Canada Has Enjoyed Eight Years of Very Prosperous Finance—The Reduction of Taxation

The revenue given for 1881 is $29,635,-297; which in 1896 had grown to $36,618,-591, being an increase of some seven millions; in 1904, however, this had grown to $70,669,817, being an increase over 1891 of over thirty-four millions. This in itself is facts are investigated by the light of figures given in the other section of the book, and the net increase of revenue is made clear. It then becomes evident that the real growth is very much larger than appears on the surface.

An Enormous Increase,

The increase of the gross revenue is a very imperfect test of the growth of a country, because whilst the gross revenue may give evidence of an increase,

VISITING EI the net revenue may show that the coun try is in reality falling behind in the matter of revenue, a fact which will pre-sently be made clearly manifest. The true test is the growth of the net revenue, and this it is proposed to apply in

Before the government of the day has to deal, there are certain amounts known as fixed charges, which must be dealt with, and which very materially decrease It is expected. the amount of money which the govern-ment is able to spend.

These Fixed Charges consist of charges in connection with the public debt, such as interest, sinking funds, etc., the subsidies to the various provinces, and charges for the collection of the revenue. There are also certain charges in connection with the Indian wards of the nation and which are mostby treaty obligations that have to be included in this amount. When all these are deducted the remainder is the amount with which the government is at liberty to deal, and from which the expenditure of the year has to be provided for.

In 1881 the gross revenue was $29,635,-297, but the fixed charges amounted to $19,081,834, leaving a net revenue of $10,553,463, and it may be remarked, en Nilson Has Been Brought Before Police passent, that this net revenue showed an enue of 1871. In 1896 the gross revenue had increased to $36,618,591, whilst the fixed charges had increased to $27,213. 520, leaving a net revenue of $9,405,071, being $1,148,392 less than in the year 1881, so that whilst apparently the revenue had been increasing in the sixteen years, the spending power of the country had been going back. If anything were wanting to show that the gross revenue is not the true test, these figures must this period the country had been under tional Policy had enjoyed uninterrupted sway, and yet the country actually was magistrate who named Tuesday poorer at the close than it had been at inning of the term.

In 1904 the gross revenue was $70,-$34.808,281, leaving a net revenue of revenue of 1896 of $26,456,465. Thus it

The Spending Power of the country only increased 20 per cent. from 1871 to 1881, and actually decreased over 10 per cent. from 1881 to 1896, in the eight years from 1896 to 1904, it ncreased nearly 400 per cent.

This is a most curious and instructive statement and one which is well worthy of mature consideration. When it comer to the consideration of details it will appear that the receipts show that in all | wharf customs officials, who gave the principal sources of revenue there has been a gratifying increase. Customs, excise and the post office all show coniderable increases. Everything goes to show that Canada has enjoyed eight years of certainly very prosperous finonce. The statistics of trade and commerce, the development of her banking institutions, the discounts in the banks, the transportation statistics of the railway and steamboat companies, all join in demonstrating that Canada is enjoying and is likely to continue to enjoy a very

The figures for the years 1881 and 1896 given above show hat that is possible. The facts show that this was the case, and

It Is Remarkable that those who have made the charge that the people are to-day being taxed simple fevers, destroy worms, break up more than they were in 1896 have never to reduce one single item of the tariff. the revenue. The remarkable increase in the pros-perity of the country and in the revenue has been obtained by means of greatly educed taxation.

It remains to examine the expenditure and in connection with the expenditure the detail of increases in the various de-partments of the government. A VISITING JOURNALIST.

As was stated in these col-Company are those principally interested in the venture, the former being the orignator of the scheme and the latter lendng it financial support. From what can ascertained from authoritative quarters, a site for the plant has been select ed considerably nearer the city than was supposed. It is located in Saanich, and not at Sidney, as was first suggested, the property secured bordering on the in-let, but being at least several miles from the mills of the Vancouver Portland Cement Company on Tod creek. For the past week those interested have been engaged maturing their plans. Lt.-Col. Hall and Messrs. Moore and Fisher, of the local chemical company, ogether with Capt. Walker, have thorughly investigated the natural facilities offered by the location chosen for carrying out their proposal. Apparently all are perfectly satisfied, so that it only remains for the buildings to be constructed, he plant installed, and Indians engaged o catch the dog fish necessary for the manufacture of fertilizer. before the business may be considered established. However, these are details that will reuire considerable thought and some time to attend to, so that it may be several months before the new factory is in a position to accept orders.

as rapidly as possible is undoubted, as not only Capt. Walker, but those supplying the financial backing, are enthusias-tic over the prospects of such an industry. They will not say much for publication, but Lt.-Col. Hall, when questioned this morning, acknowledged that the account of the project given by the Times was accurate. But he wasn't in a posi-tion to be interviewed in regard to the

For this reason the chemical company's plans are still more or less obscure. It is safe to say, however, that the enterprise will be sufficiently important to effect quite an improvement in the commercial activity of Victoria. The plant will be extensive-plans being n the course of preparation for several large buildings—demonstrating that it is not the intention of the promoters to confine their attention to the local markets.
