apprentice serves two years as a journeyman before he may open a shop as an employer. In the case of widows who desire to carry on the business of their husbands, only the three years' apprenticeship is required.

In spile of the number of years that an Austrian barber has to devote to his business before he is perfect, one can get a high class bair cut for a sum equal to five cents, or a first class shave for something like three cents in any part of the country.

The first official act of M. Triantophyllacos, the Grecian Minister of the Interior, was to issue an order forbidding the wearing of hats at any theatrical representation. This met with snanimous approval from the men and storm of protests from the women.; Or, of Athens' leaders of fashion appeared at the theatre a short time ago with her luxuriant tresses, crowned with a yery minute bonnet. The officer on duty politely called her attenuon to the printed notices forbidding the wearing of hats, and she was obliged to remove the objectionable headgear, all the while vowing to be resenged. The next evening the woman arrived at the theatre bonnetless, but her hair was arranged in such a manner that it was little short of a monument on top of her head. Those of the spectators behind her deeply regretted that the law had not also forbidden monstrosities of the hairdresser's art.

A Bantam Rooster Living on a Grave. It is by no means an uncommon occurrence to see glass cases on the graves of children in the cemeteries of the country containing toys and other articles that were the especial favorite of the dead child, but James Austin a fruit tree man, tells of an instance of this nature that is out of the ordinary. He was making a delivery in the southern part of Tipton county this week when he noticed a coop sitting on a grave in a little churchyard. The sight was so unusual that he got out of his buggy and went for a closer view. In the cage was a red bantam rooster, which was quite tame and allowed itself to be petted.
