THE TORONTO WORLD

ONE CENT MORNING PAPER.

No. 25 YONGE STREET, Toronto.

THE CASE OF THE CARTERS.

We are surprised that so energetic and intelligent an official as Commissioner Jones should have failed to understand and to give effect to the trades union policy that was recently adopted by the Council. That policy, as we understand it, excludes all citizens, except such as are members of a trades union, or such as employ union men, from tendering on any civic contract, or from doing any civic work. The union carters, who demanded a monopoly of cleaning the snow of the streets, have made out a good case. The tailors are not the only union men in the town, and they have no right to be privileged at the expense of the union carters, union carpenters and other union men. The Council cannot make invidious distinctions of this kind. A union carter has just as much right to a monopoly in shovelling civil snow as the union tailor has in making the clothing of the civic officials. It is the very essence of popular government that the law should be no respecter of persons. The Council must extend the same treatment to union carters that it extends to union tailors, and the carters should give the Mayor and aldermen to understand this. Trades unionism should be based on the introduction of a general law limiting all civic work to union men. And in order to see that the law is faithfully carried out, every citizen who wishes to be eligible for civic work should be compelled to file a union certificate when he settles his tax bill. The carters are right in demanding that there should be one law for all, excluding, of course, those who refuse to produce a certificate of membership in some union. These latter are heathens, and have no rights. The Council has already decided that. But in the meantime, what is the Council going to do with Commissioner Jones? The carters should demand his dismissal. Any civic official who willfully makes an invidious distinction between ratepayers should be dismissed. And there are others besides the carters who are acting on this idea when they come to cast their ballots next month.

THE PRICE OF BREAD.

The awarding of the contract yesterday for the supply of bread to the Isolation Hospital discloses the fact that the bakers of Toronto are charging extortionate prices. Under the contract that was accepted, bread is to be supplied to this institution at the rate of 6 1/2 cents per pound loaf. The baker who has received the contract charges 10 cents for the same loaf to his patron. The amount taken by the hospital is from 20 to 40 leaves a day, and it is delivered at the institution. The rate charged under the contract is about 40 per cent. less than the rate which the ordinary citizen has to pay his baker. It is quite evident from these figures that the public is being charged too much for bread. The price that prevails in other cities also goes to establish this fact. If bread can be supplied to the Isolation Hospital at 6 1/2 cents per loaf, the ordinary citizen should not pay more than eight cents as an outside figure.

BUREAU OF NEGLECTED CHILDREN.

The Bureau of Neglected and Deserted Children is charged with the administration of a good and laudable work, but the superintendent must not let his zeal run away with his common sense. The bureau is perfectly justified in assuming the guardianship of children that are abandoned and neglected, but it exceeds its authority when it forcibly keeps parent and child apart, when both are anxious to live together. Evidence that has been laid before the World goes to show that the bureau has been guilty of violating a law of nature that is superior to any legislative enactment. It will require some very serious offence to be proven against a mother to warrant her children being taken from her, or kept from her, when she shows her ability and willingness to take care of them. The World's exposure of the harsh methods pursued by the bureau has had the result of reuniting the members of one family separated by the bureau. We are sure that the Goderich one are being investigated.

SAVED AT LAST.

The Market Improvement Association is to be congratulated on the good stroke of business it accomplished yesterday. If it had not been for its activity the bylaw for raising funds for the improvement of the market would not be submitted to the electors at the municipal elections. The fact that tenders were submitted yesterday for doing the work specified in Aid. Denison's plan for less than $150,000 is pretty plain evidence that a deliberate attempt had been made to sidetrack the movement, by making it appear that the improvements would cost anywhere from three hundred thousand to half a million dollars. We believe that a market suitable for the needs of the city can be erected on the present site for $150,000, and we are satisfied when the bylaw is submitted to the electors it will be carried. The inception and completion of this much-desired work is now within sight.

PRACTICAL CANADIANISM.

By a Canadian Nationalist.
A great many people in Canada talk and write about Canadian nationality in a very vague manner. They describe the largeness of its territory and resources in minerals, fish, lumber, timber, grain and cattle, the richness of its soil, the grandeur of its waterways and the number, richness and superior character of its people. These writers draw no conclusion from all this. They are like the man who kept continually repeating two and two, and two, but they have not the courage to draw the conclusion and say two and two are four. Sir John Bourinot is one of these. He has been recently knighted, but what he has done to deserve the honor no one knows. Can anyone point out in his numerous writings one practical measure that he has ever advocated for the benefit of Canada? Principal Grant of Kingston is another of this class. They are all up in the clouds. The greatness and glory of Canada are in the abstract and the future, and the contrast between the actual condition of Canada and the pictures these men draw is very great indeed.
For the past 25 years we have made no advance, politically, at all. All our efforts have been directed to material progress. We consider the extent of our country, we may go in for material progress for the next 100 years and then not have done much. No one denies the necessity of deep water canals and marine telegraphs, but surely we should not remain overgrown children politically. Mr. Langley, Attorney-General of Nova Scotia, in a well-written article in this month's Canadian Magazine, deplores the materiality of all present day writings and there is good reason for the criticism.
The old politicians of Canada have nearly all passed away, and those who remain among us are feeble and infirm. Sir Charles Tupper is the only one among the survivors who seems to have any energy. Although 78, he still possesses remarkable activity. But he cannot remain long and some one must be educated to take his place.
The Grit party has shown itself to be retrograde. It has broken in on our National Policy in the English preference. In Sir John Macdonald had been alive and in power, instead of asking the English Government to denounce the German and Belgian treaties, he would have held that these treaties never bound Canada, as they never did so bind.

RIOPELLE MURDER CASE.

Widow of the Alleged Victim, His Mother and Stepfather Gave Evidence.

Ottawa, Dec. 7.—Mrs. Leonce Boyer, widow of the man whose dead body was found on the Earlly-road on the night of Aug. 8, was the first witness in the Riopelle murder trial at Hull today. She was much affected and frequently broke down. Her evidence was not material.

Mrs. Pierre Potvin, Boyer's mother, endorsed the evidence of Boyer's widow as to Riopelle's stopping at the Boyer home on the night Boyer was killed. "He told me he was stopping to give us news about my son and that Leonce and not got through with his business in Aptner. He said he would come up the next morning with Mr. Mulligan, the butcher."

"Tell me the truth, Andre; I think Leonce is dead."

He answered: "No, he will come up to-morrow."

Riopelle took the horse to his own place, because, as he said, there was something in the wagon he wanted to leave there. He did not seem to be drunk.

Pierre Potvin, step-father of the deceased, gave evidence confirming that of his wife as to the prisoner's coming home without Boyer and going to the accused's house at once to ask him what he had done with Boyer. The prisoner did not seem intoxicated. He said Boyer was gone to sleep in Aptner and return in the morning. When he got the wagon back he saw nothing wrong with the body, and afterwards he noticed some blood on it, something like the traces of two fingers. "I positively swear that the blood stains I saw on the wagon were not there when killed. There will be no etting of the court to-morrow, it being a holiday."

THEIR GOLDEN WEDDING

Celebrated by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Withrow at Woodstock Yesterday.

Many Present.

Woodstock, Dec. 7.—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Withrow celebrated their golden wedding here to-day, their wedding having taken place here 50 years ago in Queen's County, N.B. At the time of the wedding Mr. Withrow was not quite 20, and his wife, Mrs. Anne Mansel, was only 18. In the year 1850 the young couple moved to Ontario, and after dwelling for several years in Pickering, they returned to their home in the city of Toronto. They have lived here, honored and respected by their hosts of friends, the whole time and with the exception of a few years' residence in Paris, Mr. and Mrs. Withrow are both enjoying the best of health and are 70 years of age. They really are, 70 years of age, and they are really longer. Seven children blessed the union, and there is not one broken link as yet, and these are the names: Mrs. Sydney Swanton, Waterford; Mrs. Arthur Clarkson, Toronto; Mrs. E. J. Tarr, Wingham; Mrs. A. E. Swanton, Woodstock; Mrs. Louis, Samuel M. Woodstock, and Oswald, who is attending Trinity Medical College, Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Withrow have received a large number of beautiful presents. The members of the County Council have presented them with three beautiful pieces of sterling silverware, with gilt bowls, and suitably engraved, and the gift of the county officials is a beautiful gift case in case.

DINED BY THE LEITERS.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier and His Friends Entertained at Washington.
