A Table for You and Me.

BY RUTH CAMERON.

Once upon a time a Married Lady with a Perfectly Good Husband and Three Remarkable Children met a Long Lost Friend of her Girlhood in a Tea Room.

Now the Friend of her Girlhood was still a Spinster, or, as she preferred to call it, a Bachelor Girl. Instead of a Perfectly Good Husband and Three Remarkable Children she had a Vocation. She painted Miniatures on ivory and she lived in a Studio with another Bachelor Girl and Three Angora Cats.

Now after these Two Friends had fallen upon each other's necks in truest and Pretended to listen to the andrew off and began to talk as fast as they could.

For awhile each one asked questions about the other's Special Interests and Pretended to listen to the answer, but before very long they began to act more Natural, and this is the way the dialogue ran:

The Married Lady: "My dear, you must come and see me. We have the loveliest little house on Rose Street. It has eight rooms and two baths, and the cunningest little yard for the babies to play in!"

Girlhood Friend: "Is that so? I wish I had a yard for my cats, but I have to give them their airing on the roof."

The Married Lady: "Is that so? Ruth has a little kitten. I wish you could see her play with it. She's too cunning for anything."

Girlhood Friend: "Yes, dear. I know she must be. I've been painting some pictures of children lately. They are rather hard subjects, but Mrs. L. thought I did wonders with her little girl. You probably know Mrs. L., the suffrage leader?"

The Married Lady: "No, dear. I never heard of her. Speaking of pictures, I think Gretchen is going to have artistic talent. She draws the nicest pictures on her slate. You can almost guess what they are meant for without her telling you."

Girlhood Friend: "How nice! My dear, I met the stunnerest man the other day. Just the type you used to love, dark hair and grey eyes and thin. And so interesting!"

The Married Lady: "How nice! Do you know my husband has grown quite fat. I tell him I shall have to get another cook if this one has that effect on him. We have the best cook in town I do believe. We get her at R's employment Bureau."

Girlhood Friend: "Did you really? As I was saying, that man is one of the most interesting people I ever met. He is a Journalist and he knows the nicest people. He promised to have a tea in his studio and invite some of them to meet me."

The Married Lady: "Did he really? I used to go to a lot of teas, myself, but I can't now—I have the babies. You know Gretchen is rather sickly. She is only five and has had the measles, the mumps, whooping-cough and scarlet fever already."

At this juncture the Girlhood Friend remembered an appointment, and they kissed each other good-bye Adoringly and promised to meet again soon.

That night the Married Lady told her Perfectly Good Husband that she had met her Girlhood Friend. "And she paints pictures and goes around with Bohemian people," she said. "And she can't talk of anything else. I never saw anyone so self-centered."

That night the Bachelor Girl told the Other Bachelor Girl that she had met her Married Lady Friend. "And all she could talk about was her husband and her babies, just like all the rest. Strange how narrow married women get!"

And do you know, neither the Bachelor Girl nor the married Lady ever suspected that she was the least bit funny.

WOMEN TAKE NOTICE!

A man cannot understand the torture and suffering many women endure uncomplainingly. If the majority of men suffered as much pain and endured with patience the weakening sicknesses that most women do, they would ask for immediate sympathy and look for a quick cure.

Many women have been saved from a life of misery and suffering by turning to the right remedy—Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—a remedy which is safe to take because containing no narcotics, alcohol or injurious ingredients. It is an alterative extract of roots, made with pure glycerin, and first given to the public by that famous specialist in the diseases of women—Dr. R. V. Pierce, of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y.

Mrs. LIZZIE M. HESSINGER, of Lincoln, Neb., 333 "C" St., says: "I send a testimonial with much pleasure so that some suffering woman may know the true worth of your remedies. I was a great sufferer from female troubles but after taking one bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which a friend advised me to take, I found myself very much improved. After taking three more bottles, and using two boxes of Dr. Pierce's Lotion Tablets, I found myself on the road to recovery. I was in poor health for five years but now I am cured."

"I hope all women suffering from female weakness will give Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription a fair trial."

Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules.

Fashions and Fads.

Soft materials are used for the mannish shirt, they are made with soft turnover collars and cuffs and welted seams. The turnover collars are quite high and button through at the front.

Some of the prettiest new necklaces of the inexpensive sort are in cream, white or rose beads, clasping with rhinestones centered with a perch; also necklaces of amber are immensely smart.

Among the new features of footwear we find the rubber-soled and rubber-heeled shoe. These shoes come high and low, for both men and women. These cuts are fashionable and very comfortable.

Accordion pleated net is very much used for young girls' dresses. There are lovely little gowns, simply made of this material or of gossamer pearl, white chiffon, into which is spliced a panel of shadow lace, pleated to match.

East Indian effects in jewelry are prominent among the novelties of the season. Heavily chased and carved rings, bracelets, necklaces, pendants, earrings and mounted jewels for the hair are being made in designs copied from the East Indian museum pieces.

Very chic is the gown made of wonderfully soft material with a groundwork of crêpe de chine, and a design of embossed velvet almost covering the surface. A gown of this material in white, trimmed at the foot with a strip of black fox, is very becoming.

Among the small furs now in fashion are narrow ties finished off with short bat ends. A medium-sized muff to match is usually made in stripes to give a welted effect. Other small neckpieces have shaped collars ending with animal finish in front the brush and claws arranged to fall down the center in front.

The sleeves of evening gowns have lost their identity in the draperies that go over the shoulders. Sometimes they are composed of the smallest string of brilliants over the shoulder, on afternoon gowns, waists and a few evening gowns they are long lace-trimmed and show increasing fullness.

Fashion experts have discovered that bright contrasts of color makes the point of difference between the gown that is admirable and the one that leaves no impression. Blue and maze color, violet and geranium rose, deep purple and gold, emerald green and pale rose are some of the effective combinations.

A simple and girlish gown is made of soft white chiffon trimmed with garlands of green satin leaves, applied to the bodice and skirt in border fashion. They outline the round neck of the bodice, the high waistline in the form of a girle and the edge of a draped tunic where it was caught up with a green satin bow. The sleeves are also caught up with a green satin bow.

Here and There.

FOOTBALL DANCE.—On Monday night next the Star Football Association will hold a dance in the British Hall and a pleasurable time is anticipated.

COD AND HERING.—Codfish was scarce yesterday at Seal Cove but herring was plentiful. At Bonne Bay it was reported scarce but there is a good sign at Trout River.

SCARLET FEVER.—Yesterday afternoon three new cases of scarlet fever were reported in the city. The patients are children and have been removed to the Fever Hospital.

WHALING CREW LEAVES.—The whaler Cabot, which undocked Monday will lay up all winter on the South Side. The captain and crew left by the Pomeranian for Norway.

GIVEN UP VOYAGE.—All the local fishermen have given up operations and their boats taken out of the water for the winter. The voyage on the whole has been excellent.

SEAMEN NOISY.—Last night five seamen entered an East End Restaurant. Thinking they were in the forecastle of their ship, they started to kick up a dust, but were ejected by a peacekeeper from H. M. S. Sirius.

BAD WEATHER PREVAILS.—Messages received here yesterday state that during the past week bad weather has prevailed along the Labrador Coast. S. E. gales with snow are frequent and the residents are taking to their winter quarters.

EYE STRAIN HAS CAUSED a physical wreck. If you are suffering from some nervous disorder, and cannot find out where the source is, let us examine your eyes, we may be able to relieve you. R. H. TRAPNELL, Eyesight Specialist.—oct.23,11f.

A CARD TOURNEY.—A card tournament was held in the Longshoremen's Hall last evening. A series of 21 games was played. J. Abbott, J. Cooper and A. Webber secured 19 each and were declared the winners of the prizes. To-night a special prize will be competed for.

PATIENTS FOR HOSPITAL.—By yesterday's train there arrived a woman named Kelly, of Fox Harbor, for Hospital suffering from tonsillitis; Mr. P. Courtesy, of Harbor Grace, also entered the Institution and is in a serious condition. He suffers of an internal malady and is over 84 years old.

IN THE YEAR 1932

how much will you have accumulated at your present rate of saving? Most men will have little or nothing saved if conditions are at all similar to those of to-day.

Every prominent young man appreciates the wisdom of accumulating for his own benefit at least, and looks forward to an old age of comfort and enjoyment relieved from want and worry. And every thoughtful man endowed with manhood feels that a duty rests upon him to make some provision for others' dependent upon him.

The safest, simplest and most profitable way to accomplish all this, and to be sure of a snug competency by the year 1932, is by investing in a Canada Life Endowment Policy for $5,000 or $10,000, according to your means and requirements. The policy can be bought on easy instalments and facilities are provided to assist in carrying and enjoying the insurance.

Send in your name and age and let us submit to you a good proposition.
