ST. PAUL'S CHURCH, TORONTO.

A meeting of the Clergyman and Congregation of this Church was convened on Tuesday last, at three, P. M., for the purpose of organizing a Parochial Branch of the Church Society of this Diocese. The business of the day was preceded by Evening Prayer, after which a series of Resolutions, which we subjoin, was introduced and adopted in the usual manner. The Incumbent was assisted by several of his brother clergy, whose names appear below attached to the Resolutions. The speeches delivered on the occasion were many of them of a high order, and were all calcalated to do much good. It was especially encouraging to observe the interest evidently manifested in the undertaking by those of the laity who took part in the management of the proceedings. Some of the clearest, most forcible, and most practical remarks made on the occasion were made by the laity, and with an earnestness of manner that plainly showed est comforts and encouragements which they can en- been mooted before the last general election, the joy, to receive from the laity a zealous and hearty Government should appeal to the country on the co-operation in promoting the welfare of that Holy measure." Little or nothing beyond the annual collections has been hitherto done by St. Paul's Church towards the support of our invaluable Church Society; but it is confidently hoped that the stract of proceedings we are indebted to the Globe, recent establishment of the Parochial Association will prove the dawn of a brighter era, and lead to a much very full, and got up, apparently, with much care. better state of things. It is not doubted that, with God's favour and help, the general purposes of the Parent Society will be more effectually forwarded, and the local wants of St. Paul's Church more adequately

The following are the Resolutions which were adopted :--

Moved by HENRY JESSOPP, Esq., seconded by Rev. W. S. DARLING

Resolved 1. Whereas by the Constitution of the Incorporated Church Society of the Diocese of Toronto, provision has been made, not only for District Auxiliary Branches, but also for Parochial Associations; and as it s the opinion of this Meeting that the efficient operation of The Church Society depends, in a very great degree, upon the number and the vigour of its Parochial Branches; it is expedient, therefore, that there be now established a Parochial Association in connexion with this church, to be denominated, "The Parochial Association of St. Paul's

That this Parochial Association shall be open to all the parishioners, and that the payment of any sum, however small, shall qualify a person to be a member of the same; and that all contributors be allowed to General, cont specify the object, where they desire it, to which their subscriptions or donations shall be applied.

THE LATE HENRY BALDWIN, ESQ.

It was with deep regret that we discharged the painful duty of noticing in our last number, the death of Henry Baldwin, Esq., of the town of Belleville.

He was a brother of the late Dr. Baldwin, of Toronto, sorrow amongst all classes, at his death which took place on the morning of the 7th ult.

There are indeed few amongst us whose absence will be more felt; strict in the performance of every duty mposed upon him by his station, liberal and humane to the poor to the extreme limit of his means, preserving to his death that freshness of feeling and manner seldom found in those who have proved the chances and changes of this world, as has been his lot to do, he has left behind him a universal feeling of affection for his memory which will long be cherished.

The Church of which he was a sincere and earnest nember, has lost in him a generous friend and one whose place cannot be filled. To his family all that can be offered is the general sympathy in their affliction that we know is felt in every class of our inhabitants, and by none more than the family and sufferers whose sorrow is the best incense to the memory of the dead .- Communicated, J. CONCERT FOR ST. GEORGE'S CHURCH.

We have heard with much satisfaction that Mrs. Ettrick, following the example of Mrs. Beverly Robinson, purposes giving a concert next Thursday, the proceeds of which are to be applied to procuring a suitable organ for St. George's Church. The programme is most promising, the pieces being judiciously selected, and the amateur performers comprising the musical talent of Toronto. > "DIED .- At the Parsonage, Weston, River Humber, on the morning of Tuesday last, January 23rd, the Rev. Thomas Phillips, D.D., in his 68th year.

"The respected divine, whose decease is recorded in the above paragraph, was born at Newton Grange (the homestead of his parents), near Monmouth, England, on the 27th August, 1781. He received his education at the Birmingham Grammar School, endowed by the Royal Edward of pious memory; and among the masters of that institution, at the period the deceased was a student there, was the Rev. Rann Kennedy, now of Greek-letter celebrity. Upon leaving Birmingham High School, Mr. Phillips was entered of Queen's College, Cambridge, where he graduated and, subsequently in due course, took his Divinity degree. Formany years Dr. Phillips conducted a private classical academy at Whitchurch, (Herefordshire,) a retired but beautiful village, situated on the ro-mantic banks of the River Wye, nearly midway between the town of Ross (immortalised by Pope in his well known lines apostrophizing the 'Man of Ross,') and the city of Monmouth; while, in connection with his scholastic emloyments, he discharged the duties of an adjoining curacy or many years, much to the satisfaction of his parishioners In 1825, Dr. Phillips emigrated to Toronto, to fill the important office of Head Master of the Royal Grammar and Home District School, to which he had been appointed by Lieut. "On the establishment by Lieut. Governor Sir John Colborne, in 1830, of Upper Canada College, the Royal Grammar School was merged into the new institution, whereof Dr. Phillips received the appointment of Vice Principal, which he held until the close of 1834, when he resigned that office to enter upon the more congenial and tranquil duties of elerical employment, as Rector of the united parishes of Etobicoke and Mimico. Dr. Phillips shortly afterwards established his residence at Weston, where he has ever since lived ;- there his last breath was drawn, and there, within the precincts of his favourite churchyard, his remains are to be interred.

"Dr. Phillips was emphatically a good man. The writer of this notice has, for the full quarter of a century, enjoyed intimate opportunities of appreciating his many excellent qualities; and he can truly say, that a more ingenuous, single-minded, and amiable character he never knew. The sketch which Goldsmith has left in his 'Deserted Village' of a Parish Priest, might well pourtray im to whose memory this feeble tribute is now offered. Indulgent almost to a fault as regards the foibles and weaknessess of others, he nevertheless possessed much decision of character, and a most patient fortitude. ligiously scrupulous in regard to his duties as the Minister of 'Christ crucified,' he was equally particular in the per formance of his obligations as a member of society. his domestic circle he was beloved-by his parishi his domestic circle he was beloved—by his parishioners he was respected—bis pupils cherish his memory, and his friends lament his decease. His life was usefulness—his end was peace; and if a 'lively faith,' as illustrated by 'good works,' can afford any assurance to the sincere Christian to 'read his title clear' to immortality, we may trustingly hope that our dear departed friend has left this world for a better."—Patriot..

[Observe the Writer's inconsistency. First he properly enough qualifies his expressions "R. C. Bishops of Montreal and Quebec," and the "R. C. Now it is all along taken for granted in these instances that every well-informed protestant (and every protestant editor ought to be well informed in his protestantism) holds the three creeds as fixed and undoubted principles: hence it is taken for granted that he ought to see and know that the term "Catholic" he ought to see and know that the term "Catholic" is not synonimous with "Popish" or "Romanist." But it is as a synonyme for "Popish" or "Romanist" that we see it continually used; and it is in this way that the writer above quoted uses it. This is the evil which these "Instances" aim at abating. It is desirable that protestants should exhibit intelligence in their employment of phrases and words, and not stultify themselves, by seeming to acquise in the continuous of the second s to acquiesce in the anathema of excommunication which Romanists have pretended to pronounce upon them.—By refusing the appellation "Catholic," and attaching it par excellence to those who of all the Christian denomina-

THE RULE OF FAITH.

DEAR SIR,-When I saw the first of the two late commucations of H. C. C., on "the Bible the sole Rule of Faith." deeply sorry as I was to see so unscriptural a tenet again advocated in The Church paper, I restrained myself,-but since the defence of the same error is continued, and without any warning voice hitherto being raised, either by yourself or any of your correspondents, I must beg the insertion of a few words.

I would, however, first offer as my apology for again interfering in this question, my deep conviction that the error of supposing that the Bible is our sole authoritative guide in matters of faith, is the destruction of genuine humility, and the fruitful source of spiritual pride and religious division, and that, pure religion. It is, with me, I assure you Mr. Editor, no m war of words: I tremble lest the upholders of this error should be found "building wood, hay, stubble" upon the Gospel foun-

H. C. C., and too many of the same school, continually argue (I hope it is in ignorance) as though scriptural Churchmen taught that there was another Rule of Faith apart from, and independent of, the Bible. Once more I assure him that they do no such thing: they hold the truth of God to be necessarily one and always the same. What we do believe is this but that the certain unfolding of those truths and their saving application, is by the Spirit of the Father and the Son. through His Body the Church. We consequently further believe that the teaching of this trinity must always be identical, even as the will of the Divine Trinity from whom it comes is necessarily one. In this view, then, the Bible may be said to be the sole rule of faith, inasmuch as it contains the entire foundation of all faith, but it is our guide in the things of God only in its nnection with the Spirit and the Church. belief of scriptural Churchmen, as I, at least, understand it.

ecting the office of God's Holy Written Word. In proof of cotton and silk goods invoiced 3,500,000f. the belief of scriptural Churchmen, as I, at least, understand it, of its correctness, I once more offer the following hints:

1st. Facts prove that the Bible cannot be the only guide or rule" in the interpretation of its own truths. Men-we trust many of them holy men-have always differed in its interpre 2dly. The error of which H. C. C. is unhappily so strenuous an advocate is of modern date. Not only has the Catholic Church ever insisted upon connection with itself as ordinarily necessary to salvation, but we believe that every particular sect that arose about the time of the Reformation, maintained the same principle. Now, without entering upon an elaborate argument to prove our assertion, we may at least assume that one ground of this so universal tenet, was their belief in the necessity of the Church's guidance in order to sure salvation.

3dly. The Bible itself, as I have before stated in your paper, teaches more strongly the duty of submission to the authority and guidance of the visible Church, than it does even to that of its own inspired pages. It is the Church alone that is called "the pillar and ground of truth," and of it alone is it commanded that if even a brother rejects its authority, he is to become to us as "an heathen man and a publican."

An attempt is made to array the authority of our own branch of the Catholic Church in opposition to these firm grounds of the truth. But all glory to Him who, as the Head, Protector, and Illuminator of His Church, walks in the midst of the seven golden candlesticks,—the attempt is vain! Our Church insists strongly upon the authority of the Bible, and she does blessedly well in so doing. The Bible is a Divine rule of practical godliness ever within our reach, and never in danger of being seriously misunderstood by those who, from time to time, humbly and joyfully receive the Holy Spirit's instruction through His Church thereon. Again, the Bible was that portion of our three-fold guide which papal heresy had long cast iuto the shade; it was, therefore, holy wisdom in our fathers largely to iosist upon its co equal importance as our teacher and guide; thereby placing in our hands, if rightly used, a preventive against our being again missled by the wicked or ignoran teaching of any section of the Church. For, as there can be no disagreement in the teaching of the Spirit, the Church and the Written Word, so whenever any section of the Church Mr. McFarlund moved to refer the removal of the district town of Niagara to a select committee. After some discussion town of Niagara to a select committee. After some discussion to guide His Church into "all truth," and to make it "the pillar and ground of truth," was made to the entire Church, one in Christ, and not to any individual section thereof, more especially if in schism. Let it also be further remarked, that though a Paul would not be safe in entrusting his spiritual guidance to his own interpretation of the Written Word, that yet a babe in Christ may be able to discern when the doctrines of any corrupt portion of the Church are in positive contradic-
