YOUNG MEN.

ANYTHING that will teach and instruct young men in the ways of wisdom, virtue, and righteousness, is of great importance and value. Hence, we say to young men, If you wish to make your mark in the world, to be respected by the truly respectable, to acquire a competence of the things of this world, to rise to honor and usefulness in life, to be men in the best sense of the word, to enjoy the favor of God and good men, and to have a well-cherished memory and a blessed destiny, then observe these rules:

Hold integrity sacred.
Observe good manners.
Endure trials patiently.
Be prompt in all things.
Make few acquaintances.
Pay your debts promptly.
Lie not for any consideration.
Yield not to discouragements.
Join hands only with the virtuous.
Dare to do right; fear to do wrong.
Watch carefully over your passions.
Respect the counsel of your parents.
Fight life's battle bravely, manfully.
Question not the veracity of friends.
Keep your mind from evil thoughts.
Consider well, then decide positively.
Never try to appear what you are not.
Sacrifice money rather than principle.

Go not into the society of the vicious.
Use all your leisure time for improvement.

Attend carefully to the details of your business.

Injure not another's reputation in business.

Do your duty to God and man.

Take the word of God for your guide.

Live in all things for a heavenly destiny.
