the desperate efforts made by the Bulgarians to recapture the Kaimak-calan plateau, which is the key to Monastir, have been frustrated, and that the Serbs have assaulted and captured the important fortified Bulgarian position of Kocobey, two kilometres behind Kaimakcalan. The Bulgarian attacks at the latter point continue, however.

It is stated that the Bulgarians have transferred to this region their ninth and tenth divisions from Dobrudia, in the hope that they may regain the crest of the mountain range

Lieut, G. Alvah Good, son of Major F. A. Good, of the New Brunswick command, is in hospital in France suffering from slight wounds. The cable contained the brief message "Bruised," and was sent by the wounded of ficer himself.
