APPEAL TO WOMEN TO BE PRACTICAL

Miss Knox of Havergal College Speaks of Sacrifices Being Made.

ARE COMING TO CANADA

Speaker Prophesied Great Amount of Emigration After War is Over.

That the women of Canada have a great part to play in this war, and that equally as much self-sacrifice is called for from them as from the men of this country was the substance of an address delivered by Miss Knox of Havergal College at the opening rally of the Young Women's Christian Association last night in the Y.W.C.A. Hall, McGill street.

At the outset, Miss Knox referred to the war and the relatively slight effect it had upon Canada as compared with other nations, and spoke of the enormous taxes with which the British taxpayer is burdened at the present time. She urged the girls to practice every practical work they could.

Miss Knox dealt with the change which had come over the young men of the country at the outbreak of hostilities. "Before the war," she said, "a young man wished for a good time and plenty of dollars, but the war effected a great change." All ideas of good times were cast aside, and they enlisted themselves because they knew their country was at stake.

The speaker declared that just as Canada is calling her men to do their bit for the empire, so she was calling to the women, and in this connection she spoke of the sacrifices which are being made by women in England. "Some of my own Canadian girls are doing household work, washing dishes in hospitals in the old country," she said.

Miss Knox said that after the war was over a great amount of emigration to Canada would occur, and it was then that they would need to be practical. She concluded by pointing out that Canada's great need after the war would be strong, clean, pure, God-fearing women.

An exhibition of physical drill given by a number of members of the gymnastic class of an excellent musical program were much appreciated by the large audience.

DUKE OF CONNAUGHT RETURNS FROM WEST

Commanding Officer Received Much Encouragement From His Visit.

By a Staff Reporter. OTTAWA, Sept. 23.—The Duke of Connaught will arrive in Ottawa tomorrow morning from the western provinces as commander-in-chief of his majesty's forces in Canada.

He has visited the various military camps, and reports that have reached here indicate that the commanding officers have received great encouragement and inspiration from the duke's visit.

ST. FRANCIS' CLUB RECEPTION. On Thursday evening last St. Francis' Literary and Athletic Association tendered a reception to their club members at a reception in their clubrooms to the members of their hockey and baseball teams, the former having been entered in the playoffs of the 1914-15, and the latter in the Don Valley League.

President Collins, in extending the freedom of the clubrooms to the boys, congratulated them on their showing in both branches of sport, and urged their continued efforts to bring honor to the association which they represent.

Coches McEwen, Foulds and Gough had a squad of 90 out for "Argos" tonight practice at Rosedale last night. Foster, Holmes and Patterson were very much on the job. Colin Simpson watched the workout from the sidelines and will likely don a uniform tonight. Jack O'Connor is expected back in the city before the end of the week.

Brophy and Davies, two backs, who played with the Beches last year, are showing some good work at Rosedale.

ONLY CERTAIN CLASS WANT A WINTER CAMP

So Said Sir Sam Hughes, When Asked About One in Toronto Last Night.

Gen. Sir Sam Hughes, who was in Toronto for a few hours last night, was asked by a reporter for The World if Toronto would be the winter headquarters for the soldiers. The general said: "There is only a certain class of people who want the soldiers here. It is time The Star and some of the other papers were getting something new."

The general said he had been inspecting the various military camps and that he was highly pleased with everything he had seen.

"Are you going to appoint any more honorary colonels, general?" the reporter asked.

"Have you any man that you could name?" was the general's retort. "If you can suggest a man to me I will give him name consideration."

For the accommodation of home-seekers and general tourist traffic to western Canada through train carrying tourist sleepers and colonist cars, further notice, running through to Winnipeg.
