York Yonge, Simcoe and The Herald and Mr. Chadwick are evidently bent on brazing out the swindle. The World's course is commended instead of being laughed at: while the Herald has shown itself to be the organ of a gang of swindlers. Moreover, the Herald has improperly and misleadingly dragged in Christopher Robinson, QC, as guaranteeing the legality of the lottery. He did nothing of the kind. It was not the lottery scheme that was submitted to him—but merely a few questions we easked him by some law student at Osgoode hall one day as to the division

THE HERALD'S HYPOCRISY. To the Editor of The World. SIR: No doubt you are awars the publishing of a foreign lottery is a violation of the lottery act. The Chadwick organ says that the local pless would be foremost in sustaining the laws of the land. I forward to-day two Herald dailies that you may see how far he goes in that direction. Guelph, June 28, 1883.

The papers came to hand. In the numbers of Saturday April 14 and 21 of the year there is a large display advertisement of the Louisiana state lottery. The World directs the attention of county crown-atterhen you can buy ney Peterson to this fact, and will cheer.

> To the Editor of The World. SIR: In Tuesday's issue my name appears as a supporter of a lottery scheme in this city for building an opera house. Certainly I was surprised that such an unwarrantable use should have been made of my name in this connection by the pro-moters. My support was asked in building the opera house by a joint stock company, teguily organized, so which I consented, but I disclaim all intention of supporting a lottery scheme in any form for this purpose, Kindly insert this explanation and oblige yours truly.

> Guelph, June 28, 1883.

Our spirited contemporary, The World, is stirring up the promoters of a land lot-tery in the good city of Guelph. It de-scribes it as being worse than the prize lot-tery at London, and that was bad enough. There is nothing that will so quickly kill an illegitimate scheme for making money as exposing it in the pulic press, and we venture to say that the result in the present case will be to flatten out the proposed land lottery. It is not a legitimate way of making money, even if it were a legal way, which good judges say it is not. way, which good judges say it is not.
