

DOTS AND DASHES.

[BY CALESTIGAN.]

So the great political storm is over; the struggle between loyalty and covert treason has been decisive, and the G. O. M. is to continue to rule over the destinies of Canada (the brightest jewel of the imperial crown).

The result of the late elections is a full vindication of Canada's loyalty and an emphatic protest against the dastardly Iscariots who, under the guise of reform, free trade and evangelical clap-trap, would have sold us body and soul to the hydra-headed political Mephistophiles "Uncle Sam."

To all Grits, Rielites and others of "that ilk" we would bid a final adieu! with the fervent wish "Requiescat in pace."

To our late liberal friendly opponents we wish to tender the right hand of fellowship as eager, earnest co-workers under the G. O. M., Sir John Macdonald, in the building-up a great, glorious and moral nation, a position we could never hope to attain if attached to the skirts of the neighboring republic.

That the integrity of the empire has been endangered we never had a fear, but that the honor and loyalty of this country have been aspersed by at least one of her doughty knights is too true to be ignored.
