ERUPTIVE LYMPHANGITIS.

Mare that is a very heavy milker lost her colt at three days' old last year. Her hind legs swelled up badly, and at last broke in several places, and discharged a whitish, bloody pus. This year her legs acted the same way before foaling, and two or three days after foaling they gradually got better.

1. Will this condition return each time she is bred?
2. Is it likely to turn to grease leg?
3. What is the name of the complaint?

L. B.

Ans.—1. Some mares are particularly predisposed to this condition during the parturient state. Yours is one of this sort, and it is probable she will be more or less troubled each time, especially if not regularly worked or exercised. Regular exercise or light work during pregnancy tends to prevent conditions of this kind, while idleness and good food favor their occurrence.

2. It is not likely to terminate in grease, but there is danger of a chronic enlargement, called elephantitis.
3. Eruptive lymphangitis.

Miscellaneous. A REPLEVIN CASE.

Last fall I gave a valuable young cow to a man to get new milch. The conditions were: I paid him $12 down at time, balance, $18, to be paid at time of delivery of cow, new milch. He now tells me he cannot get her new milch, and will not deliver her until balance of $18 is paid. Total contract was $25. Cow is milking five quarts yet. Would I be under any lawful disorder if I went and stole her away at night? What would you advise?

Halifax, N. S.

Ans.—We could not advise you to do what you suggest. To say the least, such a course would be decidedly irregular. You should make a formal demand for a return of the $12 and cow, taking the precaution to have someone present who might later on be used as a witness, if necessary; and if demand be not complied with then take replevin proceedings for recovery of the animal, and at same time sue the man for the $12.

Gossip.

Mr. Geo. Rice, of Annandale Stock Farm, Tilsonburg, Ont., writes under date July 20th: "We have harvested 125 tons of hay and 300 bushels early potatoes, and what with looking after and cultivating 50 acres of corn, 16 acres of potatoes, and 8 acres of mangels, we have had to get in our biggest push. We are now cutting wheat, which is an excellent crop, and promises good yield and good sample. All our crops are very heavy at Annandale, and the farm is looking very fine."

Mr. H. E. Williams, Knowlton, Que., who advertises Rhode Island Reds, writes: "I have found them the most satisfactory breed of poultry I have yet tried, and I have tried most of the popular kinds. I have raised these for two years, and have never lost a fowl through sickness. During the excessive cold of last winter, my hens not only kept well, but commenced laying early and kept it up. Eighty per cent. of my eggs have hatched this spring. I have some fine birds, fit to exhibit at any fair."

Bone Spavin

Know it by the lump and the limp—a hard, bony growth on the inner side of the hock joint, usually low down and a little forward of the center of the leg—a quick hitch with the sound leg, and a stiff movement of the lame leg, bearing the weight on the toe, most noticeable in starting.

New cases, old and bad cases, the very worst cases, cases where firing has failed, are cured by

Itching, Burning, Stinging Eczema

With All Its Unbearable Torture is Entirely Overcome by the Use of Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Itching skin diseases such as eczema, salt rheum and tetter are the despair of the doctors. They prescribe some relief for the itching or an internal medicine to act through the blood, but usually tell their patient candidly that they cannot cure such ailments.

We do not recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment as an experiment, for it has long since passed the experimental stage as a cure for itching skin diseases. It has positively proven its power to relieve and cure in thousands of severe cases, and if you could read the sincere letters of recommendation which come to these offices you could not help but consider this the most successful treatment for diseases of the skin that was ever discovered.

It exercises to a remarkable degree that soothing, healing, antiseptic influence which alone is successful in making a thorough cure of eczema and other itching skin diseases.

H. E. Buermeyer, the President of the National Amateur Skating Association, was describing a banquet that he had once attended in New York.

I found this banquet interesting, he said, and I was one of the last to leave. In the cloakroom, as I was putting on my hat and coat, I couldn't help noticing the woe-begone look on the attendant's face. The poor fellow appeared worried and sad, and every little while he sighed and muttered to himself.

"You seem disconsolate, friend," I said.

"I am disconsolate, sir," said the attendant.

"What is the trouble?" said I. "Haven't the guests tipped you well to-night?"

The attendant answered in an excited voice:

"It's not only, sir, that they haven't tipped me, but they've taken the quarter that I put in the tray for a decoy."

Speaking of the tribulations of the cross-examiner, Henry Wollman cites this experience:

In the progress of a murder trial near Kansas City, he wished to learn from a witness just where the bullet struck the victim.

"Where was this man shot?" was asked.

"Right here in this town," replied the witness.

"Yes, I know, but where did the bullet hit him?"

"Near Sixth and Wyoming streets."

"You don't understand me. Where did the bullet enter?"

"It came in the window."

"But in what part of the body did it lodge?"

"It never hit his body."

"Well, it certainly hit him somewhere—he is dead."

"Hit him in the head," said the witness.

PEACE AFTER THE BATTLE.

The wife of a well-known Western Senator is a Southern woman who was married to the Senator late in life. While still a young girl she left her native State and came north to live; but from time to time she would revisit her old home.

On one of these occasions shortly before her marriage she happened to meet the old colored "mammy" who had been her nurse, and who was vastly surprised to find that "Miss Mary" still was unwedded.

"Lan," Miss Ma'y! she exclaimed, "ain't yo' married yit?"

"No, not yet, aunt Sally," was the answer.

"My, my! Who'd a-thought it? An' yit," she mused, determined to soften this disgrace, "aftah all, dey does say dat ol' maids has de happies' life; dat is, aftah dey quits strugglin'."—The Tribune, New York.
