It Saved His Life.

GENTLEMEN,—I can recommend Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, for it saved my life when I was about six months old. We have used it in our family when required ever since, and it never fails to cure all summer complaints. I am now fourteen years of age.

FRANCIS WALSH, Dalkeith, Ont.

"Don't be afraid of the water," says a leading up-town doctor. "Taken moderately it is refreshing. It is the gulping too much of it that is ruinous."

No Time Like the Present for seeking medicinal aid when what are foolishly called "minor ailments" first manifest themselves. There are no "minor" ailments. Every symptom is the herald of a disease, every lapse from a state of health should be remedied at once, or disastrous consequences are likely to follow. Incipient dyspepsia, slight costiveness, a tendency to biliousness, should be promptly counteracted with Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Great Blood Purifier, and the system thus shielded from worse consequences.

Quimby thinks that an ocean greyhound should be horkrigged.

There is no Evaporation or Deterioration in strength about Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. The ingredients of this incomparable anti-rheumatic and throat and lung remedy are not volatile, but fixed, pure imperishable. Pain, lameness and stiffness are relieved by it, and it may be used with equal benefit externally and internally.

The man you meet going down hill was at one time higher than you are.

Four Years in Sawyerville.

"For four years I had pimples and sores breaking out on my hands and face caused by bad blood. Medicine from the doctor was tried without avail, but after using two bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters I am well." MISS MADEL LINDSAY, Sawyerville, Que.

For coughs, colds, bronchitis and all lung and throat troubles, there is no preparation of medicine can compare with Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup. It never fails to afford prompt and permanent relief. It removes all soreness, and heals the diseased parts. It immediately soothes the most troublesome cough, and by promoting expectoration, removes the mucus which stops up the air tubes which causes difficulty in breathing, thereby gives relief to that depressing tightness experienced in the chest. Public speakers and singers will find Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup of incalculable value, as it speedily and effectually allays all irritation and huskiness in the throat and bronchial tubes, and gives power to the vocal cords, rendering the voice clear and sonorous. If parents wish to save the lives of their children, and themselves from much anxiety, trouble and expense, let them procure a bottle of Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup, and whenever a child has taken cold, has a cough or hoarseness, give the Syrup according to directions.

The man who keeps still when he hasn't anything to say is a public benefactor.

tried in vain. It has the rare merit of being direct—common-sense—based on scientific truth, and supported by practical experience and accomplished success.

And it is as necessary for the cure of the other diseases of the air passages and lungs—Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma and Pneumonia—as it is for Consumption.

The ordinary routine treatment by the stomach, generally employed by physicians, has never accomplished anything in these diseases beyond the most temporary relief. It has not save one case out of every million so treated. The history of the disease, the authority of medical teachers all over the world and the universal experience of mankind unite in proclaiming its utter worthlessness as a remedy for lung diseases. Instead of helping the patients to get well, it makes their death certain, by preventing them from adopting the only course which could save them.

The sooner the people could understand this the better it will be for themselves. Every lung case requires for its proper treatment the patient to be surrounded by a zone of medicated air, and every breath he draws made to bear a healing balm to the lungs, or no cure will result. This is accomplished without the least discomfort or interference with business.

The author of this pamphlet was the first to introduce this treatment. He had made it the study of his life and had greater experience in its application than any living physician, and accomplished by its cures in every stage and form of lung complaint, and is therefore justified in proclaiming it of the importance of life itself to all afflicted with weak or diseased lungs.

Since resuming practice it is pleasant to be remembered by old and valued friends, many of whom have owed their lives for the past twenty years to the curative efficacy of his inhalations. It is his aim and purpose to make Toronto the head and source of everything pertaining to the treatment of Throat and Lung Diseases by Medicated Inhalations for the Dominion.

Activity in London Streets.

The thing that most astonished me about London, and that I had been least prepared to see there, was the amazing activity in the streets. A New-Yorker born and bred, who has seen the principle American cities, fancies that there can be nothing in the world like Fulton Street and Broadway. But after one hour on foot in London he will regard that heart of New York's traffic much as a turbulent old sailor I heard of regarding a twenty-two calibre revolver. "What are you going to do with that pea-shooter?" he asked. "Nobody would be afraid of that. Stand off a bit and fire at me a few times till I see what it will do. Now, if you happened to have a knife about you and felt saasy, I'd feel afraid of you."

London is full of Fulton Streets and Broadways, and at them and in all the other streets the cabs and hansom fly about in such a hot and apparently reckless way that I always felt while I was there that the only reason I did not read of a hundred thousand "runover" accidents every morning in the papers was that it would be doing violence to the organic principles of the London press to print the news. I confess I was more than half afraid to cross the crowded streets, and with a fear which is engendered in New York in few places and on few occasions. I was assured by the citizens that they are all accustomed to project their coat tails at right angles to their bodies, and to invoke divine aid between the flying hoods of horses, whenever they need to cross a street, that they are as adept at it as an American lightning-rod man is at dodging missiles. Let I observed that Dickens, in Sketches of London, thinks it worth to suggest that the only way to go from curb to curb is to make up your mind what course you will take and then stick to it, because then the London cabbies will divine your intentions. To change your mind while en route is to confuse the cabman, and cause you to make your return journey to America in the form of freight. Then, again, I found that in the western end of the Strand—that is, down by Temple Bar and the Law Courts—200 more or less mangled bodies are sent to the Charing Cross Hospital every year.—[Julian Ralph, in Harper's Weekly.]

Catarrh

Is a blood disease. Until the poison is expelled from the system, there can be no cure for this loathsome and dangerous malady. Therefore, the only effective treatment is a thorough course of Ayer's Sarsaparilla—the best of all blood purifiers. The sooner you begin the better; delay is dangerous.

"I was troubled with catarrh for over two years. I tried various remedies, and was treated by a number of specialists, but received no benefit until I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. A few bottles of this medicine cured me of this troublesome complaint and completely restored my health."—Jesse M. Boggs, Holman's Mills, N. O.

"When Ayer's Sarsaparilla was recommended to me for catarrh, I was inclined to doubt its efficacy. Having tried so many remedies, with little benefit, I had no faith that anything would cure me. I became emaciated from loss of appetite and impaired digestion. I had nearly lost the sense of smell, and my system was badly deranged. I was about discouraged, when a friend urged me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and referred me to persons whom it had cured of catarrh. After taking half a dozen bottles of this medicine, I am convinced that the only sure way of treating this obstinate disease is through the blood."—Charles H. Maloney, 113 River st., Lowell, Mass.
