FOUR THE STAR, ST. JOHN N. B., MONDAY, JULY 27 1908. BUSINESS OFFICE, 25. EDITORIAL and NEWS DEPT., 117. ST. JOHN STAR. ST. JOHN, N. B., JULY 27, 1908. SUMMER RESORT ADVERTISING.

It is a wise plan in advertising to describe the goods and conditions exactly as they exist. Although there may be no intention to deceive, yet representations may be unwittingly made which deceive the reader. In certain advertising matter describing a party of ladies who were planning their holiday, they wanted to be in the advertising before them the only place which in other respects seemed to meet their wishes, was this resort with the crowded beach. They finally decided in favor of it and came to New Brunswick, determined to seek solitude at those distant portions of the beach where the crowds did not congregate.

committees which have come from St. John during the past twenty-five years, might, even at this late hour, endeavor to learn something about handling a street department.

A Boston genius offers for $200 to teach one how not to worry. Most of us possessing $500 would probably be willing to do without instruction so long as the cash held out.

The tailor's sign in a little inland town was an apple—simply an apple. The people were amazed at it. They came in crowds to the tailor, asking him what on earth the sign meant.

With a small boy was fishing one Sunday morning he accidentally lost his foothold and tumbled into the creek. An old man on the bank was helping him out he said: "How did you come to fall in the river, my little man?" "I didn't come to fall in the river, I came to fish," answered the boy.

"This man writes to ask a favor," declared Herlock Holmes, without opening the letter. "How can you tell?" demanded "Woodcock" Detonator. "He addresses me a 'Honorable'" answered the great Herlock, tossing the missive aside.

HOW IT FEELS TO DROP FROM A BALLOON TWO MILES ABOVE THE EARTH

Our start was the same delightful thrill it always is to me. You can't imagine the strange emotion that seizes you for one instant just as the bag makes its first jump, writes Miss Daisy Sheppard of a recent thrilling experience as an aeronaut. It is the instant when every cry has ceased. The seller of sandwiches chokes in the midst of his shout and there is absolute silence, save one sound. It is like the "A-th" that the crowd gives vent to when a rocket explodes, only fainter, softer, and less self-conscious.

KILLS NEGRO ROBBER IN HAND-TO-HAND DUEL

Lancaster Detective Kills His Man While Prostrate on the Ground. LANCASTER, Pa., July 26—During a hand-to-hand struggle with a negro robber today Constable Edwin M. Gerlach was compelled to kill his man in self-defense. The shooting was the culmination of a series of events following the robbery of the store of Wolf Yort, at Mount Joy, on Wednesday night. Two negroes, suspected of the robbery, were seen early this morning near Landisville, and Constable Ed Williams, of Mount Joy, attempted to capture them. The negroes drew their weapons and held Williams off. He then telephoned word to this city, and Police Constable Gerlach and Detective Charles E. Broome got on their trail. They found their men sitting on a fence along the Pennsylvania Railroad a short distance from the city. Broome pounced upon the negro calling himself Joseph Brown, but the fellow managed to draw his gun before the detective could seize him. He fired only one shot at his captor, for Broome cracked him over the head with his blackjack, and the negro dropped his gun, which the detective secured.

SCAPEGRACE HUSBAND, JEALOUS, TRIED MURDER

TOLEDO, O., July 27—Returning to his wife's home after an absence of 16 years, Louis Armon, aged 50, murdered the woman today, fired a bullet at his daughter and tried to commit suicide. The revolver falling him, Armon disappeared and is now sought by a posse of police and citizens. Jealousy because of the success of his family and the refusal of his wife to take him back to her home are attributed as the causes for the shooting.

KILLED BY ELECTRICITY WHILE TAKING A BATH

MANILA, July 27—Lieut. Oswald, of the 2nd Infantry, met death here today accidentally by electrocution. COULD NOT RAISE PARACHUTE

She twitched it again and again, finally pulling with all her might. The trigger spring should have released the parachute was tangled up with loose rope from the balloon. "What shall I do?" she asked, pale and frightened, but her nerve had not gone yet. "You will have to untie your left hand from the side of the balloon and clear the loose rope from the trigger. 'Don't hesitate!' I called sharply, as she stared at me a second. If you start to do anything in a balloon you must not hesitate or you are pretty sure to fall. Yet I knew what was in that poor girl's mind. If there was only a man here to help her, she would do it. I untied her hand, stood up on the trapeze and tried to shove up the parachute to the hoop or ring just below the bag. From there it would not have been hard to reach the seat of the balloon. But it was too much for her strength. There was still one chance, and I told her in a matter of fact a tone as I could to get her trapeze swaying sideways until it should touch mine, and then she could come down with me in my parachute. She did her best, but somehow it didn't come near enough for me to grasp her hand by the wrist. I was in doubt what to do. Here we were two miles from the earth, two badly frightened women. If I should let her go she would shoot up another mile or two and probably die of exposure or drift out to sea.

CONSTITUTION FOR PEOPLE OF TURKEY. Many Striking Reforms are Being Made. Personal Liberty, Religious Toleration, Free Press, Abolition of Torture—General Assembly of Two Chambers. CONSTANTINOPLE, July 26—The principal points of the new constitution are: Personal liberty; no punishment without trial; religious toleration; a free press; equality of all Ottoman subjects; security of property; inviolability of domicile and abolition of torture. The general assembly will consist of two chambers, the Senate to be chosen by the Sultan for distinguished services to the state; the deputies to be elected in the proportion of one for each 50,000 inhabitants. Following the Sultan's tirade, ordering the dismissal of spies, those who had been public places have now completely vanished. The newspapers are freely publishing their new-found liberty and are expressing the people's joy over the granting of a constitution.

GARY, BUILT TO ORDER, IS FORMALLY OPENED. First Cargo of Ore Arrives at Model City of Steel Trust. GARY, Ind., July 25—When the steamship E. H. Gary, with the first cargo of iron ore with which the big steel mills of the United States Steel Corporation here will soon begin operations loaded, her nose today into the new harbor here, a great American flag was run up on a high staff at the harbor entrance and broken out to the breeze. The ceremony marked the formal opening of the new harbor and the new city built by the Steel Trust at an expense of $30,000,000. Instantly the American gunboat Wolverine, the only one with which the great lakes responded with a salute of twenty-one guns. The naval training ship Dorothea and the revenue cutter Tuscarora followed with salutes as the Gary passed to her dock, carrying the ore weighing 12,000 tons. John W. Kern, of Indianapolis Democratic candidate for the vice presidency was the guest of honor in the harbor board the Gary. Following speeches from the vessel's bridge there was a parade through the city and a reception at the Gary hotel, where Mr. Kern and others spoke. All Lake county seems to have come to the festivities marking the beginning of the era of production of steel in the mills on which the United States Steel Corporation has already spent more than $30,000,000 and with as much more to be spent before the mills are in full operation. Gary, the Steel Trust's model industrial city, is at the extreme southern end of Lake Michigan. It is twenty-six miles southeast from Chicago, and is a township twenty-four miles square of which 65 acres are owned by the United States Steel Corporation. Its lake frontage is six and one-half miles. The city has been built to order in two years in what was a wilderness of sand dunes and scrubby forest. Two square miles will be occupied by the mills and furnaces, and the model city and parks will occupy another two square miles. The number of men to be employed will be 18,000. Five million tons of ore will be handled by the completed plant. The annual production of steel will be 2,000,000 tons.
