

Established 1864.

JOHN CATTO &amp; SON

Cluny Lace
Doyleys and Luncheon Sets

Largest and best selection of varieties we have ever shown. Prices Right.

INITIALED TOWELS

Hemstitched, with hand-embroidered initial letter on damask ground. Splendid hand-woven pure linen. Back—$6.00 per dozen. Trial pair, $1.00.

LOUNGE COMFORTS

Throw-overs, made from raw silk, in beautiful Roman colors—$1.50, $2.50 and $3.00 each.

HAND EMBROIDERED

BEDSPREADS

Pure linen—three-quarter and double sized—very choice lot we offer for sale for the balance of this month only—$7.00, $8.00, $10.00, $12.00, $15.00. Regular prices $8.75, $9.75, $12.50 to $20.00.

TABLE CLOTHS

AND NAPKINS

Host of good patterns—all new. Special purchases offered to race visitors—all sizes and qualities—very unusual values.

EMBROIDERED

PILLOW CASES

Hand-embroidered Linen Pillow Cases—hundreds of patterns to choose from—$1.75, $2.00, $2.50, $3.00, $3.50, $4.00, $5.00, $6.00 per pair.

LINEN LAWS, 36 INCH

Fine Sheer Irish Linen Lawns for Shirt Waists, 45c, 50c, 60c and 75c per yard.

MAIL ORDERS RECEIVE PROMPT AND CAREFUL ATTENTION.

JOHN CATTO &amp; SON

55 to 61 King Street East,
TORONTO.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE AT OTTAWA.

OTTAWA, May 26.—A fire of serious proportions broke out at 12.15 this morning at Desrivieres' planing mill at 213 Church-street, and the mill and lumber yard were quickly consumed. One flames swept thru the block and three houses were entirely consumed. The damage may run $20,000.

Status for the Capital.

OTTAWA, May 26.—A statue of King Edward the Peace-maker, planned by the architect, J. W. C. Macdonald, is to be erected on Parliament Hill, the site being on the bluff overlooking the Ottawa River, a short distance from the statue of Queen Victoria, at the unveiling of which King George officiated.

It is stated that an appropriation for the purpose will be made next session and that competitive designs will be asked for.

When Wine is Not Wine.

The Paris wine merchant who has received six months' imprisonment for selling adulterated Sauterne should have taken expert advice before embarking on his career of crime. Herman, the dramatist, who in early life had a high reputation as a chemist, was once called to give evidence regarding a certain brand of wine. As he testified that it was totally innocent of grape juice, the merchant was heavily fined. On coming out of court the defendant asked Herman, "How is it that you were able to swear positively that there is no grape juice in that stuff of mine?" "Because it had been analyzed in combination with the other elements you used, it would have caused tartaric acid to form on the barrel," "Thank you so much," replied the defendant. "You'll find some on the barrel next time."—London Chronicle.

SHE WAS CAREFUL.

Mrs. Sharptonke—Do you mean to say that you have been married ten years, never had a quarrel with your husband and always let him have the last word?

Fair Stranger—Yes. I wouldn't for the world do anything to lessen my husband's love for me. He might get cross.

Mrs. Sharptonke—Careless? Fair Stranger—Yes. We are judges by profession and at two performances every day I stand against a board while he throws the knives.

Floating Palaces—Great Lakes.

Ask about the five boats each week. Canadian Pacific Lakes Service—Owen Sound—Sault Ste. Marie—Port Arthur—Port William—any Canadian Pacific agent will tell you. The Toronto ticket office is at the southeast corner King and Yonge-streets.

Will See Fairplay.

OTTAWA, May 26.—That he government will see fair play and insist upon it whenever possible in cases where contractors on government work fail to deal properly with their men, is indicated by a quotation from a letter by the minister of labor, Hon. Mr. Pugsley. The quotation is given in the latest issue of The Labor Gazette, in which he mentioned the case of a contracting firm on government work failing to pay a judgment for $3000 for injuries to one of the men. The case was brought to the attention of the minister of labor, who at once communicated with the firm and with the minister of public works.

Because he jabbed a street railway conductor in the mouth with his umbrella, following a dispute regarding a transfer, Charles Taylor, an old man, was fined $15 and costs in police court yesterday morning. Of that sum $12 goes to the wounded con.

THE WEATHER

OBSERVATORY, TORONTO, May 26.—(8 p.m.)—The pressure is highest tonight over Ontario and the middle states, and lowest over the western and maritime provinces. The weather has been warm in the west, with a few showers in Alberta, while over Ontario eastward it has been partly cloudy, with scattered showers.

Minimum and maximum temperatures: Victoria, 44—64; Vancouver, 47—68; Edmonton, 40—64; Calgary, 47—70; Battleford, 54—72; Moose Jaw, 41—77; Qu'Appelle, 44—73; Winnipeg, 52—77; Fort Arthur, 40—69; Harry Sound, 28—48; London, 40—53; Toronto, 42—58; Ottawa, 52—64; Montreal, 50—65; Quebec, 50—64; St. John, 48—64; Halifax, 56—66.

—Probabilities—

Lower Lakes and Georgian Bay—

Moderate westerly winds; fair and cool.

Ottawa and Upper St. Lawrence—

Fresh westerly winds; mostly fair and cool.

Lower St. Lawrence and Gulf—

Fresh winds; cloudy and cool, with local showers.

Maritime—

Fresh southwesterly and westerly winds; cloudy with local showers.

Superior—

Moderate southwesterly and southerly winds; fine and little warmer.

All West—

A few local showers, but mostly fair and warm.

THE BAROMETER.

Time.	Ther.	Bar.	Wind.
8 a.m.	53	29.58	SW.
11 a.m.	54	29.58	SW.
2 p.m.	56	29.62	SW.
4 p.m.	58	29.69	SW.
8 p.m.	59	29.69	SW.
Mean of day.	56
Average.	56
Below.	55
Lowest.	52

STEAMSHIP ARRIVALS.

May 26	At	From
Mauritania	New York	Liverpool
Genoa	New York	Genoa
Pres. Lincoln	New York	Hamburg
Haverford	Liverpool	Philadelphia
Imperial	Liverpool	London
Zealand	Boston	Liverpool
La Gasconne	Havre	New York
La Provence	Havre	New York
Reg. d'Italia	Naples	New York
Romantic	Genoa	New York
Lustitana	Genoa	New York
Oceanica	Genoa	New York
Emmanola	New York	Naples
Adriatic	New York	Southampton

TO-DAY IN TORONTO.

May 27.
Toronto East District Methodists. Metropolitan Church, 3.30; west district, Parkdale Church, 8.
Model School games, 2.30.
Woodbine races, 2.30.
General Hospital Training School for Nurses closing, 2.30.
Industrial Schools' Association, city hall, 4.45.
Shirley's vaudeville, Massey Hall, 8.
Astronomical Society, address by Dr. A. D. Watson, Canadian Institute.
Association Hall, R. S. Muir on Halley's comet, 8.
Y.W.C.A.—Annual meeting, 8.
Eastern W.C.T.U. election contest, Woodgreen Church, 8.
Dominion Railway Board, City Hall, 10 a.m.
Boroughhood of St. Andrew, St. Aican's Church, 8.

DEATHS.

BAKER.—At the residence of her niece, Mrs. J. E. McLeod, 613 Huron-street, on May 26, Mary Clifford Baker.

Interment at Sarnia on Saturday, May 28, on arrival of G.T.R. train at 2.15 p.m.

BURIAL.—At Melton on Wednesday, May 26, Emma, dearly beloved wife of Richard Burial, in her 87th year.

Funeral from her late residence on Saturday by C.P.R. Interment at Kettle Creek.

CLAXTON.—On Thursday, May 26, 1910, at 359 Shaw-street, Carrie B., beloved daughter of Jas. C. and Elizabeth Claxton, aged 18 years and 11 months.

Funeral from above address at 3 p.m. Saturday.

MACE.—On Thursday, May 26, 1910, Ella Marguerite, the beloved wife of John Mace, aged 58 years.

Funeral at St. John's Cemetery on Monday, May 29, at 3.30 p.m.

Friends kindly accept this intimation.

O'NEIL.—At Kearney on May 25, 1910, Margaret, beloved daughter of A. J. and Mary O'Neil, aged 17 years.

Funeral on Thursday, May 26, at 2 p.m. from the family residence, 2811 Summerville, to the cemetery.

Inst. George William, eldest son, 27 years and 7 months.

Funeral Saturday, 2 p.m., from above address to Burnhamthorpe Cemetery.

SCOTT.—At his residence, 340 Albany-avenue, on May 25, James Scott (stone cutter), beloved husband of James Scott.

Funeral Friday, May 27, at 2.30 p.m. from his sister's residence, 340 Bathurst-street, to Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

WILSON.—On May 26, 1910, at 98 Victoria-avenue, Annie M., daughter of James and Mary R. Wilson, aged 3 years and 8 months.

Funeral private on Friday, May 27, at 10.30 a.m., from above address. No flowers.

OBITUARY.

Octavius Thompson.

Octavius Thompson, who died yesterday at 27 Linden-avenue in his 85th year, born in London, Eng., in 1825, was a member of the church since 1857, tho for some years, up till 1863, he lived in Hamilton. He was last of a family of eight brothers who came to Canada in 37, and is survived by one son, H. Thompson, president of Copp, Clark, Limited, and three daughters, Mrs. Warriner of Montreal, Mrs. Heines of Arlmer, and Miss E. Thompson, at home.

Wants to Wed Deceased Wife's Sister.

OTTAWA, May 26.—At the meeting of the executive committee of the Anglican diocese of Ottawa this morning, his grace the archbishop brought up the subject of marriage with a deceased wife's sister, and presented a canon on the subject. It was decided, however, that this would be outside the province of the synod. The matter was brought up at the request of a member of the church desiring to marry his deceased wife's sister.

Harper, Customs' Broker, McKinnon Building, 10 Jordan-St., Toronto 3d.

LONDON, May 27.—The Daily Telegraph, in a long editorial eulogy of Mr. Roosevelt, describes him as the most powerful statesman in the English speaking world.

"His personality," says The Telegraph, "is better known throughout the globe than any other, except the German Emperor, and in some ways he is the stronger marked of the two, and he could if he pleased, shake the War-wick of American politics."

Use Gibbons' Toothache Gum.

Price 10c.

Gum 246.

Ryries

DIAMOND MERCHANTS

Diamonds of Rare
Quality

Ryries Diamonds can always be readily distinguished because of their perfection in color, shape, brilliancy and freedom from flaws.

We personally select every stone from the cutters through our buying office in Amsterdam. Diamonds enter Canada duty free—enabling us to sell "rare quality" gems at prices unequalled by any other establishment.

Ryrie Bros.

Limited

JAS. RYRIE, HARRY RYRIE,

124-126 Yonge St., TORONTO

A BIG DRY DOCK
FOR TORONTO

Continued From Page 1.

style of building in which the community could take some pride. It was not for the larger places alone to receive the buildings. The smaller towns also contributed a portion of the revenue. It was the people's money they were spending. The opposition had stated they were frittering public money away by erecting buildings in smaller cities and towns. They were entitled to them just as much as the larger cities.

When the Conservatives had accused the government of bribing constituencies, he had said "We won't bribe; we won't erect any new buildings in those constituencies in the west. But in a short time these same Conservatives were appealing to the government for a building of one sort or another in their constituencies."

These gentlemen asked their constituents if they were going to be bribed by public buildings, and it told the government it would not be too hasty in thrusting public buildings upon such constituencies," he said.

The department was now considering plans for the erection of 100 public buildings in the different provinces of the Dominion.

With reference to dredging, the government had 30 dredges in operation and making a system of navigation for the prairies to the foot hills of the Rockies, 100 miles west of Edmonton.

With two or three locks it would be possible to have a system of navigation for the prairies to the foot hills of the Rockies, 100 miles west of Edmonton.

Another route from Lake Winnipeg, easy navigation could be had to Norway House on Hudson Bay, which would open to the route to England. The building of the locks would provide for 60,000 to 80,000 horse-power of electrical energy, and as far as possible this city was to be built on a facture lumber and mill waste so that it would be readily marketable in the old world.

A Crank on the Subject.

"I shall only do my duty at all times when I do all I can for the development and improvement of this country. You don't draught that man here more money to spend than women have."

He is, too, affected by the weather, for chocolate melts at low temperatures, as any one knows who has ever sat alongside of a munching youngster with about ten sticky fingers jabbing perfunctory and warm chocolate creams and finger-tips do not mix agreeably in a public place, where finger-bowls are yet unknown. Even the maid in attendance notices the difference between the matinee and the evening crowd, for the reason that in the afternoon her work is much lighter. Women are not so particular about their looks at that time, for the reason that most of them are without escorts, and if their puffs aren't pinned on quite so carefully, it really doesn't make so much difference, because "he" isn't there to see them, too, most women go in to see the matinee with their hats and coats on, where at night they are more likely to have their wraps checked.

The man who takes the tickets at the door has to think a little faster at the matinee than he does at the evening performance, for the reason that just before the opening of the play the lobby is converted into an impromptu reception. Women not only make appointments to meet their friends there, but they find others whom they had not expected to see, and of course that always means a delay of more or less length. A man can meet a friend unexpectedly, give him the "high sign," as it were, and pass on. But not so a woman. She has got to stop and talk the situation over. In this way the lobby at the matinee is usually packed until the last minute, when, of course, every one wants to get in at once. In the evening it is different; they usually pass in one by one, like the animals in the ark.

"You could be bluffed and know it was a matinee by the chatter," said one of the incumbents of a box-office window. But, nevertheless, a woman is a very highly respected commodity in that locality. Apropos, Mr. George A. Kingsbury, manager of the Chicago Opera House, one day paid them this compliment:

Improving Montreal Harbour.

OTTAWA, May 26.—Plans were placed before the marine department to-day for suggested improvements in the harbor of Montreal. A total outlay of $6,000,000 is involved, of which two millions will be expended within the present year in elevating the tracks along the water front.

A COMPROMISE SETTLEMENT.

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.)—LONDON, May 26.—Lord Ridley, the tariff reform leader, speaking at Wimbledon, advocated a compromise settlement of the constitutional question. There were reforms which would make the lords a more effective and more useful chamber. Conservatives said that one essential feature of any change which took place must be a second chamber, they must also recognize that Liberals, while they might reasonably ask for a second chamber with which they had some chance of getting a majority.

HER MUSICAL TASTE.

(Prof. Louis Wilson says that each color harmonizes with a corresponding note in music.) I cannot wear the old songs. I wore a year ago—My last year's hat was in a box. And sounds like "Old Black Joe." My husband says to change it. And pitch it now in 'T. I tell him that a last year's hat appeals but to the dead.

I cannot wear the old tunes. Altho they're not worn out. The scherzo skirt I used to flirt. Without the slightest doubt. It's too accelerando. The higher notes are slurred. The scherzo skirt I used to flirt. No longer can be heard.

I date on modern music. To me it is sublime. In last year's waist there can be traced "The Good Old Summer Time." And so I will not wear it. It's as good as new, blend. I know you'd mock a rag-time frock if one dawns on your view.

My new hat's cadenza. Of wondrous tones and trills—My husband swears in minor airs. When he looks at the bills. There is a charm in music. To soothe the savage breast. But men have hearts which music's darts Find armor-plate at best.

Still, I've made out my program From overtime to end. For sleeve dusts I've made some debts. But all the chords must blend. I cannot wear the old song. I wore a year ago by—"Threads of Gold" Or "Comin' Thru the Rye."—Chicago Post.

"I heard him tell a story at the club last night and he ought to make a fine cashier." "Why so?" "He couldn't possibly be short in his accounts."—Grit.

ON THE HOME STRETCH

Bigger Piano Bargains Than Ever Yet

In the great sacrifice sale of pianos, player-pianos and organs now being conducted by ye olde firme of

HEINTZMAN &amp; CO.

MAKERS OF CANADA'S GREATEST PIANO

The break in prices becomes more acute—prices more deeply cut than ever before—as we near the day when we'll remove to our new premises, 193-197 Yonge Street.

One hundred and fifty slightly used pianos have come back into our hands that had been on rental to pupils attending various conservatories and colleges of music, and from families now moving away for the summer, and these are to be sold at once, with little regard to price.

Look at This Offer as Illustrating the Earnest of This Sale:

A beautiful Weber Upright Piano, only slightly used, sold regularly for $325.00, removal sale price $195.00---$5.00 cash and one dollar a week.

Did you ever hear of such a bargain in pianos? And yet the bargains do not end here: Steinway, Chickering and Heintzman &amp; Co. Squares, and Heintzman &amp; Co. Uprights, slightly used; Gerhard Heintzman Uprights; Mozart Uprights, and many others at a fraction of original prices, and all on easiest terms of payment.

These bargains are for people out of town, as well as in the city. If unable to visit the warerooms fill in coupon, mail it and get all particulars.

PIANO SALON:

115-117 KING STREET WEST
TORONTO

Heintzman & Co., Limited
115-117 King St. West
TORONTO

Please send us by early mail
Price List of your Special Removal Sale Bargains in Pianos, advertised in The Toronto World.

NAME.....
ADDRESS.....

When Rain
Brings ProfitPeople Will Take Shelter in Theatres When a Downpour Threatens.

It is a curious fact that the box-office often reaps a substantial harvest when the weather-man sends a down-pour of rain along about noon, or between that and two o'clock. For hundreds of people go to the theatre on rainy afternoons who had no intention of doing so when they left home. But if one happens to be caught in a down-pour, it is just as cheap to go to the matinee as it is to buy an umbrella, and it is about the most agreeable way of getting in out of the rain that one can imagine.

At an especially popular matinee, the house is often sold out, but as a usual thing the box-office takes in its heaviest receipts at night. Even the candy-man sells more in the evening, for the reason that men have more money to spend than women have.

He is, too, affected by the weather, for chocolate melts at low temperatures, as any one knows who has ever sat alongside of a munching youngster with about ten sticky fingers jabbing perfunctory and warm chocolate creams and finger-tips do not mix agreeably in a public place, where finger-bowls are yet unknown. Even the maid in attendance notices the difference between the matinee and the evening crowd, for the reason that in the afternoon her work is much lighter. Women are not so particular about their looks at that time, for the reason that most of them are without escorts, and if their puffs aren't pinned on quite so carefully, it really doesn't make so much difference, because "he" isn't there to see them, too, most women go in to see the matinee with their hats and coats on, where at night they are more likely to have their wraps checked.

The man who takes the tickets at the door has to think a little faster at the matinee than he does at the evening performance, for the reason that just before the opening of the play the lobby is converted into an impromptu reception. Women not only make appointments to meet their friends there, but they find others whom they had not expected to see, and of course that always means a delay of more or less length. A man can meet a friend unexpectedly, give him the "high sign," as it were, and pass on. But not so a woman. She has got to stop and talk the situation over. In this way the lobby at the matinee is usually packed until the last minute, when, of course, every one wants to get in at once. In the evening it is different; they usually pass in one by one, like the animals in the ark.

"You could be bluffed and know it was a matinee by the chatter," said one of the incumbents of a box-office window. But, nevertheless, a woman is a very highly respected commodity in that locality. Apropos, Mr. George A. Kingsbury, manager of the Chicago Opera House, one day paid them this compliment:

Improving Montreal Harbour.

OTTAWA, May 26.—Plans were placed before the marine department to-day for suggested improvements in the harbor of Montreal. A total outlay of $6,000,000 is involved, of which two millions will be expended within the present year in elevating the tracks along the water front.

A COMPROMISE SETTLEMENT.

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.)—LONDON, May 26.—Lord Ridley, the tariff reform leader, speaking at Wimbledon, advocated a compromise settlement of the constitutional question. There were reforms which would make the lords a more effective and more useful chamber. Conservatives said that one essential feature of any change which took place must be a second chamber, they must also recognize that Liberals, while they might reasonably ask for a second chamber with which they had some chance of getting a majority.

HER MUSICAL TASTE.

(Prof. Louis Wilson says that each color harmonizes with a corresponding note in music.) I cannot wear the old songs. I wore a year ago—My last year's hat was in a box. And sounds like "Old Black Joe." My husband says to change it. And pitch it now in 'T. I tell him that a last year's hat appeals but to the dead.

I cannot wear the old tunes. Altho they're not worn out. The scherzo skirt I used to flirt. Without the slightest doubt. It's too accelerando. The higher notes are slurred. The scherzo skirt I used to flirt. No longer can be heard.

I date on modern music. To me it is sublime. In last year's waist there can be traced "The Good Old Summer Time." And so I will not wear it. It's as good as new, blend. I know you'd mock a rag-time frock if one dawns on your view.

My new hat's cadenza. Of wondrous tones and trills—My husband swears in minor airs. When he looks at the bills. There is a charm in music. To soothe the savage breast. But men have hearts which music's darts Find armor-plate at best.

Still, I've made out my program From overtime to end. For sleeve dusts I've made some debts. But all the chords must blend. I cannot wear the old song. I wore a year ago by—"Threads of Gold" Or "Comin' Thru the Rye."—Chicago Post.

"I heard him tell a story at the club last night and he ought to make a fine cashier." "Why so?" "He couldn't possibly be short in his accounts."—Grit.

Mail or deliver this subscription, with cheque or cash, to The Trusts &amp; Guarantee Company, Limited, 45 West King Street, Toronto.

Beards in England.

It was about 1855 that the beard movement took hold of the English people. The Crimean war had much to do with it. The soldiers were permitted to forego the use of the razor, as the hair on the face protected them from the cold and attacks of neuralgia. About this period only one civilian in position in England had the hardihood to wear a moustache. This was George F. Muntz, member of parliament for Birmingham. The enlightened electors, however, did not take kindly to the bearded politician. An officer candidate on one occasion received an intimation from the leader of his party that his moustache might be the cause of the loss of the rural population. The candidate replied that he was "determined to face it out."

Hard on Western Lumbermen.

CALGARY, May 26.—James W. Davidson, president of the Crown Lumber Co., said that the shortage in building material shows little sign of improvement. Owing to the early spring, with warm days, but cold nights, the snow was melted gradually, consequently the streams did not reach the height of water necessary for successfully driving the logs. The output of several mills has, therefore, been considerably reduced.

When Rain Brings Profit

People Will Take Shelter in Theatres When a Down-pour Threatens.

It is a curious fact that the box-office often reaps a substantial harvest when the weather-man sends a down-pour of rain along about noon, or between that and two o'clock. For hundreds of people go to the theatre on rainy afternoons who had no intention of doing so when they left home. But if one happens to be caught in a down-pour, it is just as cheap to go to the matinee as it is to buy an umbrella, and it is about the most agreeable way of getting in out of the rain that one can imagine.

At an especially popular matinee, the house is often sold out, but as a usual thing the box-office takes in its heaviest receipts at night. Even the candy-man sells more in the evening, for the reason that men have more money to spend than women have.

He is, too, affected by the weather, for chocolate melts at low temperatures, as any one knows who has ever sat alongside of