There is likely to be serious damage done about Listowel by careless shooting? Last week a ball lodged in Mr. Tremain's house, having passed close to his son's head, and this week a cow grazing in a field hard by the village was seriously injured by buckshot.

An old resident of the vicinity, named Davis Cline, while walking along the track of the G.W.R. near Ontario station, on Tuesday evening, was struck by a passing train and horribly mutilated, two trains having passed over his body. The head and legs were completely severed from the body, and scattered around the track.

After Mr. Raymond's death there was found lying on his desk an unfinished editorial paragraph referring to Major-General McDowell, probably the last words that flowed from his pen. It breaks off abruptly, leaving the sentence incomplete, as if the writer had been suddenly interrupted at his work and called away ;—a sadly suggestive incident.

SMALL THINGS.—The Galt Reporter says:—In noticing the "Improvements in Guelph," the Advertiser pays particular attention to the fact that the bar-room of one of the Hotels has been "painted and renovated." Our friend is very minute in his researches. Perhaps he will devote a column in his next issue to the last stake and-rider fence that has been receted in his flourishing clachan.

MASONIC.—The union of all the Masonic bodies in Nova Scotia was effected on Wednesday night, under the name of the grand Lodge of Nova Scotia. Hon. Alex. Keith, President of the Legislative Council, was elected Grand Master; A. A. Stevenson, Grand Master of Canada, presided. At the Installation ceremonies ix hundred Masons walked in procession to St. Paul's Church, where religious services were held.

A Bloody Affray in St. Catharines.
On Tuesday afternoon a terrible encounter took place in St Catharines, on board the schooner Welland, between the captain and mate of the vessel. It appears that the captain, whose name is Coolahan, and who had been indulging restry freely in liquor, went into the cabin about six o'clock to enjoy his evening repast. While seated at the table, the mate, whose name is Norton, came in, and was immediately ordered by the captain to take off his hat. The mate replied that he would not remove his hat at the command of anybody, or words to that effect. This at once aroused the captain's fre, and he forthwith launched a knife at Mr. Norton. The two then clinched and a slight scuffle ensued, without injury to either. The mate then sat down to his supper, when the cowardly captain stole up behind him, got his arm around Norton's neck, and holding him fast in that position, savagely bit a large piece completely out of his lower lip.—The piece was entirely severed, as though it had been done with a sharp kuife, leaving a ghastly wound. The mate quickly freed himself from the deadly einbrace of his chief, and ran to procure a weapon. He soon returned, armed with a revolver, and finding the door locked, fired several shots through. Three of the shots took effect—the captain being hit twice in the neck, and once in the lege. The mate then got an axe, smashed in the door, and gave Captain Coolahan a tremendous and well-deserved castigation, but did not make any further use of deadly weapons. The mate afterwards had his injuries attended to by Dr. Goodman, who skilfully restered the piece of flesh to the man's lip, by sewing it on, and is sanguine that the operation may prove successful. The captain and mate were subsequently arrested. A day more favorable than Thursday or the holding of a pic-nic could not be esired. About the time for assembling became overcast, but the weath and better than it promised, a the threatening aspect of the clouds de-terred any, living at a distance, from making their appearance it is impossible to say, but we should imagine that the third annual pic-nic in aid of the aged and orphans of the St. Joseph's Hospital was no less successful than either of its There could not have been less than two thousand persons of every age and creed on the ground. the youths and maidens, and old folks too, seemed to enjoy themselves as they only can to whom a holiday, with such an attractive accompaniment as they saw on Thursday, is a novelty. The saw on Thursday, is a novelty. The committee must have had hard work to make the arrangements they did; but Nature worked with them in their efforts to please, for it would be difficult to find a more attractive spot for holding a pic-nic than the grounds near the Hospital. The crowd poured in from different gate ways, some on foot, but the majority carriages which were as busy all after-noon as the cabs at the Falls on an excursion day. Union Jacks, on lotty staffs, fluttering in a gentle breeze, invited attention at every turn the visito took, while on the summit of the hill.

Merry peals of laughter from he depths of the innocent heart of child-ood were echoed by the woods—the title ones, at least, were taking all the omfort and amusement that were to be ound. At one end of a long booth or ent ladies were disponsing provisions, and it was proved that no amount of fun will frighten away hunger, for the edibles found ready and extensive sale. At the founder and will frighten away hunger, for the edibles found ready and extensive sale. At the fact in the middle ladies and gentlemen, standing behind improvised bars, supplied patrons with raspberry, lemonade and other soft drinks. A few paces distant was the tent where those fond of dancing might' enjoy their favorite pastime. The music was excellent, and it may be imagined that the music ans were not spared, for no sooner had one party finished a quadrille or cotillion than a fresh party took their place. Mr. Ferguson, the blind piper, was present, and favored as many as could crowd round to hear him, with a comic song and a tune or two on the pipes. Besides those who amused themselves as mentioned above, there were men knock, ing down ten-pins, there were little boys kicking a foot-ball twice as big as the head of any one of them, and shouting like mad; and there were girls in swings suspended between trees, enjoying themselves as much as anybody. PARIS, June 24.—The Emperor to-day visited the Camp of Chalons, and made a speech to the soldiers. He reminded the army that this was the anniversary of the battle of Solferino, and said he was pleased to see that they had not forgotten the great cause for which they fought ten years ago. The Emperor continued as follows: "I revive the remembrance of battles fought by your fathers and yourselves, for our recent victories are the history of the progress of civilization. You will thus maintain the military spirit, which is the triumph of noble over vulgar passions. It is fidelity to the flag, devotion to the country. Continue in the same course, and you will always be worthy of so great a nation."

American Despatches FROM CUBA.

New York, June 25th.—A special from Cuba to the Sun says that a great number of families from Puerto Principe abandoned that city together, and guarded by a force of Patriots, encamped in the woods. When Latons, a Spanish general, knew that these families were almost unprotected, he attacked them at night with a large force and slaughtered a large number of women, children and old people. The news given to the Captain General shows that the number of those whose throats were cut was 2,000.
