THE PET LAMB.

Do all the little readers of DEWDROPS know the verses about Mary's little lamb "that followed her to school one day"? If not, I must tell you of them and what became of the lamb.

It used to follow its little mistress to school every day, and would even come into the school-room and lie down at Mary's feet. Of course this made "the children laugh and play, to see a lamb in school." So then the teacher put him out. But that did not make him cross. He stayed in the school yard and frisked about until Mary appeared. Then he ran up to her and bobbed his little tail, so glad was he to see her again. He was a very affectionate lamb and Mary loved him very much. But like all other lambs he grew old and died. Mary cried and felt very badly. Before he was buried they cut the wool off his back and had it spun into nice yarn, which Mary's mamma knit into warm stockings for her. Years after when Mary became an old lady, she unravelled the stockings and wound the wool on small cards, which were sold for charitable purposes as souvenirs of "Mary's little lamb."

LITTLE MISS FLUGGY.

Miss Fluggy was a little girl who, like Miss Muffet, was easily frightened. You remember how little

Miss Muffet was sitting on a tuffet;
When there came a big spider,
Who sat down beside her,
And frightened Miss Muffet away.

Well, little Miss Fluggy was frightened by a very small insect also, though it was not a harmless spider.

Little Miss Fluggy and her brother, Buggy,
Sat on the lawn drinking tea,
When up to them flew a small bee.

Oh, dear! this wee thing! does he sting, does he sting?
I pray you, do tell me! does he?
