Mercantile Summary.

THE St. John lime trade is looking up. A large trade is expected between Boston and New York, by means of vessels, this season.

MR. DANIEL McLEAN, the well-known leather merchant of this city, leaves for the old country on the 18th inst. His mission is one of health-getting, combined with business. He will be absent two months. Another of our business men who leaves to cross the Atlantic is Mr. McKinnon, principal in the wholesale millinery firm of S. F. McKinnon & Co.

THE illustrated catalogue of goods manufactured by McDonald, Kemp & Co., of this city, is an attractive piece of work, tasteful as to printing and profuse as to illustration. The firm makes a great variety of tin and iron goods; its factory, as enlarged and equipped, is very complete and the variety of tin goods and japanned ware, metallic shingles, granite ware, wire goods, &c., is great.

We are accustomed to expect from the Philadelphia Record something very different from the sentiment enunciated in a recent issue, regarding the observance of the Sunday law in the States. It says:—The right to enjoy music and beer together, and to spend the afternoon and evening of Sunday in such recreation as may be found most pleasing, can not much longer be successfully denied either in New York or in other large cities.

ONE of the test cases likely to engage the early attention of the Inter-state Commerce Commission, is that of Dr. B. G. Field against the Pennsylvania Rail Road. Some years ago Dr. Field's father gave that road a quit claim for certain lands used by the road, taking in return a pass for himself and family for life. It is likely to prove, says the N. Y. Journalist, a nice point of law, if the commission has any right to order the railroad to repudiate a debt of this kind.
