The "No Rent" Manifesto and How it is Obeyed.

The tenants on the Fortfergus estate, belonging to the Hon. Julia S. Ball, have refused to pay any rent until Mr. Parnell and the suspects are released.

The tenants of H. Biddulph, Esq., attended at the agent's office, Birr, for the purpose of paying their rents. On being refused a 10 per cent reduction they left in a body without paying.

Upwards of 50 tenants on the estate of William Nally, Esq., Rockstown, attended in Balla for the purpose of making an arrangement with the landlord, who offered them 25 per cent on all rents due up to last November, which they refused.

The tenantry on the estates of Sir George E. O'Donell and Captain Howe Knox met, by appointment, their respective agents, Mr. Edwin Thomas and Mr. Darley, at Newport. A 30 per cent reduction be refused they left in a body without paying.

On Monday, Mr. Pidgeon, agent of Dr. Stoney, of Frankford, King's County, came to receive the years rent due in November. None of the tenants approached the effice, and it is stated they do not intend doing so till the suspects are released. The tenants on the estate of J. C. Bonnett,

Bennett's Court, Queenstown, waited on their Iandlord last week, and offered the valuation, which he declined to accept, but stated he would consider the matter. He did so, and accepted it the following day. The farmers in the Clonmel district still refuse to pay rent. A black flag inscribed, "Pay No Rent," is floating from the summit of Cullohill Castle, on the border of the county Tipperary, and all the efforts of the police to pull it down are unavailing.

Mr. Donat Sampson, Stephen's-green, Dublin, who owns a large property near Scariff, in the county Clare, attended at Killaloe on Tuesday to receive his rents. Only four out of about 50 tenants attended; they refused to pay any rent until the suspects were libera-

The tenants on the estate of Mr. Ronsyne. Anne Brook, Queenstown, have sent the following letter to their landlord .- " We, the tenants on your estate here, beg to say that we will pay no rent whatsoever until Mr. Parnell and his colleagues are released, and then only a fair rent."

Captain E. P. Stewart, agent of Viscount Valentia, attended at Rathangan to receive the rents of his lordship's county Kildsre tenants. A deputation of his tenants waited on him and tendered their rents, less 30 per cent., but being refused any abatement, they, with one exception, declined to pay.

Mr. Galgey, of Cork, waited on the tenants on his property at Cooldaniel, in Macroom, for the purpose of receiving rent. The tenants met him in a body, and asked what reduction he was prepared to give them. Mr. Galgey replied that he would allow them fifteen per cent. The tenants required thirty per cent, and left without paying any rent.

Mr. Townsend, agent of Mr. Stewart, waited on the tenants of Annahaly and Inchasine, at send would duly allow them 10 per cent. They would not accept it, and did not pay any rent. It appears that the majority of these tenants possess what are known as a forced leases."

Mr. W. H. Cleary, of Douglass, Cork, attended on Friday, at Mill street, to collect rents from the tenants of his different properties. The tenants in each case came together, and made an offer of what rent they thought their lands were worth. The landlord refused this offer; whereupon the tenants did not pay a penny, but went home with their money.

The tenants of Captain Chester attended on the agent, Mr. P. W. Creagh, at Mallow, and were offered 15 per cent by him which would not be accepted by them, but demanded 20 per cent., and for which they asked for one week's time to pay the amount, and next morning the tenantry on the estate were served with letters to pay the half year's rent, together with the running gale. The tenants met the law agent at his office, and tended their rents, accepting the 15 per cent reduction, which would not be accepted without 10s 2d costs in each case. The tenants did not understand paying this claim, and again accordingly they left without pay-

Within the last few days the tenants of several landlords in the South Riding of Tipperary have endeavoured unsuccessfully. to come to terms with the representatives of the lords of the soil. The tenants of Lord Clonmel in that district waited on his lordship's agent at Hearn's Hotel, Clonmel, and offered the rent, with a reduction of 30 per cent. The agent proposed, on his own responsibility, to take a reduction of 15 per cent. The tenants reduced their demand to 20 per cent., and, this not being accepted, they left without paying anything. The tenantry on the Tinhalla property, in response to a request from the local agent, Mr. Octavus Mansfield, solicitor, Kilsheelan, attended at the Bessborough Arms Hotel, Carrick-on-Suir, and offered their rents at a reduction of 25 per The agent offered 20 per cent, reduction, which was refused, the tenants declaring that even this left the rents exorbitant. The tenants of the Gurteen la Poer property met their agent, Captain de la Poer, Kilsbeelan, at Winchester's Hotel, Clonmel, and offered to pay their rents if a reduction of 20 per cent were allowed. The agent undertook to communicate their views to his principal, Count de la Poer, who is at present on the Continent. Tipperary.

ORDINATIONS.

His Lordship Mgr. Fabre, Bishop of Montreal, officiated at the ordinations held at the Cathedral on the 30th of November last, when the Tonsure was conferred upon Mr. T. THE VIENNA HOLOCAUST.

VIENNA, Dec. 12.-A correspondent writes The bodies of 126 victims of the disaster at the Ring Theatre were interred at the Central Friedhef yesterday by their friends. To day 161 were placed in the vast common grave that before it closes will have received the iew charred remains and ashes of 700 more of the victims. Of those now nuried only 125 have been identified. The rest are unrecognizable by their friends and relatives. This is best, for the memories of the loved departed are happier than they would have been otherwise. The vast excavation is 108 feet long by 14 wide, with three openings for lowering the coffins. It will be the last resting place of all, irrespective of their contessions Catholics, Protestants, Greeks and Jews. All rest together as they found death together. Twenty thousand people had walked the long four or live miles to the great cemetery in Vienna. Some places of business were closed, and black flags were suspended in front of the Cathedral of St. Stephen and from the large public buildings. Before the ceremony at the Friedhof a solemn requiem Mass was held at nine o'clock in the Cathedral of St. Stephen. There many members of the Imperial family attended. The Crown Prince, Austria's future Emperor, was deeply affected; his eyes were filled with tears, and he was crying bitterly. Seeing an old man, apparently a workman, who was in great grief hold one of the pillars for support, the Crown Prince went to him and held the poor mun's hand for a long time. The ceremony at the Central Friedhof commenced at eleven o'clock. The coffins were lowered, one after the other, into the great grave where they were received by dim figures down in the gloomy vault and placed beside each other in long rows. The Burgomaster cast the first handful of earth on the first coffin. Large crowds of mourners stood or knelt around the grave weeping bitterly. Among the poor old creatures, some were ready for the grave themselves. There were also strong workingmen who cried like children; young. girls who have lost brothers and lovers, and children who could hardly understand the grief around them. A poor old man and his wife came to me, imploringly, and asked: "Can you tell me where is No. 58?" I pointed to the number, and asked: " Did you lose anybody?" He burst out crying, and said: "My daughter; she went with a friend to the third gallery; the other came to us at seven, but she never returned home." Painful interest was caused by the eighth coffin, numbered 165. It was very small, apparently containing the body of a child, but in it were the remains of a once beautiful woman, the wife of the engineer. Her body was burned to a cinder, and she was only identified by the jewels she wore when she dressed for the theatre. One large coffin contained the bodies of two brothers who had been allowed by their parents to celebrate their birthday by visiting the theatre. They were found in the third gallery tightly clasping each other's necks. ENDORSED BY ALL.

ENGLAND AND ROME.

ENGLAND AND ROME.

The appointment of an English agent to the Vatican has been brought once more under the notice of the public. This time the matter assumes a more serious aspect than hefore. Mr. Errington, the agent in question, a Catholic and a member of rarliament, has arrived in Rome, and from direct information we learn that he is furnished with strongly recommendatory letters signed by Lord Granville. It is difficult to define his position or to assign him in a title in the abnormal state of the mission he is to fill. One assortion is, however, repeated with persistency, namely, that he shall remain in the Eternal City until further negotiations between the Vatican and England are concluded, and he, or a successor to him, be appointed "diplomatic agent" or "officious representative" of England to the Holy See.

agent, or "olicious representative" of England to the Holy See.

The news of Mr. Errington's arrival and the resumed reason of it have created a deep curlosity and a strong sensation amongst the Irish and English Catholics in Rome. The former, as we have reason to know, regard this approach of England with much suspicion. The time chosen for a renewal of diplomatic relations with the Vatican is a time of trouble for the English Government. The events occurring in Ireland, and the consequences which are likely to follow from them, have, in all probability, induced Mr. Gladstone to turn his eyes to the Papaby in the hope that he may win the Pontifi over to his side, and employ his influence as a kind of moral rolles force in add of the English rule in that unhappy conntry. Remembering the venom against the Papacy which Mr. Gladstone poured forth a few years ago in his 'Vatican' Decrees' and 'Vaticanism,' and the difficulty he might have in getting his new conversion accepted as sincere, his name and authority do not appear in the verbal or written commendations of Mr. Errington But we cannot imagine that Lord Grauville acted in this question without consulting his chief, and that, at least, the consent of the latter was given to the reheme. An assertion advanced in Italian Catholic journals to the effect that "this determination of the Cabinet of St. James' is a consequence of the visit of King Humbert to the Empsor of Austria, a visit which was not by any means an act of courtesy to Mr. Gladstone,' and had induced the latter to have a consequence of the visit of King Humbert to the Empsor of Austria, a visit which was not by any means an act of courtesy to Mr. Gladstone,' and had induced the latter to have a consequence of the visit of King Humbert to the Empsor of Austria, a visit which was not by any means an act of courtesy to Mr. Gladstone,' and had induced the latter to have a consequence of the visit of King Humbert to the Empsor of Austria, a visit which was not by any means an act of courtesy to Mr. Gladstone, and had induced the latter to have a consequence of the Cabinet of Mr. Errington The present state of belief, formerly very prevalent—that consumption is incurable—that it must run its course and terminate fatally. Probably no development in medical science has done more to disabuse men's minds of this preposterous error, that the benign results which stances and in various phases of lung and bronchial disease, this starling medicine has invariably been found to fully justify the opinion early formed of it by medical men. COMMERCIAL. WEEKLY REVIEW - WHOLESALE

MARKETS. The lengthened continuance of unsettled weather and impassable roads has had anything but an exhilirating effect on business and important transactions were scarce. Merchants are making the best they can, however, of the lull by writing up their accounts, and in some instances in preparing for the spring trade. Manufacturing industries remain busy and satisfactory reports concerning their prospects are given. Notes falling due are being promptly settled, and the outlook is still considered highly satisfac-

Day Goods .- Business in the city retail trade during the week has exhibited signs of energy, but not to the extent expected and hoped for by the merchants, who, to a great extent depend on this month's sales to clear out the stock and furnish the funds for spring supplies. Preparations are now being largely made for the spring trade, and the travellers of most of our city houses are out with supplies, and are beginning to send in a fair number of orders, mostly for Canadian Tweeds and Spring Cottens. American travellers have begun to arrive here with samples of spring cotton goods. During the coming season the prices of American spring goods are expected to be from 1c to ic higher than last, while English goods will be but very slightly, if at all, changed. The trade has been notified by some of the Canadian mills that they will to 34c; caustic soda, $2.35 to 2.50; take no orders except at the prices current at sugar of lead, 13c to 15c; bleaching the time of delivery. Remittances are up to powder, $1.40 to $1.60; alum, $1.75 to expectations. The volume of business for $2.00; copperas, 100 lbs., 90c to $1; flour the month of November was considerably sulphur, $2.90 to 3.25; epsom salts, $1.25 to smaller than for the same period last year, so some houses report.

GEOCERIES. - The city trade has brightened up somewhat during the week, but not to such an extent as the near approach of the holiday season would warrant, while a lack of country orders keeps business from being brisk. All the transactions that have taken place were in small lots, with no noticeable feature. Prices are not much changed. nuts, 10c; filberts, 10c to 11c. BOOTS AND SHORE .- The city trade is not very brisk, there not being anything like a good demand for any goods except felt, which are scarce. Manufacturers are remarkably busy on spring goods and some manufacturing houses are unable to ease of, ever while stock taking, which is fully advanced. Travellers with spring goods are getting a good number of orders, but in many instances this is reported to be the result of some manufacturers making a very unprofitable reduction in their prices. Losses during the season have been unusually light and remittances continue good. IRON AND HARDWARE .- Business in general hardware is on the whole quiet, nearly all of the trade being confined to filling mail sorting orders. A number of houses are occupying the time by taking and sorting their stock. Prices are very firm, in sympathy with the rise in the price of iron in England. This rise is to some extent accounted for by a recent cablegram which states that warrants have risen two shillings and also that decrease ol 35,000 tons is noted in stocks at Middlesbori. The fellowing are the prices quoted. The English market for heavy chemicals keeps remarkably firm. We quote Bi-carb soda at $3.10 to $3.20; soda ash, $1.50 to $2.00; bi-chromate of potash, 131c to 15c; borax, 15c to 16c; cream tarter crystals, 29c to 30c; ditto ground, 32c

$4.75. Fuss.-The supply has been somewhat better, but hardly so good as expected. Mink, beaver, racoon, marten and skunk have been on the market, the latter meeting with the readiest sale, owing to a demand from the retailers. Prices are about firm at :- Beaver. prime, per lb, $2 to 2 50; bear, per skin, $6 to 8 00; bear cub, $3 to 400; fisher, $5 to 7; fox, red, $1 to 1 25 fox, cross, $2 to 3 00; lynx, $1 50 to 2 00; marten, 1 00 to $1.25c; mink, $1 to 1 25; otter, $3 to 10 00; raccoon, 49c to 50c; skunk, 50c to 60c.

Figu. -The market is, as usual at this season of the year, very quiet, and prices are steady: Labrador herrings at $6.25 to 6.50. North Shore Salmon, $18 to $19 and $20 for Nos. 2, 3 and 1. British Columbia salmon. $16.50; No. 1 split herrings, $5.50 to $5.75 per brl; No. 2,$4; No. 1 half-brls, $3.25 dry cod, $4.75 to $5; green do, $5.25 to $5.50 for No. 1, $4 to $4.25 for No. 2; mackerel, No. 2, $6.00 to $6.50; No. 3, $5.25; salmon trout, $4.50.

Woor -In domestic descriptions there have been but a few small transactions noted, and these at former quotations. Although the stocks of the foreign article are anything but large several American manufacturers have, during the week, being purchasing a considerable quantity of fine foreign wool here. The prices quoted are :- Greasy Cape, 19c to 21c; Australian, 23c to 30c; Canadian pulled, A super, 33c to 34c; B super, 30c to 32c, and unassorted, 30c.

PRETROLEUM -The market is not active to this season of the year and prices are lower at 22 c for car lots; 23 c broken lots, and 24c to 25c for barrels. Hipps.-Dullness characterizes this market and prices are unchanged at $6 50, $7 50 and $8 50 for Nos. 3, 2 and 1 respectively; calfskins, 12c; sheenskins, $1 to $1.05. Oils .- Market quiet and prices unchanged at 45c for Newfoundland cod oil : steam re-

A Tonic Without Alcohol. Dyspeptics and those suffering from chronic diseases should read the following from Rev. John Gregory, pastor of the Wesleyan

Methodist Church, at Pittston, Pa. My DEAR SIR :- Having at various times personally, and in my own and other families, tested the great value of the medicine called PERUVIAN SYRUP OF Protected Solution of Protoxide of Iron, I most cheerfully recommend it, especially to those who are suffering from dyspeptic and nervous disorders. As a reliable and powerful alterative, it is, I think, unsur-1.40; sal soda, $1.10c to 1.25; saltpetre, per | passed; and as a tonic, free from all the obkey, $10 00; sulphate of copper, 5 to jectionable features of alcoholic remedies, it 7c; whiting, 55c to 60c quinine, $2.90; is a most efficient auxiliary to the temperance morphia, $2.50 to $2.65; castor oil, 10c to cause. One of the greatest hindrances to 10}; shellac, 42c to 45c; opium, $4.50 to the temperance reform at present is, as I think, the medical use of alcoholic stimulants. Whatever may be argued as to their necessity in certain cases, we have, in the PERUVIAN STRUP, a safe and efficient substitute for those dangerous remedies. This testimony is given unsolicited, with the hope that some one who is not yet acquainted with the valuable properties of the medicine may be induced to give it a trial.
