NO. WORK, THE HARDEST WORK

- BY. CO. N GENE. Ho! ye who at the anvil toil,

Ho? ye who at the anyl toil, "And etrike the sconding blow; Where from the burning 'tron's bacast, The spitch fly to and fro; While approvering to the hanmer's ring, And for's intensor glow--Oh while ye feel tis hard to toil Androyast the long day through; Remember it is barder still To have no work to do.

Ho! ye who till the stubborn soil,
Ho! ye who till the stubborn soil,
Whoke hard hands guide the plough;
Who bend beneath, the summer sun
With burning check and brow —
Ye deem the curse still clings to earth,
From olden time till sow :

But while ye feel 'tis hard to toil

And lab labour long hours through ; nher it is harder still

To have no work to do. Ho! ye who plough the sea's blue field,

And labour long hours through, ember it is harder still

Ho ! all who labor-ali s ho strive No. all who motion and who and an No. wild, a, lofty power; Do with your might, do with your strength, Fall svær; golden hour! The glorious privilege, to do, Is man's most noble dower: Ohl to your birthright and yourselves, The your perturbing he true! To your own souls be true A weary, wretched life is theirs Who have no work to do.

A ROYAL EXAMPLE. — Many of our readers, per-chance, are not aware that there is in Buckingham Palace, a regularly organized Sunday School for the instruction of the children of the servants and officer resident officials of that establishment. With subore gratification do we add, that our belowed Sovereign Lady the Queen not merely patronizes this interesting seminary, but acts as an instruct. this interesting seminary, but acts as an instruct-reas therein. This fact cannot be too widely known, as it

This their ennot be too widely known, as it may have a tendency to stir up the uppor classes of our Cofony to the discharge of a duty, in which frequently they are greatly remiss, particularly in the more rural districts. Many of our Brethren who liabour in the country have complained to us of the difficulty which they experience in prevail-ing upor the ladies of their flocks, to take an ac-tive pair in the inculcation of religious knowledge to the wines on the 1 code day.

We pair in the inculcation of religious knowledge to the yriving on the Latd's day. We fully grant, that higher and nobler motives than the example of earthly royalty should urge Christian matrons and maidens to the discharge of his most important, and delightful duty. Con-stituted how ever, ashuman nature is, the precedent afforded by the highest personage in the realm may not be without its good effects if the Queen's name is a tokink of strength." either for good or for evil; and it may be that some who have here-tor evil; and it may be that some who have here-feelings of false pride, may from the example of the Sovereign be led to the performance of a work, it-cambent upon all who have the leisure and ability therefor.

DISORDERED STOMACH, INDIGESTION AND DETERMINATION OF BLOOD TO THE HEAD.

DESTERMINATION OF BLOOD TO THE HEAD. Copy of a Letter from Mr. John Lloyd, of Erw wen, near Harlech, Merionethshire. To Professor HoLLOWAX, Sin, —I avail myself of the first opportanity of in-forming you, that, for a very long period, I was afflicted with a dangerous giddiness and frequent swimmings in the head, attended by loss of appetite, disordered stomach, and generally impaired health. Every means had failed to give me any permanent relief, and at length it because so alarming, that I was really afraid of going about without an attendant. In this melan-choly condition, I waited personally upon Mr. Hughes, Chemist, I tarlech, for the purpose of consulting him as to what I had better do; he kindly recommended your Pills, I tried them without delay, and after ta-king them for a short time I am happy to bear testi-mony to their wonderfal efficacy. I am now restored to perfect health, and enabled to resume my usual

IN THE STOMACH EFFECTUALLY CURED. Copy of a Letter from Mr. Bostock. Druggist, of Ashton under Lyne, dated July 31, 1852. To Professor HoLLOWAY, DEAN SIR—I have much pleasure in handing to you a testimonh lo the efficacy of your Medicines. A person in this neighbourhood, with whom I am well acquainted, was affected for a long time with violent spasmodic pains in the stomach and liver, arising from frequent colds, smalls of paint, and the effects of a steoping position, which he was obliged to assume in his basiness. The spasms were of an alarming cha-racter, and frequently left him in a weak and debilita-ted condition. At length he heard of the salutary ef-fects of your invaluable Fills, and was induced to give them a trid. The first dose gave him considerable reief, and by following them up in accordance with your directions, they have acted so wonderfully in cleansing the liver and stomach, and strengthening the digestive organs, that he has been restored to the enjoyment of good health. A remain, dear Sir, yours faithfully, (Signed) WILLIAM BOSTOCK. These celebrated Fills are wooderfully efficacions in the following complaints.
