TEN

I beg to lay before the Toronto Public Library, at an appropriate occasion, the opening of the new building.

In 1883 the library was what at that time was continuously increasing to add to our accession of Circulating and Reference books the entire building.

The issue of the library as will be seen by the following table:

1884,	2
1885,	2
1886,	2
1887,	2
1888,	2

The number of books out for home reading was:

The alteration of the library in the winter prevented further work and it was not until May last that any work was dated, and further work. Library, the experience of the reader all the previous years which no record could be read show a decrease in the experiment, full of the direction.

The long hours of open necessities and expense for salaries have been for the library.
