IRISH BARONET TO COME HERE

Sir Thomas and Lady Esmond in Nova Scotia Moose Hunting

Speaks of Finding New Variety of Trout in British Columbia Fishing.

Sir Thomas Gratton Esmond, Bart., Senator of the Irish Free State, left Montreal on last Friday night for Nova Scotia, accompanied by Lady Esmond, to hunt moose there, and it is expected that the distinguished visitors will be in Saint John for long.

Miss Patricia Esmond is now the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent. "Canada never loses its charm for me," said Sir Thomas who arrived in Montreal on Friday after a trip through Canada. "For years I've been coming out here on fishing and hunting trips. I've visited from Labrador to the Pacific Coast, but every time I come I find new spots where the fish are a bit gamier and sweeter when caught, and the new friends I make are interesting and the old ones dearer."

NEW TROUT VARIETY.

"Lady Esmond and I visited a logging camp situated at Bull River, near Yak, B. C., and there I found some splendid cut-throat trout and a variety of grayling. The splendid type of men around this camp made it a pleasant study—the cook, Mike, was a Polack, but he was undoubtedly one of the most charming persons I have ever met, intensely interested in everything, good tempered to a degree, in short the kind of person whose adaptability and progressiveness gives great hope for the second generation of Canadians. At Kamloops I found a new variety of trout, called by the fishermen of the locality, the Kootenay trout, which seems to be a blend of the rainbow and the cut-throat. Be the blend what it may, the result is a very scrappy, lively fish and well worth going after."

Sir Thomas had come out this year purposing to attend the inter-Parliamentary convention in Washington, but illness prevented.

Sir Thomas' first visit to Saint John was about 40 years ago when he lectured in the old Mechanics' Institute. He has been here several times in recent years and numbers warm friends in this city.

PUT OUT FOR DAYS BY BOOTLEG LIQUOR

Two Well Known Men Unconscious From Saturday Night Till Tuesday.

That all the bad booze in the world is not to be found in the United States is established by the experience of two well-known men, who recently purchased some bootleg whiskey in a Nova Scotia town. They were visitors and engaged a taxi driver to negotiate for a bottle of "ardent." They got it, but more "ardent" than they desired. After taking a not too over-generous supply from the package, they retired this Saturday night, for it was Saturday, to rest in for Sunday. The first recollection of further developments was when they were rudely awakened, only to be informed that it was Tuesday afternoon. The condition of both was serious.

A physician was summoned and it was only after careful treatment that the men were brought around to normal. An analysis of the remainder of the liquor revealed little alcohol but some opium and other dangerous ingredients. The moral is obvious.

MEANS TO STOP WASTE OF WATER

Commissioner Wigmore is Having Survey of Service Pipes Made.

Trouble With Eels Since Recent Storm—One Cuts Off Supply for While.

That he intended to put a stop to waste of water in water in Saint John was stated this morning by Commissioner Wigmore. All persons who did not make their service pipes frost-proof would have the water shut off when cold weather came, he said. The commissioner is having a survey of the city made and in all cases where the men find water pipes exposed the owner of the property will be notified to protect them. Especial attention is being given to places where the service pipe leads to outbuildings and barns. Last winter, he said, there was an immense amount of water wasted by letting it run to keep from freezing and the commissioner said he was determined to put an end to this waste.

EELS IN PIPES.

Since the big storm when the gates at Lake Latimer were destroyed and had to be taken out completely, eels have come about eels in the pipes. The commissioner is having all the dead ends of the city flushed out to get rid of those that are in the pipes. The other day an eel 42 inches in length and as big around as a man's wrist was taken out of the fire hydrant in Kennedy street and yesterday one was taken from the water pipe in High street. For a time yesterday the residents of High street were without water because of the presence of this eel in the main.

Next Sunday the commissioner plans to have a diver make an inspection of the intake at Lake Latimer and clear out the sand and debris that was blown into it during the recent big storm.

MOST OF LIQUOR ON SCHOONER IS SAVED

Cora Gertie, Sunk in Recent Storm Down The Bay, Has Been Raised.

The schooner Cora Gertie with her large cargo of liquor was raised yesterday by the Saint John Drydock and Shipbuilding Co.'s tug Ocean Osprey, and a large scow with a derrick. The liquor is being transferred to another schooner.

According to a story told this morning, this schooner, which was wrecked on Spruce Island a little more than a week ago, has been a nuisance for beach ever since. Some men arrived last week from down the coast. It was alleged, and attached ropes to the top of the schooner and endeavored to take the vessel and its load outright. The idea was to tow it into deeper water so that the original owners would be unable to find it and then they could salvage the liquor.

The owners, however, secured protection from the authorities, it was said, and freed this morning. However, they were unable to prevent all so inclined in getting a couple of cases or so each. A resident of the locality said this afternoon that a quantity of liquor were cached along the coast.

Liquor inspectors and Preventive Officer Lynott searched a portion of the woods along the coast and found a bag and located in a bog at New River 10 gallons of alcohol. This, however, was not thought to be from the Cora Gertie.
