WAS POISONED BY ARSENIC

That Is What Doctors Testify in the Sternaman Case.

Dr. Harrison, Who Made the Post Mortem Examination Along With Dr. Park, Repeated His Former Evidence—The Deceased Was Subject to "Spells"—Dr. Harrison Believes the Arsenic Was Administered in Buffalo.

Cayuga, Ont., May 5.—The court was again crowded at the continuation of the Sternaman murder trial before Chancellor Boyd. The witness called was Dr. Harrison, who, with the assistance of Dr. Park, made the two post mortem examinations. Dr. Harrison gave the same evidence which he had given at the last trial, and corroborated the testimony of Dr. Park. The carefully formed opinion of the witness was that death was caused by arsenical poisoning, and, as arsenic was found in the stomach by Prof. Ellis, it must have been administered shortly before death.

In cross-examination by Mr. Johnston, Dr. Harrison said that as a result of the first post mortem, and from the history of the case, he had come to the conclusion that the arsenic had been administered outside of the country. That view had been changed by the result of the analysis made by Prof. Ellis. Dr. Harrison said he had not preserved the contents of the stomach, which he had taken away to make his analysis. He denied he had thrown the material away, because his test had convinced him that arsenic was absent. He had been called away at the time to attend another case, and he had thrown the stuff out, because he had come to the conclusion that the less he had to do with the matter the better. He expected that another post mortem examination was to be made, and for this examination, when, no doubt, a careful and proper analysis would be made, there was sufficient of the contents of the stomach left in the body. At the time he made his imperfect test, he had come to the conclusion that the death of Sternaman was due to several doses of arsenic, taken consecutively, in Buffalo, during the first four weeks of the patient's illness. Dr. Harrison said that the vomiting of the patient on the night of his death might have been caused by a morphine tablet through its effect on the brain. At the conclusion of the post mortem he had told Dr. Park not to let the undertaker embalm the body in the meantime. He did not think that Prof. Ellis had by any means got all there was in the body. He would be inclined to think that, seeing that Prof. Ellis had found seven grains in the portions of the organs he had analyzed, there would be perhaps 70 or 80 grains in the body.

The Buffalo Deposition.

The Buffalo depositions were next produced by Mr. Osler, and Mr. Johnston gave notice of his objection to their admission. The evidence of Dr. Frost of Buffalo, who attended Sternaman at Buffalo, was in progress when court adourned for lunch.

Cross-Examination.

In cross-examination by Mr. Johnston, the witness said that during the four weeks of his attendance on George Sternaman his wife seemed devoted to him, and she was evidently astonished when the witness spoke of the possibility of arsenic. In saying to her that it looked like a case of arsenical poisoning, he also told her that the symptoms might come from some disease.

Sternaman Had "Spells."

He understood that Sternaman was subject to some peculiar illness or spells. In regard to these spells, he had been consulted about them before the marriage by the prisoner, and by her mother, Mrs. Sevenpiper. These spells were not preceded by any spasmodic convulsions, but he understood that this sufferer became unconscious during them. He regarded Sternaman as of an emotional and nervous temperament. He had never seen any of his writings that he was surprised at. They were all such as he would expect from a man of that temperament.

Chancellor Boyd: Have you ever seen any of his letters or writings?

Dr. Frost: Yes, sir, I have seen this letter spoken of, "To whom it may concern," since his death.

Chancellor Boyd: Is that the only one?

Dr. Frost: Yes, sir.

In regard to Sternaman's objection to going to the hospital, Dr. Frost said he regarded it as natural in such a man.

After the witness had reasoned and argued with him for three quarters of an hour, Sternaman consented to go, and his wife said he could go, but she would not go. He expected opposition to the hospital suggestion, and more particularly in such cases as this, where the wife had a considerable walk to reach the hospital, and had small children to look after.

The witness considered that chronic arsenical poisoning might be produced by one large dose.

It was from the prisoner herself that the witness had heard the rumors of the suspicious death of her first husband, Chipman.

Dr. Phelps in the Box.

Dr. William C. Phelps of Buffalo, who was called in by Dr. Frost in consultation on the Sternaman case, was next placed in the box. He corroborated the testimony of Dr. Frost with regard to diagnosing the case as one of arsenical poisoning.

When cross-examined by Mr. Johnston, he said that he would not like to say that arsenic had been administered in any case until a chemical analysis had made it evident that arsenic had been discovered in the body.

Dr. Saltsman Called.

Dr. Saltsman of Buffalo, who had been summoned to attend Sternaman after Dr. Frost's services had been dispensed with, testified that he had treated the patient for both multi-neuritis and atrophy of the liver. He had advised that he should be sent to the hospital, and opposed taking him to Canada in his weak condition, fearing that it might cost him his life.

Sternaman's Sister Testifies.

Mrs. Annie Franklin, a sister of the deceased man, who was present the night he died, testified that the prisoner had given him medicine after 12 o'clock.

In answer to Mr. Johnston she said she was not certain whether this medicine had been administered between 9 o'clock and 12 o'clock, as she had stated at the magistrate's trial, or after 12 o'clock. She was inclined to think her evidence at the magistrate's trial was right.

Other Medical Evidence.

Drs. Rich and Parmenter, who had examined Mrs. Ezra E. Chipman, the prisoner's first husband, during his last illness, deposed that death had resulted from multi-neuritis.

Dr. Sayles, who is also a druggist, of Buffalo, testified to the ease with which poisons could be procured in that city.

Dr. Langley, who had examined Sternaman for life insurance in April, 1896, testified that at that time he was perfectly healthy. His examination, however, did not cover the "spells" which he was supposed to suffer from.

An Insurance Man.

Henry C. Carshan, manager of the Metropolitan Life Company in Buffalo, deposed that that company had not paid to Mrs. Sternaman the value of the policy held in that company.

William C. Foster, secretary of the Carpenters' Union, stated that Sternaman was insured in that benefit society for $200, which would be paid to his heirs at his death, and during sickness he received $2 per week.

The evening session of the court was occupied with the reading of the depositions of Mrs. Sternaman, taken in Buffalo.

THE FARMERS' LOAN COMPANY.

The former cashier of the defunct Farmers' Loan and Savings Company has returned to the city, after an absence in Buffalo since the failure. Mr. Scott has made no attempt to conceal his identity and is stopping at his mother's residence, 91 St. Joseph-street.

When the Farmers' Loan failed and the facts came to light Manager Bethune and Accountant Pinkney left the city and Scott soon followed.

Proceedings are to be taken against the directors who are disputing their liability. They claim that they have not passed any dividends or made any loans and it is to aid in the prosecution of these cases that Mr. Scott has returned and says he will tell all that he knows of the matter.

A number of depositors yesterday made application for privileges to prove their claims, but before the four days allowed have expired the number will be substantially increased. The following applied yesterday: Messrs. Warring G. Kennedy, C. H. Cornell, W. H. Lampit, Thomas Sargent, the Misses Arksey, Mary E. Riddell, Mary Irwin, Mesdames M. Campbell and K. Siddall.

Truly Royal Send-Off.

An exceptionally pleasant party assembled at the Bodega dining rooms last evening for the purpose of tendering a complimentary dinner to Mr. R. C. Davison, who is leaving on Monday next for Australia. Mr. Davison was formerly associated with the Land Security Company, but has now taken a position with Messrs. Edmanson and Bates, proprietors of the celebrated Dodds Kidney Pills and other well-known remedies. It is the purpose of Mr. Davison to undertake the management of the Australian market for these proprietory medicines. The proceedings were under the direction of Dr. Harrington, and the various portions of the program will no doubt be stamped indelibly on the mind of the guest of the evening. Mr. Davison leaves Toronto with sincere wishes for his well being not only of those who were present last evening, but of a very large circle of acquaintances with whom he has ingratiated himself. Among those present at the dinner were: Dr. Harington, J. Madison, London; D. M. Walters, Belleville; D. B. Birrel, York Mills; William Bain, J. Reggin, J. A. Devaney, J. McKee, J. M. Lester, John Davison, E. Henderson, C. Henderson, R. J. McKee, W. Edmanson, Ira Bates, C. Smith, B. W. Day and Messrs. Wells and Marter.

Queer Case—No Quorum.

At 8 last night but half a dozen trustees had gathered at the School Board. Secretary Wilkinson was about to take the chair and count noses, when Chairman Burns appeared. By rule No. 24, a quorum must have assembled by 15 minutes after 8, or the meeting stands adjourned. By calling the roll it was found that only Trustees S. W. Burns, R. S. Baird, W. S. Lee, C. C. Norris, J. Hales, Dr. Noble, H. A. E. Kent, John Douglas, J. C. Clarke and W. H. Morgan were present. The board consequently had to adjourn. A special meeting will be held next Monday night to transact last night's business.

PUBLIC AMUSEMENTS.

At the Princess.

"The Mikado" continues to draw large houses at the Princess, and is pleasing its audiences. The opera, as presented by the Cummings Opera Company, is well worth hearing. There will be a matinee to-morrow, and the last performance will be given to-morrow night. "Erminie" will be the attraction next week and should meet with success. "Erminie" is undoubtedly one of the best of light operas and abounds in comedy. Fred Solomon will be seen as Cadeaux, the role he has made famous, and in which he received his first introduction to Toronto, many years ago. The staging of the opera, it is said, will surpass that of the original production seen here, and will be perfect in every detail.

Toronto Opera House.

The attraction announced for next week is the ever-popular Irish comedian, Dan McCarthy, who will present his own comedy drama, "The Dear Irish Home," which affords him better opportunities for the display of his versatility than any of the many other plays in which he has appeared. The sale of seats is now in progress, and "bargain matinees" will be given as usual on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

Mlle. Toronto's Home-Coming.

The concert in which Mlle. Toronta will make her appearance on Tuesday week will probably be the greatest success held this year in Massey Hall. The artists are all of them of the very front rank in their various capacities, and include Mr. Lavin, the tenor who sang so magnificently at the Sembrich concert in December; Mr. Bispham, the renowned baritone, who has so completely charmed our connoisseurs of the vocal art on more than one occasion, and Mr. Isadore Luckstone, one of the most finished pianists and accompanists in America. Mlle. Toronta has been winning fresh laurels in California, in company with Melba, and is now on her way home to Toronto. The subscribers' list already demonstrates the fact that the affair will be a very fashionable one and will probably be the most largely attended concert of this season. Subscribers will get their seats on Thursday morning next, the list being kept open until the day before.

"One of the Best."

The last production of "One of the Best" was a social event, at which a large number of people who live out of town were unable to be present, and for a portion of these, who come to the city for the Horse Show this week, the revival of the play at the Grand by the original cast on Monday night next will be in the nature of a treat. Many visitors to the equine tournament will remain here over Sunday and theatre parties at the performance of "One of the Best" on Monday night will be numerous. The plan of reserved seats is open at Nordheimers' music store, and the sale is progressing very briskly. The performance will be the testimonial benefit from the lieutenant-colonel and officers of the 48th Highlanders to Mr. Harry Rich, stage manager of "One of the Best."

WOMEN HISTORIANS.

Full-Blooded Mohawk Complains of the Government's Treatment of the Indians —Other Interesting Topics.

The Women's Canadian Historical Association held its regular meeting yesterday afternoon in the Canadian Institute. In the absence of Mrs. J. D. Edgar, the president, Mrs. James Bain occupied the chair. There were present: Misses Fitzgibbon, Mickle, Hellwell, Beard, Ellerby, Boyle, Rolph, Cox, Mesdames Small, Hamilton, Leigh, Walton, Armstrong, Totten, Lee and many others. The treasurer's report showed a fair balance to the credit of the society. Mr. and Mrs. Ajijatekha Brant-Sero, Brantford, were introduced to the society, and Mr. Sero spoke briefly of the Indian reserve at Brantford. Papers of much interest were read by Miss E. Yates Farmer and Miss Jean W. Barr. The former upon "The Six Nations Indians" and the latter upon "The Jesuit Pear Trees Along the Detroit River."

Treatment of Indians.

After Miss Farmer's paper, Mr. Sero, as a full-blooded Mohawk, gave his views upon the treatment of the Indians by the Government. He thought the Government did not treat the Indians as they should; the civilized redman was treated just as was the wildman in the west. "At Brantford reserve are 4000 Indians, 700 of whom are pagans. On the reserve are homes that have never been brightened by the presence of the missionaries," said Mr. Sero. "Though prohibition is supposed to be in force, there are forty-two drinking places," continued the gentleman.

Misses Helliwell, Farmer, Lawson, McMerrick and Logan were appointed delegates to attend the Ontario Historical Society meeting in Brantford on June 1. John Read, Q. C., was present, and urged a large attendance at this convention.

ARE THE SCHOOLS UNSANITARY?

Evidence Will Be Placed Before the Minister of Education To-Day—City May Pay Dearly.

Health Officer Sheard, after inspection, claims that Gladstone-avenue, Givens-street, Dewson-st., Clinton-st., Bathurst-st., Ryerson, Bufferin, and Kew Beach schools are greatly overcrowded, and in an unsanitary state. Dr. P. H. Bryce's report, along the same lines, but covering all the city schools, is nearly finished and is expected to be in the hands of the Minister of Education today. Dr. Bryce will not mince matters, but report unfavorably. The City Council will be asked to increase its grant of $106,000 by at least $20,000 to cover the expenditure necessary to provide fit and adequate accommodation.

Cheese Markets.

Chesterville, Ont., May 5.—At a meeting of the Cheese Board, held here this evening, 244 cheese were boarded, 53 of which were white, and the balance colored; 53 of white were sold at 8 1-16c, and 31 colored at 8 3-16c. The prospects for the board for this season are very bright.

Bad Policy and Bad Manners
Sensible people realize to-day, as they have never done before, the direct evil consequences of intemperance, physically and morally.
A man must be prudent nowadays; he must be self-poised, evenly balanced and have himself well in hand if he has any hope whatever of succeeding in business or winning respect in society. Common sense is rapidly becoming the great factor in solving the question whether a man should drink or not drink.
