New Members. Lyttleton is a Famous Athlete

Brodrick's Appointment Will Evoke Fierce Resentment.

(Canadian A. P.)

LONDON, England, Oct. 6.—The Manchester Courier, referring to the appointment of Hon Alfred Lyttleton to the colonial secretaryship, compares the action of Balfour at this time with that of Pitt, when he sent Wolfe to conquer Canada. Judging from Mr. Lyttleton's ancestry, his experience in Africa and his undoubted ability, shown in other departments, together with the splendid example of his predecesor, the Courier expresses the belief that Lyttleton, like Wolfe, may rise to the occasion.

sor, the Courier expresses the belief that Lyttleton, like Wolfe, may rise to the occasion.

The Liverpool Daily Post says that the appointment of a man who never held public office before and whose only known qualifications are a connection with the commission that visited South Africa and with the Balfour family by marriage, to an office just vacated by the foremost statesman of the time is not a nomination that would command much confidence either at home or in the kindred states beyond the seas.

The Commercial says that the colonies have now become accustomed to being dealt with by leading ministers, and will hardly become reconcibed to the notion of being represented by an unknown and fourth-rate politician.

(American A. P.)

LONDON, Oct. 6.—The new colonial secretary, Hon, Alfred Lyttleton, is better known to the colonies as a cricketer than as a politician. Whilst the late colonial secretary prides himself on having never taken any exercise, bis successor is one of the greatest all-round atheletes in England. The Hon. Mr. Lyttleton is related to Mr. Balfour by marriage. He has been twice married. His first wife, was a daughter of Sir Charles Tennant, and his second is a daughter of Archibald Balfour. Mr. Lyttleton presided over the commission sent to South Africa to deal with the Boer claims and he also took a prominent part in the Reed-New foundland arbitration.

a prominent part in the Reed-New foundland arbitration.

Although his appointment is likely to be keenly criticised, the new colonial secretary is almost sure of a hearty reception in the ministerial ranks. He is credited with being in full sympathy with Mr. Chamberlain's colonial policy and Lord Milner's South African ideas, and he is personally popular.

Mr. Brodrick's transfer to the India offices will probably evoke the flercer's storm and much resembnent in India where the feeling will be that he was a failure at the war office.

Arnold Forster has always been a student of questions of defences and a strong critic of war office methods. If allowed a free hand he should introduce drastic reforms. In Austen Chamberlain's case doubts are expressed as to the appropriateness of sending him to such an important office, although his ability is not called in question. In view of the general beiller, however, that the present combination constitutes merely a stop-garministry, there will probably be less inclination to seriously criticise the appointments.

BALFOUR'S FIGHTING SPIRIT.
LONDON, Oct. 6.—There is practically but one opinion of the reconstructed British cabinet and that is that Premier Balfour missed his opportunity to re-habilitate the character of the government, and that so far as the unionist policy at large is concerned the ministry has lost most of its prestige and authority.

A SCHEME FOR UNITY.

British M. P., Says Only Solution is Appointment of Imperial Advisory Council.

(Canadian Associated Press).

LONDON, Oct. 6.—R. Emmet, M. P., addressing the constituency of Oldham recently, said that Canadian workers had told us that they did not wish us to pay more for food in order to buy it from the colonies if it was against the interests of Britain. The Western farmers in Canada were free traders, but the manufacturers would not give up the protection they had, and under present conditions there was not sufficient increased trade to be got from the colonies to pay for the sacrifices we should have to make. The only way to arrive at a closer connection with the colonies, he said, was to appoint an imperial council to advise the governments of the various colonies regarding what might best be done to promote closer imperial union.

DOGFISH WASHED ASHORE.

Caretaker Edward Kelly, of Partridge Island, is in town today. Kelly tells of the blg wind storm's effect on the island yesterday. He said that dozens of large dogish were dashed to death against the eastern side of the island, and he thinks the cause of so many schools of sardine herring in port at present is because the dogish are driving them into our waters.

BULGARIA WARNED.

Must Show Sincerity or Suffer-The Sultan Wants Peace and Won't Fight Unless Forced.

SOFIA, Otc. 6.—An identical copy of the Austro-Russian note to Turkey has been presented to Premier Petroff, and the Austrian and Russian representatives received instructions at the same time to make serious representations to the Bulgarian government to the effect that the powers expect Bulgaria to take such action as will prove that she is making a loyal endeavor to assist the work of pacification. Failing this, Bulgaria was warned that she will be exposed to the most cruel disaster. This letter of warning is held to mean a Turkish invasion of Bulgaria, and a repetition of the Macedonian atrocities in Bulgaria itself.

VIENNA, Oct. 6.—It is understood that the Austro-Russian note to the porte on the subject of the application of the Macedonian reforms implies an increase of consular representation in Macedonia to ensure their execution.

PARIS, Oct. 6.—The Constantinople correspondent of the Figure series an account of an audience which the Sultan gave M. Lockrey, formerly French minister of marine last Friday. Speaking of Macedonia the Sultan said he did not desire anything but peace. He would not make war unless he was forced into it, and he hoped he would not be forced. He added that he deplored certain excesses committed by this soldiers and had ordered the appointment of a court martial to inflict severe punishment for unnecessary violence.

sardines Fishing Stopped.

The Strangers Who Have Been Seining Sardines Here Forced to Pay License.

The following fishermen were in court this morning, having been reported by Sergeaut Ross for fishing in the harbor and not being rate payers:
Fred Craid, Alexander Oliver, Gratis Cook, James Shaw, Joseph Ellis, Robert Holmes, Marner Barker, James Greenlaw, Isaac Wentworth, Frank Lant, Eder Lee, George Grestason, Barion Eldridge, Lewis Holmes, Michael Cassidy, John Adams, George Johnston, William Shaw, Frederick Ellis, Henry Stewart, Alex, Calder, Henry Lord, George Stewart, Tiley Calder, William Price, Thomas Mitchell, Wm, McLelland, Elgin Oliver and Thomas Lord.

All of these men are captains of the fishing vessels who have been capturing the surdine herring or "sprat" in the harbor for the past three or four weeks. They have been reaping a rich harvest right under the nose of our own fishermen.

When arraigned in court this morning, Alex, Calder, captain of the Edward Morris, acted as spokesman for the party. Mr. Calder made a very witty speech in which he cited the fact that he nor his mates were aware that they as British subjects were forced to pay toll to eke out al livelihood in a British port. They had taken out a fishing license in their respective homes, which entitled them, as they found they were mistaken. He said that they had not been warned against fishing here, and that the city of St. John was most peculiar as regards its laws, etc.

The magistrate replied:—"Well you had better take warning now. Sergt. Ross will accompany you and party to the capturing the city of St. John was most peculiar as regards its laws, etc.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Patterson at Oak Point, was the scene of a very pleasing event on Wednesday afternoon last, when their eldest daughter, Agnes M., was wedded to John Kirk of Oak Point. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Robertson of this city, before a large gathering of reletives and friends of the young couple. The bride was gowned in organdle muslin trimmed with white applique and was attended by her sister, Jennie, who wore a becoming dress of Swiss muslin trimmed with valinces. The bride, who is an extremely popular young lady, was the recipient of many beautiful wedding gifts, among which was a watch and chain from the groom and a number of presents from friends in St. John. Mr. and Mrs. Kirk are spending their honeymoon attending the St. John carnival, after which they will reside at Oak Point.
