Extensive Liquidation of N.Y. Investment Stocks

New York, Oct. 1 .- Investment stocks, principally rails, were again extensively liquidated in the early stages of today's trading, rallied moderately on the more restrained operations of the midsession and fell away again towards the active close. Much of the temporary improvement which favored war stocks and specialties more than standard issues was ascribed to short covering, that faction evidently deeming it ad-visable to take profits and otherwise visable to take profits and otherwise reduce commitments over the approach-ng holidays. Early declines carried St. Paul common and preferred and B. & O. common to new low records at extreme recessions of 2 to 2½ points. Union Pacific, Canadian Pacific, Northern Pacific, Great Northern, Chicago and Northwestern, Reading, Norfolk and Western and New York Central included the other rails that broke 1 to 3½ points to lowest quotations of the year or for a much longer period. Sales amounted to 960,-Bonds were irregular and heavier. Liberty 31/2's changing hands at 99.68 to 99.82. Total sales were $6,135,000.

Slight Buying Movement at Montreal Steadies Market

Montreal, Oct. 11 .- The rally in the New York stock market today, although only variably maintained, was effective n imparting greater steadiness to the Canadian list. Issues which were more prominent on the decline of Wednesday were inclined to show moderate improvement.

The movement on the buying side which was not extensive was offset to some extent in stocks which had temporarily escaped the depression of Wednesday. On the whole, however, the outstanding feature of the day was the outstanding teature of the day was the presence of a very fair demand for leading stocks at or slightly above the low levels touched on Wednesday and the absence of any selling pressure of an important kind. Prices held well in the late afternoon when New York was receding fairly sharply from the high level of the recovery and the tope at level of the recovery and the tone at the close was satisfactory. An active demand for the third war loan was the chief feature in bonds. Dealings to a par value of $40,400 were reported at 94% or unchanged with 94% bid at the close against 94% on Wednesday.

ORPHEUM PART OF AVIATORS IMPORTANT Every day one hears more of the important part the aviators are playing in the great war. Their work is most clear-ly shown in the wonderful battle pictures, showing the Canadians at Vimy ridge and the retreat of the Germans from the bat-tle of Arras, which are to be part of the regular bill which will be shown at the Orpheum next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

For the flier is today considered a most important adjunct to the military machine. Without him the armies would be almost helpless, for it is he who uncovers the enemy's pians, locates the enemy's hidden guns finds the weak points in the enemy's lines, guards against surprise attacks, and makes it posible for his own commanders to wage a successful campaign. He is the eye of the army. With-out him the army would be blind, and there is no better proof of this than the pictures themselves, for they show views of the enemy trenches that could never have been filmed without the aid of an

KOUNS SISTERS APPEARING IN VAUDEVILLE

A few months ago, two charming songbirds, unheralded and unknown, came to the Palace theater, New York, and took the vaudeville world by storm. New York know not whence they came, or how. The two girls were the Kouns Sisters, lyric soprani, well known on the concert stage throughout the middle west, but only a few weeks old in the two-a-day.

It was not long before the public was let into the facts regarding this inter-
