The Peerless Wrecked Near Cape Sable—Had Cargo of Coal For Carleton Merchant—All on Board Saved

Word received in the city this morning told of the wreck of the St. John schooner Peerless, Captain Llewellyn of Parrabro, which took place at Wood's Harbor, near Cape Sable, probably last night. The schooner was the way from New York to this port with a cargo of coal for C. E. Colwell of Carleton, and was due to arrive here about the first of next week. It is believed that in a heavy gale and rain storm, the captain lost his bearings, for the schooner was out of her course when she met with the mishap. Captain Llewellyn and the other members of the crew, six in all, were saved, but the schooner sank and will be a total loss. The schooner was owned by E. C. Elkin of this city, and was uninsured. The cargo of coal was insured.

SADNESS ENTERS INTO HIS JOURNEY HOME TO CLAIM SWEETHEART

Michael Mercurio Gets Word That Sister is Very Ill—Will Not Have to Fight for Greece

It will not all be the expected sunshine that Michael Mercurio, of Mill street, thought he would enjoy when he leaves for his old home in Greece. His primary intention was a return to his native land to be married to his sweetheart of boyhood days, but word was received from his home-town yesterday telling him that there was serious illness in the family and that his immediate return was advisable, as his sister was very low. He will leave on Monday next for the land of his birth, accompanied by his young nephew. He feels deep sorrow in the matter, as does his brother, Peter, who has not seen his sister for many years. Michael will not have to serve in the war, unless he so desires. He is different in this respect from other members of the Greek colony here, who are expecting notice at almost any hour calling upon them to return to prepare to defend Greece. Michael, however, while born of Greek parents, came into this world in the section of the archipelago under Turkish rule and this frees him from the obligation to fight for Greece.

SOUTH WHARF REPAIRS Underwork Needs Attention—C. P. R. Deal With City For Land is Off

Repairs to the underwork of the South Market wharf were discussed at the meeting of the city commissioners at noon today. Considerable repairing will be required and one of the commissioners cited this as an illustration of damage done partly to auto-trucks. The commissioners also recommended for adoption the bills for the amendment of the building and fire laws which have been prepared by Commissioner McLeelan. No reply has been received yet from Stetson, Cutler & Co. to the counter proposition made by the council regarding the sale of the Mispac pulp mill. The sale of the site of city land at Fairville for which the C. P. R. applied has been declared off owing to the fact that the company and the commissioners could not agree on the price.
