that the people of Hamilton regard their own hilly obstruction. This is shown by the measure of success that a petition providing for the purchase of a stretch of land 65x165 feet, south of the C.F.R. tracks, is meeting with. The idea is to prevent the land being built upon, and the imposing spectacle of Wells' Hill obscured to the view. The property-owners propose to pay for the land themselves, and to use it as a park or play-ground. It is doubtful, however, whether the scheme will get enough support to carry it thru.
