

We also used injections of salt solution. I believe the benefit from these injections was more lasting than from those of serum. Antiphlogistine was applied over hip, lumbar nerves and sciatic nerve. This agent (Antiphlogistine) was our mainstay in the treatment of both lungs besides. The abdomen became as large as before confinement, hard and resonant on palpation. Antiphlogistine was therefore spread all over the abdomen. I know of no preparation that has been brought to the attention of the profession of late years deserving of higher praise in all inflammatory conditions, no matter in what locality such may be seated. WINTER COUGHS.—It is in the chronically congested state of the bronchial, tracheal and pulmonary mucous membranes, attended by hypersecretion of mucus, that Angier's Petroleum Emulsion is of special value. The expectoration becomes more free, the pulmonic congestion is relieved, the respiration is easier, the troublesome cough is checked. The sputum is altered, it becomes less viscid, more freely expectorated and loses its fetid and purulent character. The sensation of dryness and irritation in the throat and chest are relieved. Angier's Petroleum Emulsion is a natural sedative lubricant, which also adds vigor and tone to the system.
