

that Sea.—The Solide passes through Gaspar's Strait between the Islands of Banca and Billiton.—New Plan of the two Straits which present themselves between those Islands.—Those Straits preferable to that of Banca.—Navigation from Gaspar's Strait to the Isle of France.—Arrival at Port du Nord-Ouest (Port North-west) in the last-mentioned island.—Transactions there.	120
---	-----

CHAPTER IX.

DEPARTURE from the Isle of France.—The Solide touches at the Isle of Bourbon, now called the Isle of Réunion, in order to load there with coffee.—Run from that island to St. Helena.—Stay at this latter island.—Directions for anchoring in its road.—Various considerations respecting St. Helena.—Advantages of its situation, and of that of Gibraltar to the nation which occupies those two rocks.—Navigation from St. Helena to the Strait of Gibraltar.—The Solide returns to Toulon.—On the length of voyages round the World and the means which might shorten it.—Praises due to the owners of the ship, to the Captain, and to the officers.—Utility of the new methods for determining at sea the position of the ship.	161
P. S. SUCCESS of the Expedition	236

VOCABU-

VOCABU
Santa Archbi

VOCABU
west north

ADDITI
Ist. F
IInd. F

IIIrd. F

E

IVth. F
RESULT

longit the servin
the C of sa of se in t
the peri

Ist. R
Cap