The "Advertiser" Printing and Publishing Company beg respectfully to announce that its canvassing and business representatives have no authority to make any deviations whatever from the tariff of its moderate advertising rates, whether as regards casual an-ouncements or extended contracts.

By this policy any misconception, and also any misrepresentation, often unintentional, as to what other newspapers are or are not willing to do, will be reduced to a minimum; and no person will have the feeling that he is paying more than another person for the same opportunities of publicity in these columns.

Let it be understood, then, that the canvassing and other business representatives of the

"Advertiser" Printing and Publishing Company are not authorized to vary rates, but that they will be happy to place their experience, their skill, and their best business suggestions at the service of our patrons in every other respect.

LONDON AND ENVIRONS.

—Aunt is the word.

Every awful minute!

For 'tis an awful word.

Some awful people in it;

Some are awful short,

And some are awful large,

And some are awful small;

Some are awful fat,

And some are awful lean,

And some are awful mean,

Some girls are awful sour,

And some are awful sweet,

Some wear an awful wig,

And some have awful signs,

Because their awful hearts,

To awful soft are fond,

Their Cupid's awful dart,

Their awful love have found.

And so 'tis awful, awful,

'Tis awful is the word.

From every awful moment,

Some awful words are heard;

Some folks are awful nice,

Some kids are awful pretty,

Some men are awful wily,

Some women are awful witty.

charming suits of French grey. The presentations were numerous and costly.

—The Berlin Telegraph says: "The testimonial to be presented to Mr. D. B.

Dewar, the late popular manager of the Bank of Commerce here, by his numerous friends in Berlin and the county, is exactly a very handsome and costly gift.

The presentation takes place on Monday 28th inst." Mr. Dewar is the recently appointed manager of the Bank of Commerce in this city.

—Wm. Smyth, formerly a resident of this city, died in Wingham a few days ago, aged 62 years, of a gripe. Mr. Smyth is considered for the past sixteen years, and was highly respected by all. He carried on a very successful marble business in that town for years, and was at one time councillor for ward No. 2. He was a member of the Canadian Order of United

Workmen, the Orangemen and Masonic

Order.

Lost a Wad of Bills.

A Princeton correspondent writes:

"Richard Edwards, Creditville, while on his way to London to pay for a threshing machine, laid his overcoat on the seat in the car, and found when he took it up that a roll of bills containing $840 had disappeared. Mr. Edwards recently also lost six head of cattle on the railroad."

Thanks for Going to Wm.

Wm. Gibson, the recently deceased Liberal member for Lincoln, was the city Saturday. He says that he is in the field to stay, and has just as strong hopes of carrying the seat as he had when he first took off his coat and won it out. "I'm going in with the idea that I'm going to win," he remarked, "and that, you know, is the best of all." Hamilton Herald.

—Londoners who know Billy Gibson and the elements of his make-up believe his hopes are well grounded. He proved a most successful candidate in the last election, and
