FOR THE THOMPSON - SCOVILLE MEDAL YESTERDAY Win the Davis Cup from The Hams' Spring Trip. The twenty-third annual match for the Thompon-Scoville medal between the Toronto and Suffalo clubs was played in the Huron-street ink yesterday and resulted in a victory for the Sanadian curiers. This gives Toronto 15 victories to Buffalo's 8. After the match the two clubs sat lown to dinner in the Victoria Club, President T. fcGaw in the chair. There, was much witty peaking, the jolly brithers recounting their nany happy resulons, victories and defeats. The suffalo curiers will leave for home this morning University Benefit in the Pavilion.

The University Iderary Society were at a financial loss by the recent fire of upwards of a thousand dollars, many borrowed articles such as flags and decorations, being destroyed. To raise a portion of this the College Glee Club will give a benefit in the Pavilion next Tuesday evening. The students are selling tickets at a great rate. No person refuses who is approached. The program will be a good one. pearing.

PRINTERS ON STRIKE. David Bell, John Walls, The union printers employed on The St. Catharines Journal are on strike because the proprietor of that paper decided to use plate news matter. The Gazette of that city proprietor of that paper decided to use plate news matter. The Gazette of that city makes these sensible remarks: "The strike in The Journal office is another illustration of the folly of employes trying to be mechanics and employers at the same time. The employes of The Journal office have no grievance against Mr. Montgomery, who has for months been paying them more than he could afford. He is under no obligations to them—on the contrary it is unmanly on their part, in a time of depression like the present, to expect him to pay out more than the revenue of his office will warrant. When a newspaper proprietor of limited means employing labor has to struggle under the pressure of hard times and weekly pay wages, he often is poorer than the men he pays. More than that, he has to endure the worry an vexation of the business, meet his bills, cater to the public, and, what the men seem to think a secondary consideration, support his own family. The idea of printers striking in a city like St. Catharines because an employer endeavors to run his paper within his means is preposterous. If they don't like it let them give notice like honorable men and go elsewhere, if their services are so indispensable as to enable them to dictate terms. Strikes are rarely beneficial to the strikers, and when directed against a man comparatively poor in this world's goods, and who has struggled to identify himself with their interests, they are simply despicable. Instead of helping themselves, these men are doing their best to kill the goose that laid the golden eggs for them. An employer who would shomit to being compelled to keep a certain staff of hands and run his office according to the ir dictation would be a born fool. Mr. Montgomery is being shamefully used by men whom he liked and trusted implicitly. When will men learn to think for themselves and not be led away by irresponsible demagogs?"

Next Week at this popular theatre the attraction will be "Siberla." When the late Bartley Campbell wrote the melodrama Nihillism was a question that comma anded the earnest attention of thinking people throughout the world. The dramatist cunningly utilized the subject in such a way that interest in the piece did not die out with the interest in the piece did not die out with the interest in the movement that inspired it. Humanitarianism, was the fundamental motive in the work. The struggless of the oppressors were vividly pictured in a romance which deant with the unbridled passions of the mobility and the retaliation of their victims. Much as Charles Dickeus showed in his "Tale of Two Cities" that the terrible French revolution grew out of the betrayal of a proper peasant girl, so Bartley Campbell illustrated by the some cause, in both works a sister's very gence is the prime factor. The New York was such a lover as might readily win the lies to shore a girl as Sara; and Eleanor Moretti realized the popular idea of adaunties but nevertheless loving and lovable young woman whose solicitude for her sister makes her an exile."
