see the National League leaders in action. Thursday morning the Red Sox will leave for Washington. They will arrive there that evening and meet the Senators Friday and Saturday. Sunday they will go to New York and meet the Highlanders on Monday and single games are scheduled with the Highlanders for Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. The chances are that the game scheduled for Thursday will be brought forward in order to enable the Red Sox to rest. The campaign at the Polo grounds will be mapped out according to the situation in the race at that time.

BOWLING.
On the Victoria Alleys.
Many high scores are being made on these alleys, the highest being 138, that made by Jas. Steen. It was a splendid exhibition of bowling and but for a streak of hard luck breaking on what looked like perfect shots the score would have been much larger. Among other high scores made lately the following are about the highest: C. McKay, 119; C. Estery, 128; J. Thurston, 122; P. Howard, 126; C. Brown, 118; D. Colgan, 118; T. Daley, 121; J. Cullinan, 124.

COLUMBUS RACES.
Columbus, Sept. 28—Volga, champion two-year-old trotter of this racing season, topped the last halves of two one-mile heats in 1:08 and 1:04, while winning the Chicago Horseman and Spirit card at the driving park here. In thirteen other heats by aged trotters and pacers no last half was as good as 1:08.

New Record for Pole Team.
Pittsburg, Penn., Sept. 27—A new world's record for a pole team was made here yesterday, when J. R. McCune drove his trotters, Ross P. and Brighton B. a mile at the Brunots Island track in 2:08 1/4. The previous record, 2:07 1/4, was made at Cleveland several years ago by C. K. G. Billings, driving The Monk and Equity.

THE KENNEL.
Alredale Sold for Over $1,000.
New York, Sept. 28—The Alredale terrier Patrick O'Leary, after the Ashbury Park show, on last Thursday, went to the kennels of his new owner, Martin S. Baldwin, of New York. Patrick O'Leary was sold by Andrew Albright, Jr., of Newark, N. J., last week to the proprietor of the Coo Cob kennels for more than $1,000. It is known that $1,000 had been refused for this imported dog. Although Patrick O'Leary was far below his form and condition, he won the mayor's cup at Ashbury Park, offered for the best dog or bitch of any breed.

AQUATIC.
Winners Get Medals.
Ottawa, Sept. 27—Bob Gamble and Peter Durand, winners of the 200 mile tandem canoe race, and the Green and Browne Trophy, emblematic of the championship of the world, received their gold medals on Saturday morning in the Rideau Aquatic club house.

AUTO.
Noted Driver Badly Burned.
New York, Sept. 27—Grant, noted automobile driver and twice winner of the Vanderbilt cup race, was so badly burned today while competing in the elimination trials for the Astor cup race at the Sheepshead Bay track that he will not be able to enter the contest next Saturday.

RING.
Lewis Defeats Betton.
Ted Lewis, a British boxer, again won a decision over Jack Betton, of Boston, last evening. The bout went twelve rounds. In the eleventh Lewis knocked his opponent to the floor with a left to the face.

Boxer Starts Riot.
New York, Sept. 27—Police reserves were required to quell a riot started when Patsy Branigan of Pittsburgh attempted to beat up Referee Fred Lyng, who gave him the loss in a wild mix-up bout with Al Shubert of this city.

The two boxers had put up one of the most slashing battles ever seen in this city. Shubert did the most of the leading and was superior in the ring. Branigan landed the cleaner blows and appeared to have more stean than his opponent.

When Referee Lyng lifted Shubert's arm at the end of the 12th round Branigan and his seconds rushed toward the referee, the losing boxer landing a heavy swing. In an instant the two fighters, handlers and referee were in a wild mix-up. Police reserves rushed into the ring and joined in the fighting, finally escorting Lyng from the ring.

Wolgate Lotes on Foul.
Shreveport, La., Sept. 27—Bobby Waugh of Fort Worth, lightweight, was given the decision on a foul tonight by the sixth round of a 15-round bout over Ad Wolgate, former lightweight champion.

The question of a foul was decided by a physician who was called into the ring when Waugh fell to the floor.

OFFER BRAVES FIELD FOR HARVARD-YALE GAME.
Refusal of City to Allow Wooden Stands in Stadium May Mean Shift of Football Battle.

Boston, Sept. 28—An offer of the free use of the Braves' field, the home grounds of the Boston National League Baseball team for the annual football game between Harvard and Yale on November 20 was made on Tuesday to Fred W. Moore, graduate manager of the Harvard Athletic Association by James E. Gaffney, president of the Boston club.

It became known that there was a possibility that the football contest might not be staged in the Harvard stadium owing to the withholding by the city authorities of permits to erect temporary wooden stands which would increase the seating capacity of 25,000, to more than 40,000. Braves' field has a seating accommodation for 45,000.

It had been suggested that if the erection of the temporary stands was not allowed the game might be played in the Yale bowl at New Haven. Last year's game was at New Haven and under the alternating arrangement this season's game was to have been played here.

The building commissioner stipulates that concrete fireproof stands be built and the Harvard athletic authorities declare there is not time for such construction.

BILLETING IN RURAL DISTRICTS

Recruits May Be Allowed To Stay in Own District

SYSTEM FOR FUTURE CALLS

Expected That New Order Will Stimulate Enlisting in Country Sections — Has Been Tried in Ontario

Hitherto the recruiting for the Canadian contingents has been mostly done at large centres and for the recruiting of the 100,000 Canadian troops at present under arms, the larger centres are responsible. In case more men are called for within a short time it is understood that a better opportunity will be given for those living in the rural districts to enlist. For this purpose the system of billeting will be introduced. It is understood that a plan is under consideration by means of which the small centres with a population under 4,000 to the cause will be allowed to have these recruits billeted amongst themselves. Each small village centre raising twenty men will be allowed to have the recruits billeted therein.

Each incorporated village centre of a thousand and upwards raising fifty men will be allowed to retain them. Each centre with a population under 4,000 raising 100 men will be allowed to have billeted therein. Each centre of upwards of four thousand recruiting a full company of 250 men will be allowed to make the same arrangements.

The mere raising of the required number of men will not, however, be sufficient. They will have to be properly attested and their history and record up to standard requirements. The men will be furnished through the usual channel of the district stores.

The system of billeting since the present war started has been tried out in Lindsay only, the home town of the Minister of Militia, and it has met there with success. Seventy-five cents a day will be paid by the government for each soldier billeted. It is expected that this system will be of particular benefit during the winter months. The soldiers will be surrounded by home influences, which will tend to make the routine of military life less tedious.

From a recruiting standpoint the system will enable the authorities to get into districts which hitherto have contributed but few men and it will give more particularly the rural districts a greater opportunity to send men to the front. Thousands of cases have occurred where young men in out of the way rural localities wishing to enlist have had to pay the railway fare to a recruiting centre and it is known that thousands of others have been deprived of their chance to join a regiment owing to the expense entailed in getting to the recruiting point.

150,000 New Under Arms.
When the first call came for 20,000 men 83,000 were sent overseas and when the second call came to increase the number to 150,000, and a third call to increase it to 110,000 and a fourth call to increase it to 100,000 the best type of fit.

At the meeting of the board of directors of the Y. M. C. A. last night, it was decided to devote all the energy of organization to assist those who desire to enlist but do not measure up to the requirements. A policy of physical, educational, social and moral training was adopted, and henceforth the aim of the institution will be to make better men. This is a big bit which is being undertaken, now that the need of them is so pressing.

F. A. Dykeman, president, occupied the chair, and there were present H. W. Rising, W. C. Cross, Chas. Robinson, G. E. Barbour, George A. Henderson, F. C. Smith and T. H. Hutchinson, general secretary. Reports were read from the various committees. A programme was outlined for the coming season and it was arranged that the formal opening should take place on Friday, Oct. 8.

In the physical department, reports were submitted and details were discussed for helping those who want to enlist for overseas service but are not physically fit.

men were obtained and Canada has now 100,000 men under arms.

It has been suggested to the Minister of Militia that each township, town, city and county should compile an honor roll of the young men from each of these gone to the front with the names of their parents or next of kin.

In the different places in the United States which contributed soldiers to the Civil War, monuments have been erected with names of those who fell and a roll is kept of those who went to the front. If the mayors of the cities and towns gave instructions that the parents and next of kin would forward to the clerk of the municipality the names of those who have gone to the front as honor roll for future generations would this be kept.

HIGH SCHOOL FOOTBALL TEAM BEING FORMED

Many Likely Looking Young Players Trying to Make Place

During the last few weeks a large number of High School boys have been daily practicing on the Shamrock grounds in an endeavor to make the first team, which will represent the school in the New Brunswick interscholastic football league.

A large number of the prominent players graduated last year, and new material must be secured to fill the ranks. Captain Donnelly has considerable material to pick from, but as many of the most likely looking youngsters are new to the game, he has a hard task cut out for him to drill them into the play in time to participate in the series.

The High School boys are indeed fortunate in having such a competent coach. He has proven his worth to the school during the last three years, and in addition his playing has been largely instrumental in clinching the championship for the St. John team.

A series will be held in the near future and arrangements will then be made for the re-organization of the league, and a schedule drawn up.
