TALL DEER STORY FROM HIBERNIA

Deer Shot and With its Throat Cut, Scales High Fence and Disappears in the Forest.

J. A. Gregory, Carl Kemp and two others, who have returned from a hunting trip to Hibernia Settlement and vicinity, are telling the following story, which they vigorously assert is not the invention of an over-imaginative mind or the result of a supper on Welsh rarebit. Patrick Gillis, a butcher and farmer, was exploring in the vicinity of his home recently for the game when he shot a solitary and handsome deer calmly munching grass on the side of the road. Two discharges were emptied into the deer and when it fell to the ground Patrick was "Johnn on the spot," but to his chagrin he discovered that he was minus a knife, so it was imperative that a messenger would have to be detailed to secure the necessary implement and during the twenty minutes that the man was absent on his mission Gillis sat on the apparently lifeless deer. Patrick cut the animal's throat and was surveying at the time the deer arose as a hunter, when to his amazement the deer arose on its haunches, scaled a fence four feet high and disappeared in the forest.

Theft of Diamond Sunburst From New York Importer Discloses Big Conspiracy.

New York, Oct. 2.—An investigation which followed the discovery that a diamond sunburst was missing from the warehouses of Jos. Ferrand, a Maiden Lane diamond importer, has disclosed what may prove to be one of the biggest robberies in the diamond district. Already, it is said, jewels valued at $50,000 are known to have been misused, and the inventory of stock has not yet been completed. It has been disclosed also that the robberies probably have been going on for years, and it seems possible that before the inventory has been completed the total will be far in excess of the amount known to be involved. Since the investigation has been in progress, Mr. Ferrand has been endeavoring to find one of his oldest and most trusted employees who has been away from the city for several months. This man should have returned from his vacation by September 1, but he did not come, nor was any word received from him.

Inquiries were instituted and it was discovered that the man was in prosperous circumstances, had furnished a very comfortable home and was enjoying himself in comparative luxury. This statement of wife number one thinking, and she decided that if she could look after her second partner so well he could afford to deal generously with her, and so she has, it is understood, secured legal advice and will commence proceedings against her faithless spouse for bigamy.
