My dear Principal,

The enclosed clipping from last evening's "Star" is of more interest than appears on the surface. Here, for example, is a case in point. Maurice Smith, of Winnipeg, an excellent student and one of the best students in Mathematics and Physics last year, made some inquiries during the summer and discovered quite correctly that the fees at Edinburgh are fifteen guineas, or about $62.00 Canadian money, per year and that he can obtain as good boarding and lodging facilities in Edinburgh for a guinea a week as he can in Montreal for $8.00 or $10.00 a week. The result is that he calculates, also quite correctly, that he can pay his transportation to and from Edinburgh and save about $150.00 a year.

this is correct according to calendar

that is in Pure Science 130 guineas

It would be interesting to know what might happen in the Maritime Provinces and elsewhere if the information became general that students can obtain a degree in Edinburgh, Glasgow and London for $150.00 a year less than they can in Canada. I do not think that this situation has very much bearing upon our
