Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock a young man with a lady friend were crossing in a canoe from the marsh to the bay across the breakers in the lake, which were running high at the time and were swamped. A boat manned by Miss Platts and Master Dixon put out and saved them from their perilous position.

Mary L. Crow, a corpulent boarding-house keeper of Queen street east, was in the police court yesterday on a charge of robbing William Henthorn, a boarder, of $27. At a meeting of prominent trade unionists held a short time ago it was decided, among other things, to hold a concert, the proceeds of which are to be devoted to liabilities incurred in the late strike of the telegraph operators, as well as providing for those of them who have not been re-engaged in the Great Northwestern telegraph company. Arrangements are now in a forward state towards this, and the concert will take place in Albert hall on the evening of Sept. 10. As the friends of the telegraphers are legion no doubt a crowded house will greet their benefit on the occasion, the more especially as a first-class program is anticipated.

Wedding Bells

The following report of an interesting hymeneal affair was handed into this office last night: The World is the world and is all over the world, as is its duty to be, and its ubiquity made it present at what was designed to be a quiet private wedding which took place in the church of the Holy Trinity. The high contracting parties were Mr. Frank Simpson, only son of Mr. F. G. Simpson, and Miss Laura E. Scott, eldest daughter of Mr. Wm Scott, all of Toronto. The old adage that the course of true love does not always run smooth, held good in this case, but still it runs and in this as in many others, culminated in a happy union yesterday morning at 11 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Pearson, rector of the church, in the little chapel off Yonge street, as the main building is undergoing repairs. The company consisted only of the witnesses and the groom's parents, and as the man of God in a deep solemn voice read out the grand old marriage service of the English church in the silent chapel we felt deeply impressed with the sacredness of the married state, and glad that it is so carefully guarded in this county. After the ceremony the company returned to the house of the groom's father where lunch was partaken of. The couple left on the 2 o'clock boat for a short trip to Niagara Falls and Buffalo. The bride was dressed in white tulle with orange blossoms in her hair, and carried a beautiful boquet, the groom being as usual in conventional black. The best and only man was Mr. Andrew Dickson of Kingston; the bridesmaid, Miss F. Sanders.

THE SITUATION AT RAT PORTAGE.

The People Prefer Ontario Rule—A Preponderance of Police and Whisky.

From a World Correspondent.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 26.—I stopped over a day at Rat Portage. The zeal at present displayed by the Ontario government is with a view of influencing the pending election. However, Pattullo says they have come to stay, and I think they intend to do so. Pattullo has a notice or placard up in Port Arthur and Rat Portage requesting parties to send him specimens of minerals and other products of the country, to be exhibited at the Toronto exhibition and in London and other places in Ontario. There seems no doubt that the majority in Rat Portage are in favor of Ontario, not that they care about politics, but because they want titles to their mining and other lands and the affairs of the district properly administered, and they think Ontario being wealthier than Manitoba can help them more. This is the real situation.

Manitoba has sixteen police, Ontario four to five times as many, a considerable number of the Ontario police being specials and appearing only in plain clothes. There are two distinct municipal organizations and two jails, one for Ontario and one for Manitoba. The population is barely 1000, yet there are 37 hotels and in all 42 places in which liquor is sold. I fancy Ontario will succeed eventually in driving out Manitoba.

The C. P. R. for about 100 miles east of Rat Portage is in a wretched condition. Trestles and rock cuts succeed each other in rapid succession and it is positively dangerous.

Business is a trifle better in Winnipeg and it is expected to be fair this fall, but a dull winter is generally conceded.

The Apple Market.

From the Montreal Gazette.

The apple market is completely glutted and values are rapidly declining. Sales were made to-day (22d) at $3 of the same class of fruit which a week ago brought $4.50 A car load of pretty fair stock was sold at $2.50, poor lots going as low as $1 75 to $2, and we quote $2 to $3.50 as a fair range of prices for round lots. Trial shipment, it is expected, will soon be made to the English market.

The fruit circular of Messrs. Simons, Jacobs & Co. of Glasgow, London and Liverpool, dated August 10, 1883, says: In accordance with promise made earlier in the season, we beg to hand our views of the fruit outlook as collected from the best sources of information at our command, both here and abroad. Under date of August 1 reports from abroad indicate that nowhere upon the continent or in the United Kingdom will there a scarcity of fruit. In Great Britain small fruits are now abundant, and an unusual crop of apples and pears seems assured. France is yielding a good average of everything but pears, which will be a half crop in Germany and Holland, as also in Belgium, the yield of apples and pears is expected to be heavy. Spain promises one of the heaviest raisin crops recorded. Oranges and almonds are said to have suffered somewhat from frost, but a good supply, especially of the former, seems assured, and from Turkey report indicate a full plenty of good cheap figs and raisins. Upon our own side of the water peaches and pears are now being marketed, and it is reported (especially all along the Atlantic seaboard) that both crops will be enormous. While the United States and Canada will not produce the large supplies of late apples expected earlier in the season, there is no reason at this time to anticipate any great scarcity, and it is confidently predicted that there will be sufficient excess to meet the requirements of our European neighbors, although the demand from abroad may set in later than last season. The largely increased average coming into bearing in the older apple sections, added to that of the states of Missouri and Kansas (which latter, until within the past two or three seasons, were looked to for local supplies only) will hold swell the aggregate even in "off" years to large proportions. Apple dealers and speculators are gradually learning to calculate that a failure in any one section or state does not imply a general scarcity or justify fictitious prices; and that the enormous territory now under cultivation will, under almost any conditions, usually insure a good aggregate. False estimates of supplies, like those of last season, are disastrous alike to dealers and exporters, and for the good of the trade it is to be hoped that they may be avoided in the season that is now nearly upon us.

SCHOOL BOOKS.

Timely Hints by the Inspector of Wentworth County.

Mr. J. H. Smith, public school inspector for Wentworth, has issued the following circular to the trustees and teachers of the public schools under his supervision:

The selection of a series of new school readers will have to be made shortly, since those at present in use will cease to be authorized after August, 1885. As the readers are the most important text books used in our public schools, it is very desirable, in making the change, to select the best, and to have a uniform series throughout the country. There are now three new series before the public, viz.: (1) The "Royal Readers," published by Nelson & Sons, Edinburgh, and James Campbell & Sons, Toronto; (2) the "Canadian Readers," an adaptation of Prof. Meiklejohn's Scottish series, published by W. J. Gage & Co., Toronto; and (3) the "Royal Canadian Readers," prepared by Canadian teachers and published by the Canada Publishing company, Toronto. Of these the first has been authorised by the education department; the second has been conditionally authorised; while the third has not received authorisation in any form, but the publishers expect that the Royal Canadian will yet be authorised. It would be unwise on the part of any trustee board to adopt any of the series of readers before the question of authorisation has been definitely settled. As soon as this is done I propose calling a meeting of the various school boards in the county, to decide which series of readers shall be adopted, and how they shall be introduced. My object is simply to get the best, to have them introduced without incurring any unnecessary expense, and to have one series used in all the public schools of the country. I would therefore request trustees and teachers to make no change in the readers until united action can be taken by all the boards of trustees in the country. I would further request you to notify any storekeepers in your neighborhood of this decision, so that they may not be put to any expense in the matter of reading books. The present series will remain in use until the close of the year, by which time we trust to have the whole question finally settled.

Ancaster, Aug. 25, 1883.

A Sober People.

"Senex," now writing to the Montreal Herald a series of letters descriptive of the country and the people "en bas"—down by the sea—thus speaks of what he saw along the Nova Scotia coast, about Yarmouth, Digby, Annapolis, etc.:

Before reaching Halifax, and finishing this portion of my journey, I would fain draw attention to the wonderful sobriety of the people of the section of country we had just passed through. Out of Halifax we met no drunken person. Whether this was due to the Scott act we found prevailing, it is not for me to say. One good thing it had done, I fully admit. It had disestablished the tavern bars, and there were no more loafing country yokels congregating there. At some hotels if we asked for ale at dinner, the waiters would look at us with holy horror and surprise. At others the landlords would supply what was needed without hesitation, remarking that the Scott Act should never prevent them supplying their guests with what they required. In most places, behind a thin veil of hypocrisy, the homage that vice pays to virtue, liquor could be had. I, myself, do not believe that people can be made virtuous by act of parliament. Whilst I firmly believe in reason, logic and persuasion, temperance people should never forget the very great work they did perform—all honor to them for it—before they invoked the aid of the law. But it is the old story over again that Shakespeare, with his keen discernment into the world of human nature, thus crystallizes for us: "Dost thou think that because thou art virtuous there shall be no more cakes and ale? Yea, by St. Anne, and ginger shall be hot in the mouth too."

Railway Pools Threatened.

From the New York Herald.

Those ingenious arrangements known as railway "pools" will be short lived if the view taken of them by Judge Moran of Chicago is sustained. That judge, on Saturday, granted an injunction which prohibits Commissioner Midgeley of the "Southwestern pool," from diverting certain freight from the Rock Island to another road in the "pool."

The injunction was asked by the Continental Sugar Refinery company of Boston, which set forth that it had a large quantity of sugar consigned from Chicago to Kansas City over the road named, and that while lake navigation remained open it proposed to ship 200 barrels per day, but the railway officials, by order of Mr. Midgeley intended to transfer the commodity to a parallel road which presumably is less pressed with freight. The sugar company insists that as a common carrier the Rock Island road must itself convey the freight intrusted to it.

Judge Moran at once granted a temporary injunction as noted. If this view is sustained some new basis will have to be found by the railroads for their pooling system as it will be in the power of every consigner to dictate by what line his goods shall go. It is even conceivable that companies now in the various pools, which may be dissatisfied with the percentage of traffic awarded to them, might induce shippers to "insist" that goods should go by their particular roads. By personal solicitation of shippers a road could thus "force" to itself a larger share of the common traffic.

Foolish Girls Flying From Home.

From the New York Tribune.

The police detectives are searching for one young girl who fled from home, and have just captured another in a Bowery concert saloon. An old detective was asked if many complaints of this kind reached headquarters. "Yes," he answered, "a great many, but not so many as there might be." This was puzzling and an explanation was asked. "Many young girls of poor and dissipated parents drift away from them without ever being inquired after. Where do they go? Usually from poverty, which they long endured, to the shame they have become familiar with by contact with the dissolute whom they have grown to envy. The parents know well enough what the girl's disappearance means, and either do not search for her or do so only to demand help from her. In such cases they do not ask or desire police aid or interference." "And of those recaptured and reclaimed?" "Well, we either never hear of them again, or very soon the same old story is repeated to us." As a rule, detectives are inclined to take the darkest views of life, and it is to be hoped this one was no exceptional character.

CONFEDERATION LIFE

ASSOCIATION.

PRESIDENT—SIR W. P. HOWLAND, C.B., K.C.M.G.

VICE-PRESIDENTS—HON. WM. McMASTER, WM. ELLIOT, ESQ.

Referring to the advertisement of this association in The World of Tuesday last, it may be explained that the much larger sum called for by the valuation made by Professor Cherriman, under the government standard for Canada, than is required by the valuation made by Mr. Homans on the standard for the STATE OF NEW YORK, arise solely from the greater severity of the Mortality Table of the Institute of Actuaries of Great Britain as compared with the "American Experience" Table of Mortality, as the same rate of interest was used in each case.

The reason why the valuation made by this Association's own actuary CALLS FOR A STILL LARGER RESERVE than even that required by Professor Cherriman's valuation arises from the fact that the directors consider THAT SECURITY TO THE POLICY-HOLDERS is the first thing, and, therefore, not content to provide simply as in other companies, they add an additional TEN per cent. to the liability under all BONUS ADDITIONS and PAID UP assurances as well as those being paid up, such as SIX and FIFTEEN payments
